y'all was talking about those radios a few weeks ago.Yesterday,on the way back home from the food store I stopped off at a Walgreens store and I bought one of those Sony AM/FM ICF-S10MK2 shirt pocket radios.I don't see what the big deal is about those radios,it doesn't pick up any better than some of my other little shirt pocket radios.And the AM stations are really crowded up next to each other too.When I was in the Army (October 28,1962-October 29,1965) they used to call me Radio Ryan because a lot of times I had a transistor in my shirt pocket.Bell Laboratories did not invent the Transistor either.Walgreens has some little shirtpocket Shortwave AM/FM Radios too. www.ryans.org

Yes, it appears I have Morse code dyslexia (dots and dashes reversed).
Thanks.

The photo does bring up another question in that how is a center fed

I wouldn't worry about it.  You're not buying a Sat-800.  The 7600GR has an xlnt track record.  I just got one last Thursday from Amazon (J&R Music).
It was in perfect condition.  If you insist on worrying, I would suggest Universal-Radio.

Transmission lines have characteristic impedance, non-frequency dependent.  Antenna impedance (original question) does have a frequency component.

I paid about $13.80 or 90 for my radio at the Walgreens store plus Mississippi RIPP OFF!!! sales taxes.What a RIP OFF!!! I got my BellSouth

SUCKS!!! bill in my snail mail yesterday,$131.40.Page three says,Other Charges and Credits.Changes made to your service on Jan 31,2005 one time charge for 7.I&M labor basic mtnc-reprd............ $95.00.The above charges and/credits are one-time charges/credits associated with your account or with changes made to your account during this billing cycle. My phone bill averages between about $29.00 to about $31.00 per month.Since the first Sunday of November of last year,every time it rained here my BellSouth SUCKS!!!! phone service would stop working and Last month a BellSouth SUCKS!!!!!!!!! repairman finally "fixed" my phone line by disconnecting one of the wires in the BellSouth SUCKS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! networking/networks (whatever it is) box in my carport and BellSouth SUCKS!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! DICKS A MILLION MILES LONGGGGGGGGGGGG charges me! $95.00 because they!!!! can't get their! shit right in the first place! the M....R F.....S!!!!!!!!!!!

So you also noticed the difference (bias) in the report between a televised

"Sullivan followed up by having the undercover videotape hand-delivered to Kerry's office."

"More than 11 weeks later, Kerry finally replied to his well-informed and anxious constituent. "I have forwarded your tape to the Department of Transportation's Office of Inspector General [DOT OIG]," he said in a brief July 24, 2001, letter, a copy of which I've obtained."

"Yet Sullivan had made it clear in his letter that going to his old agency was a dead end. He and other agents had complained about security lapses for years and got nowhere. "The DOT OIG has become an ineffective overseer of the FAA," he told Kerry. Sullivan suggested he! show the tape to peers on committees with FAA oversight. He even volunteered to testify before them."

"But he never heard from Kerry again."

Nice jd!

Many folks here are missing the point.  It doesn't have to be 2X wavelength or even 1X wavelength.  Just string up a horiz. loop anywhere you can and as long as you can make it.  Don't worry about height above ground or if it is in a circular, square or trapezoid, or what have you, configuration.  If it is anywhere near as high as your proposed longwire or dipole it will work just as well but over a much broader swath of frequencies.  Think of its performance as much like a discone antenna at VHF & UHF - no gain over a half-wave vertical but very broadbanded.  The H-loop "generally" has omni-directional characteristics where as a dipole or longwire has definite nulls and peaks around the compass.

I would guess that my H-loop is about at least 70-75 meters in circumference at an average height of about 20 ft.  It is strung around the edge of my roof in a large "L" configuration with the wire tucked under the roofing shingles at strategic locations - invisible!  It has survived several seasons of severe weather and hasn't budged.  I use it for SWLing as well as transmitting on 80-10 meters using a vintage Johnson Matchbox - sweet!

Compared to a dipole or a longwire it doesn't experience those "dips" in reception on certain bands.  Any "dips" that do occur are not as deep and an antenna matchbox will easily make up for it.

Where anyone obtained the idea you must use dozens of 75+ ft telephone poles around 100 acres of real-estate has simply never built or used a horiz. loop.

Certainly not by anyone who's copied code for more than a few minutes.

Hello Friends
Having had the S350 for a day or two I have had the chance to do some DX'ing with it.  Nice catches I never heard before :
WOC 1420 Kc/s Davenport IA
CFRW 1290 Kc/s Winnipeg MB
WLIK 1420 Kc/s Paducah KY (1KW)

nothing real exotic.  but not afraid to take on the graveyard freqs now.  Maybe my memory is playing tricks but sure seems harder to pull 'em out now than on the pre-1975 dial.  Not to raise flames but I'm glad I didn't spend big money for that CCrane receiver.  I am very happy with this one.  Only fly in the ointment..I get an image at 690 KC for a local on 1600 KC and an image on 950 Kc/s for WLS 890 Kc/s (whose 50KW transmitter site is in a town very close to here).  At night "real stations" come in on these freqs and I don't get the images..so no big deal.

All in all....nice little RX.  Glad I got one.

> Leaders alchemize wars begun over lesser interests into epochal struggles for universal principles because only thus can they justify demands for greater sacrifices in blood and treasure. But Bush has gone Wilson one better. He is not only going to make the world safe for democracy, he is going to make the world democratic. Where Lincoln abolished slavery in the South, Bush is going to abolish tyranny from the earth: "So it is the policy of the United States to seek and support the growth of democratic movements and institutions in every nation and culture, with the ultimate goal of ending tyranny in our world."
> A conservative knows not whether to laugh or weep, for Mr. Bush has just asserted a right to interfere in the internal affairs of every nation on earth. Why? Because the "survival of liberty in our land increasingly depends on the success of liberty in other lands." But this is utterly ahistorical. The world has always been afflicted with despots. Yet America has always been free. And we have remained free by following the counsel of Washington, Jefferson, and Adams and staying out of foreign quarrels and foreign wars.
> Who is feeding the president this interventionist nonsense?
> The president now plans to hector and badger foreign leaders on the progress each is making toward attaining U.S. standards of democracy. "We will persistently clarify the choice before every ruler and nation-the moral choice between oppression, which is always wrong, and freedom, which is eternally right." This is a formula for "Bring-it-on!" collisions with every autocratic regime on earth, including virtually every African and Arab ruler, all the "outposts of tyranny" named by Secretary Rice, most of the nations of Central Asia, China, and Russia. This is a prescription for endless war. Yet as Madison warned, "No nation can preserve its freedom in the midst of continual warfare."
> Who and what converted a president who came to office with no knowledge of the world to the idea that only a global crusade for democracy could keep us secure? Answer: 9/11-and the neoconservatives.
> In his inaugural address, Mr. Bush calls 9/11 the day "when freedom came under attack." This is sophomoric. Osama did not send fanatics to ram planes into the World Trade Center because he hates the Bill of Rights. He sent the terrorists here because he hates our presence and policies in the Middle East. He did it for the same reason FLN rebels blew up cafes in Paris and Hamas suicide bombers blow up pizza parlors in Jerusalem.

> The 9/11 killers were over here because we are over there. We were not attacked because of who we are but because of what we do. It is not our principles they hate. It is our policies. U.S. intervention in the Middle East was the cause of the 9/11 terror. Bush believes it is the cure. Has he learned nothing from Iraq?
> In 2003, we invaded a nation that had not attacked us, did not threaten us, and did not want war with us to disarm it of weapons it did not have. Now, after plunging $200 billion and the lives of 1,400 of our best and bravest into this war and killing tens of thousands of Iraqis, we have reaped a harvest of hatred in the Arab world and, according to officials in our own government, have created a new nesting place and training ground for terrorists to replace the one we lately eradicated in Afghanistan.
> Among those who have converted President Bush to the notion that without Arab democracy there can be no Mideast peace is Natan Sharansky, and much of what the famed Soviet dissident writes is undeniably true. Even inside the darkest despotism, people yearn for freedom. They hate tyranny and love liberty. They wish to live in lands that allow them to choose their own leaders. And as democratic rulers must return to the people for renewal of their mandates in free elections, they are more likely to seek the peace and prosperity their people desire. Thus, only democracy can pave the way to true peace and security. This is the message of Sharansky's Case for Democracy, which the president has embraced and encouraged all to read.
> But what is often true is not always true, and U.S. foreign policy, which is to protect U.S. vital interests and the peace and freedom of Americans, cannot be rooted in the idealism of an ex-Soviet dissident or the ideology of neoconservatives who promised us a "cakewalk" in Iraq and assured us we would be welcomed with flowers. Sharansky notwithstanding, democracy is neither a necessary nor sufficient condition of America's peace and security, nor even of Israel's.
> In 1967, David Ben-Gurion told Richard Nixon and this writer he hoped Nasser would survive Egypt's humiliation in the Six-Day War because only Nasser had the prestige to lead the Arabs to accept peace with Israel. Sadat was no democrat when Israel gave him back the Sinai and signed a peace. Arafat was no democrat when Rabin and Peres agreed to the Oslo Accords and shared a Nobel Prize with him. Assad was no democrat when Israel negotiated a truce with him on the Golan Heights. That truce has held. Nor was Khadafi a democrat when Bush agreed to lift sanctions imposed on Libya for the massacre of Pan Am 103 if Khadafi would surrender his weapons of mass destruction. Khadafi did, and Bush rightly claims this as a diplomatic success of his first term.
> While it is true that the dictatorships of Franco, Pinochet, and > Marcos gave way to democracies, that was not true of Batista, Somoza, or the Shah. When Carter undermined the Peacock Throne, we got the Ayatollah.

> Urging Bush not to press Israel into making peace with the Palestinians until Palestine embraces democracy is a clever way to postpone peace indefinitely and let Israel expand its settlements and consolidate its hold over the West Bank and East Jerusalem. That may be in Israel's interest. But it is not in America's interest. Sharansky's idealism just happens to coincide with Sharon's agenda. Can President Bush not see this?
> America has old friendships and important interests in the Middle East that cannot await the dawn of democracy in the 22 Arab states where it currently does not exist. We cannot make the best the enemy of the good. And if democracy means rule by the people, how enthusiastic should we be about its introduction into the Middle East? In 1991, Algerians were given a democratic vote-and elected an Islamist regime. The army intervened, igniting a civil war that left 100,000 dead. President Bush might ask his father why he did not speak up for Algerian democracy then.
> Unlike Eastern Europe, where communism was imposed on Christian countries with traditions of self-rule, democracy never took root in the Arab lands of the caliphate. Thus King Farouk's ouster gave us Nasser. King Idris's ouster gave us Khadafi. And King Feisal's ouster gave us Saddam Hussein. How certain are we that if the kings of Morocco, Jordan, and Saudi Arabia fall, democracies will arise?
> Given that the neocons were wrong on every count about Iraq, does Bush truly wish to gamble the Middle East on their confident predictions that, once the Arab monarchies fall, Western democracy will flourish among people who seem to revile Bush and revere Osama bin Laden?
> After the shocked reaction in many quarters to the president's inaugural address, the White House, George H.W. Bush, and later the president himself hastened to explain that there was nothing new or radical in the speech. Perhaps a sense of reality has already begun to manifest itself.
> We are simply not going to stop buying Saudi oil or cut off our $2 billion in annual aid to Egypt or sever relations with Musharraf or sanction a China that could sink the dollar because these regimes refuse to make the reforms Bush demands. It is not going to happen. President Bush will either wind up eating his overblown rhetoric or following it over the cliff and taking us with him.

Unfortunately, both Senators from The Commonwealth of Massachusetts should have been in prison years ago.

I need some help. It is 18:30 utc & I am hearing YZE on .245 MHZ. My BeaconfinderII book shows the only YZE on .245 is in Gore Bay Ontario??? They are sending YZE & then a Long dah around 4or5 seconds.

I don't think that would be possible at 18:30 utc here in central KY ?

Anyone know if there is another YZE ? I know there are 2 BU. One in Columbus & one in Buffalo ?

Just thought I would kill some time & make a sweep on the LW band. Kind of fun.

Any help appreciated.

Do you do any LW Ace ?

i am constructing the typical bcb receiving loop. its 18 inches on a side, 15 to 18 turns, 365 variable cap, the usual setup. my question is this, is it feasible to throw one or two turns on the same frame parallel to the other turns to tune a sw loop? does the proximity of the other bcb loop wreck the characteristics of the sw loop? how about if i switch the variable from one loop to the other, leaving the opposite loop open and untuned? or how about switching in taps, decreasing the number of turns at each interval to tune from bcb up to sw? would the unused turns on the frame make the remaining loop untuneable?

May have been the orriginal question (actually wasn't, OP really didn't understand the concept) but it wasn't where the conversation led. Try to fallow along.

I love my BCL2000 (OEM S-350)
Try 1040 WHO in Des Moines, Iowa
They sent me a QSL card for a written report sent to:

WHO Radio
1801 Grand Avenue
Des Moines, IA 50309

I'm sure lots of other MW stations still QSL, but WHO was kind enough to respond when I emailed the chief engineer and inquired about sending reception reports.

Hello Michael,

Just a quick update. There are fourteen, not twelve, "bottom-of-the-short wave bands" (which you can count as additional "memories") and I should mention that the image rejection on the 'SW35 is superior to that of the ICF-SW7600GR, and while it's possible that that may be partly due to the '7600GR's somewhat better sensitivity, it appears to me that the 'SW35 is inherently better in that regard as I find few, if any, images even with the auxiliary antenna attached.

I also didn't mention that the radio is a good performer on MW and FM, as well.

All in all, it's a very fine receiver and I wish you the best of luck with it. (You may find that you will want to leave it in your car with the batteries removed, as I do, just for "emergencies" or casual listening on the road.)

Best,

Joe

I don't think so.  I think Bush ignored the warnings because he wanted an event to use to scare the people into backing his PNAC ambitions.
He knew  something was coming and approximately when.  He went absent from the White House for the longest Presidential vacation in history.

He is swine.

While it sounds like you have little more than a cloud warmer there (if otherwise please do advise), you're right that it costs very little to run a few hundred feet of wire anywhere you can get it.  The result could be a good listening antenna. What it won't normally be is a good transmitter, unless it meets mimimum design conditions.

Also, don't you worry what kind of RF you illuminate the house with?  It looks to me like people inside could be as close as 2 or 3' from your antenna, and at most HF frequencies that is way too close to 100+w transmit power.

That would be me. I have seen one in use, just never replicated by a hobbyist (yet).  Without the near 1/2 wave design-elevation, a horizontal wire antenna becomes NVIS (or cloud warmer).  We've all heard of people doing this with their rain gutters for years, but that doesn't translate to a worthwhile effort when compared to most achievable antenna designs.

Thanx again Joe.... Although a radio's memory features have never been important to me, sensitivity and selectivity are. It is interesting to hear that the SW35 is more selective then the 7600gr. After I have a few weeks with it, I should be able to tell how is stacks up against my 7600gr as far as sensitivity goes. I really love evaluating portables.

Hello Steve,

You are correct that the '7600GR's speaker leaves a bit to be desired, though I personally do not find extended listening to be fatiguing.

A "cheap" way for improving the sound is to buy a Radio Shack stereo cord (Cat. No. 42-2483 which is 6-feet in length; they also sell longer cords, if desired) to run from the line output jack on the radio to your stereo system's AUX jack. This affords excellent sound.

Your comment on headphones: 100% agreed. It almost goes without saying that a good pair of headphones is an absolute "must" for ANY short wave radio.

Best,

Joe

I followed it accurately.  If the antenna is resonant (frequency) the impedance drops to a value which is dependant on distance from ground.
Away from resonance the impedance goes high.  The impedance of a random wire is largely a function of frequency.

Ace,

My BeaconFinderII Book shows the BU on 230 as Columbus. I logged that one today. It also shows a BU on 231 Buffalo , NY. My book is older 2003 Rev. A however.

YZE still in good. My settings are .245.000 mhz. USB 1.8 khz bandwidth & the DPBT-400. I have PWF Batavia OH the strongest . DFI Defiance OH next on .246 & YZE in there with a lower note or tone than PWF but  very audible @ 20:21 utc.

I checked 231 on AirNav and found nothing. Does show BFK on 215 however.

I recently bought a barely used Super ATS-909 after having owned a stock version for about a little over a year.  Initially I was hesitant to get one based on some negative reviews about the highly modified radio but curiosity overcame me and besides, I actually love the stock version especially when connected to a moderately long wire.  The radio is rich in features and really just a pleasure to use.  The Super 909 is hands down better!

In case no one knows the details, it has been modified to remove the mute while tuning, the detent is removed from the tuning knob, the speaker is replaced, the LEDs are replaced with blue ones, an external AM antenna jack is added and selectivity/sensitivity are drastically improved.

Tuning it is a pleasure.  The knob turns easily enough that my finger does not tire or feel irritated.  The RF gain knob has a significantly greater effect compared to the original version does.  Turning the gain down all the way will silence all but the absolutely strongest local AM sources.

The display looks pretty cool in my opinion.  Bright blue.  Sound is noticeably improved with the new speaker and seems to take higher volumes much more easily.

It seems to be a little less forgiving on batteries now but I don't care since I have mine on a 6V DC supply via the adapter anyway.

One of the improvements this radio got over the original version was in sensitivity.  Trust me when I say, it is a HUGE difference.  This radio easily matches and mostly exceeds my DE1102/DE1103/7600GR off the whip. The original version of the 909 was all but deaf off the whip.  Add a 40-60 ft random wire to the Super 909 and I had to turn down the RF gain to keep it from overloading.  I have heard many stations since I started using this radio than I ever did on the original version.  It is very gratifying.  I ordered a AN-LP1 and am finding it performs extremely well with this radio.  I am retiring my random wire since the AN-LP1 seems to do at least as well for me.  I often don't even turn on the LP1's controller but just use the loop.

The Super 909 has very good selectivity in my opinion.  The only negatives I have encountered is 1) strong adjacent stations force me to detune a little to separate them from each other but it is still doable and 2) SSB reception is a sight more difficult to achieve now.  I knew this going into the purchase but in the short time I have been a listener I have grown to decide I find the ramblings of most HAMs to be, let's just say, less than interesting.  So no loss for me.  Broadcast listening is a treat now and I can hear much more out there than before.

I think this is a very nice portable radio and as long as skeptics keep the fact that it is a portable in mind, it is hard to beat this thing in comparisons to comparable models.  I got a great deal on mine ($200) but you can get them for $300-350 on line in a few places.  I love mine and will never get rid of it.  I will be probably sell my stock version though.

Thanks for listening and feel free to ask if you have questions about these comments or the radio itself.

Cheers all.
-Al  A.

Absent?  Are you an insider who knows?

Remember Al Gore?  The idiot who significantly delayed President Bush from selecting his staff because of Al Gore's contesting the election?  How we conveniently forget those minor details, huh David?

Who is the "NATIONAL SECURITY ARCHIVE"?  (oooh, big name - LOL)

To most Americans, the acronym NSA refers to the National Security Agency, the United States' largest intelligence agency. But there is another NSA, and its motives are diametrically opposed to those of the National Security Agency, which is committed to promoting America's safety from terrorist threats. This second NSA is the National Security Archive at George Washington University (GWU) in Washington, DC, a self-proclaimed watchdog of U.S. intelligence and security agencies created by "anti-war" leftists. It is a favorite resource cited by proponents of "openness" in U.S. foreign policy; that is, those who advocate that the United States stop gathering intelligence on its enemies.

The NSA describes itself on its website as "a research institute on international affairs, a library and archive of declassified U.S. documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act (FOIA), a public-interest law firm defending and expanding public access to government information through the FOIA, and an indexer and publisher of the documents in books, microfiche, and electronic formats." As a research entity, the NSA is the beneficiary of the painstaking work done by its sister group at GWU, the Center for National Security Studies (CNSS), which openly lobbies for more "openness." CNSS is the progeny of Morton Halperin, a leftist whose public record beginning in the early 1970s can be reviewed here. His entire career has been devoted to undermining U.S. intelligence efforts.

The CIA has been voluntarily declassifying documents since it released over nine million pages of Office of Strategic Services (the WWII-era predecessor of the CIA) records in the 1980s. But established procedures for declassifying records under voluntary or non-voluntary programs have been co-opted by political interests hostile to U.S. government clandestine activity. The NSA is in the vanguard of such groups. It has initiated over 18,000 FOIA requests since its inception in 1984. FOIA requires federal agencies to disclose records unless they are classified or otherwise legally non-public.

Since 1995, classified documents have fallen under Executive Order (EO) 12958, which removed the declassification process from the realm of national security considerations and placed it within the reach of political groups such as the NSA. Halperin was appointed as a top assistant to the acting Defense Secretary Les Aspin in 1993, which marked the initiation of the review of declassification procedures that culminated in EO 12958.

EO 12958 is to NSA what Roe v. Wade was to abortion proponents. EO 12958 de-fanged agency declassification authority and opened up the FOIA review process in a most dramatic way. There is no longer a presumption of confidentiality for sensitive security or foreign policy issues. The burden is on the federal agencies like CIA to review, on a case-by-case basis, each classification decision. Petty requirements in the order constrict the agency and become fodder for challenges by groups such as the NSA and the American Civil Liberties Union to overturn classification decisions on the basis of legal and procedural technicalities.

This has resulted in conflicting criteria for declassification and an ever-growing bureaucratic bloat to meet the flood of declassification requests and challenges. The NSA makes over 2,500 "public service" requests for documents and information annually. Resources that were once applied to deterring America's enemies are now being diverted to handle this process. The CIA employs 350 people to review and declassify documents. It receives over 6,000 FOIA and other declassification review requests every year. New electronic FOIA amendments require reduction of backlogged review requests subject to court-imposed penalties.

The EO also established the Interagency Security Classification Appeals

Panel (ISCAP), an appeals panel that, pursuant to a 1999 Justice Department ruling, can legally overrule CIA classification authority and responsibility. There is no precedent, either in the U.S. or in any other foreign government, for this level of declassification of clandestine activity. For example, Britain's MI5 only recently made its first-ever release of records to the public of some 8,000 scanned images of original documents. But these records relate only to British political and intelligence history before and during World War I.

It is not surprising that prior to the 9/11 terrorist attacks, the CIA had such scanty human intelligence in the Middle East, where infiltration is notoriously difficult. Agents past, present, and future, foreign or domestic, who might be named are now at risk of reprisal from their enemies. Foreign governments are increasingly reluctant to cooperate with American intelligence agencies for fear that their actions and agents may be publicly exposed. The same applies for any individuals or groups that may be able to help the U.S., or themselves, by aiding U.S. intelligence agencies.

This is precisely what the NSA wants. A perusal of the NSA website confirms the charade of its pretense as an innocent repository of historical documents. A link on the homepage is entitled: "Nixon: Brazil helped rig the Uruguayan elections (1971)." This is followed by a descriptive caption: "Documents reveal U.S. efforts to influence Uruguayan election." Even assuming that this is true, it is not necessarily something nefarious. The United States has done much more than influence elections before (such as basically running Japan and Germany for ten years following World War II).

Other headlined links on the NSA's website include: "Argentine Military Believed U.S. Gave Go-ahead for Dirty War. New State Department documents show conflict between Washington and US Embassy in Buenos Aires over signals to the military dictatorship at height of repression in 1976." Imagine an alternative headline that is just as plausible from a reading of the documents in question: "U.S. Government Struggles to Contain Communist Terrorists Amid Concerns Over Argentine Government Tactics."

Another headline reads: "State Department Opens Files on Argentina's Dirty War. Documents describe key death squad under former army chief Galtieri." Again, imagine an alternative headline that is just as plausible from a reading of the documents in question: "CIA Opens Files on Argentina's Dirty War. Documents describe key leftist terrorist groups under communist support from Soviet Russia." The public, however, does not have access to any such files for the simple reason that declassifying them would compromise the sources and methods used to obtain them. There is thus a bias at the NSA in favor of disclosing the unpleasant side of covert operations without disclosing the reasons for them.

Another link - "Did NATO Win the Cold War?" - lists mostly old documents that putatively weaken the claim that U.S.-led NATO containment and the U.S. military buildup ultimately ended the Cold War and protected the United States from Soviet Russia's expansionist goals. The title insinuates a phony argument. It is absurd as a matter of intellectual honesty to raise the question without acknowledging, much less documenting, contrary recent testimony from senior ex-Soviet officials stating that U.S.-led NATO containment and the U.S. military buildup did in fact cause the USSR to concede Cold War victory to the United States.

Two related items are conspicuously absent from the NSA archives. First are the Venona Files that revealed how thoroughly the Soviets infiltrated the U.S. government during the Cold War. Second are the Mitrokhin Archives. These were compiled by Victor Mitrokhin, the former archivist to the KGB's First Chief Directorate. Over the course of many years, he quietly made copies of a multitude of papers, and when he defected to the British in 1992, he brought copies of 25,000 documents with him. These documents are among the most damning public, first-hand historical evidence of Soviet aggression in existence. The omission of any mention of them completely debunks the illusion that the NSA is even-handed.

The NSA wins the public relations war since it can disingenuously argue that it has requested FOIA access to all documents relating to a particular subject (in an effort to be "balanced"), but that its requests have not been met; therefore the selective documentation in its archive is technically not the NSA's doing. The NSA can say, "This is government documentation - you be the judge." This can be maintained under the knowledge that CIA and other security agencies will never declassify all of their documents because it is precisely the most revealing documents that need to be most carefully guarded. The unknowing researcher relying on the NSA for documentation of the conflict in South America during the 1970s, for example, is faced with a one-sided portrayal of the difficulties faced by the U.S. government in combating communist infiltration. Equivalent documentation of atrocities committed by leftist groups would give the researcher reason to consider why the United States supported certain regimes to preempt communist takeover of Latin America. But "objectivity" here is a ruse. The word is cover for covert propagandizing.

There is no documentation on the NSA website of the most egregious recent lapse of U.S. National Security prior to 9-11: the stealing of nuclear secrets by the Communist Chinese during the Clinton Administration. A Congressional Committee headed by Fred Thompson (R-TN) produced reams of evidence indicting the entire Democratic National Committee apparatus in abetting a massive shakedown of U.S. security. A Los Alamos scientist, Wen Ho Lee, was found by the FBI to have downloaded the equivalent of 400,000 pages of nuclear design and testing information. Then-FBI Director Louis Freeh testified, ".the Department of Justice and the FBI stand by each and every one of the 59 counts in the indictment of Dr. Lee. Each of those counts could be proven in December 1999, and each of them could be proven today." Lee was subsequently released because the FBI could not reveal in court the evidence indicting Lee without compromising key national security information and sources. But that is less important to the NSA than revisiting anecdotal exchanges by Hungarian commissars circa 1956.

According to the NSA, a long list of recent international mishaps are somehow attributable to American neglect. These include the Rwanda genocide of 1994 (the NSA charges that Americans were willful "bystanders" during that calamity). The NSA makes no reference, however, to the 1991 Somalia genocide - curious, given the notoriety of that event and the much-publicized slaughter of 19 Americans - as a failure of U.S. foreign policy. Americans were certainly not "bystanders" in Somalia. Neither were they in Haiti in 1994, which was another U.S. foreign policy disaster. It is likely that there were valuable lessons to be learned from Somalia that led to America's decision to avoid a similar disaster from intervening in a localized, age-old ethnic conflict in which there was no compelling reason for risking the lives of Americans. That is an opinion shared by a good number of foreign policy observers, yet there is no documentation of it at the NSA.

The following quote, taken from NSA's commentary on the Rwanda episode, is most revealing:

"Despite overwhelming evidence of genocide and knowledge as to its perpetrators, United States officials decided against taking a leading role in confronting the slaughter in Rwanda. Rather, U.S. officials confined themselves to public statements, diplomatic demarches, initiatives for a ceasefire, and attempts to contact both the interim government perpetrating the killing and the RPF. The US did use its influence, however, at the United Nations, but did so to discourage a robust UN response. In late July, however, with the evidence of genocide littering the ground in Rwanda, the U.S. did launch substantial operations - again, in a supporting role - to assist humanitarian relief efforts for those displaced by the genocide."

The NSA is only interested in risking U.S. lives so long as they serve interests having nothing in common with America, and in support of regimes whose existence constitutes no real threat to the liberal democratic order of the civilized world, of which America is the principal caretaker.

The NSA is not true to any self-stated purpose, nor does it constitute a viable source of information. It does not speak to the history of any country, to the foreign policy of the United States worked out at great length, nor to the cost and risk to national security related to any of the documents it collects. In the end, the NSA only succeeds in compromising American national security and demoralizing, with its semi-fact-based reports, those people who serve the foreign policy of the United States.

Dr. Gene Scott's Memorial service was on 11.775 but I only got in on the last few minutes.

Some would say he had the last word, "Make an appointment to come back next Sunday."  ...or something pretty close to that.

Hey relax.

Didn't you say you have a roadrunner cable modem as well?  You can hook up your webtv box through this (webtv 2), get a vonage VOIP telephone adapter, and disconnect bell south.

I mentioned recently under the heading of Degen 1102 vs. 7600Gr that I hadn't noticed the sleep timer on the Degen 1102.  It IS there. Actually, it's quite accessible and can have an input of from a few seconds to 99 minutes.  I know the manual tells us it exists from 01 - 99 minutes, but it depends on where the seconds are (or how close it is to the minute change) when the timer is set.  The minute you are in when it is set is counted as the first minute and can be from a sec. or two up to a full minute.

Steve,

Those Drakes are so good they don't need servicing every day do they?

<snip>

Thank you for a detailed description; I tried the drop wire earlier.
It worked, but not as good as the original built-in whip out of the window; I got somewhat better results with a whip under a moderate angle pointing upward, like a penis in erection, something like that.
Is it because the antenna under the angle picks less noise, or is it something else, I can't tell, I don't know.

So I decided to build an "external whip", and asked will an equally long peace of wire through the window do the job equally good as a whip, maybe CB whips are worth purchasing if they are making whip antennas with silver in the alloy for better conductivity, or do other tricks in production process to increase reception performance ?

Since replies suggest to stick with a wire, yesterday evening I completed a bamboo stick with a wire within, and it works as expected. I don't use a window frame as grounding point, the frame is made of aluminum. Few weeks ago I visited a local flee-market and found a piece of iron previously used as a weight for live-stock scales. Works good.

Guess I'd need an accomplice to haul their body out back and toss it into the ravine for the critters to gnaw on.

It's pretty hard to outrun a shotgun or an SKS, or even a 45 pistol as well.

By the way, my neighbours are all heavily armed as well.

In the immediate future I doubt it, but over the next few months as time marches on new people will rise up and practices will change. I seriously doubt this time next year if we will be hearing Scott's tapes nearly as much as we do now.

dxAce..you mean Catholic Radio Network?  No snail mail address available...do you happen to have it?  It's not on their website (which is sponsored by some evangelical association on PNG) nor in the WRTH 2005.  I'm hoping the Fr. will get back to me...I plan to blast off another email today...don't want to pester too much or risk poisoning the waters  for all and good.

Leftie Anchorman Peter Jennings and his a CanadAlien broadcast

As a child he was "bone lazy and a bit delinquent," Jennings told a Good Housekeeping Magazine interviewer, and he found school "boring." He was expelled from several private schools, then dropped out of school forever before completing 10th Grade.

"My mother.was pretty anti-American," Jennings said on the September 6, 2002 CBS "Late Show with David Letterman. "And so I was, in some respects, raised with anti-Americanism in my blood, or in my mother's milk at least."

Jennings had limited knowledge of American history and culture. He pronounced words like "schedule" and "lieutenant" in a distinctly Canadian and aristocratic way - "SHED-u-al," "lef-TEN-ant." He once mispronounced Appomattox, site of Confederate General Robert E. Lee's surrender that effectively ended the War Between the States. He confused the U.S. Marine Corps anthem with the U.S. Navy's, "Anchors Aweigh."

He impressed bosses by doing the first-ever interview with terrorist Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO) leader Yasser Arafat.

"In the early 1970s, when he was single [i.e., divorced from his first wife] and head of the ABC bureau in Beirut, Peter Jennings dated Hanan Ashrawi, who at the time was also single and a graduate student in literature at the American University in the Lebanese capital," reported the December 30, 1991/January 6, 1992 U.S. News & World Report. "Jennings was introduced to Ashrawi's parents and sisters and became part of her circle of friends."

Ashrawi was, in fact, the youngest of five daughters of a politically active doctor. At American University she was a leader of the General Union of Palestinian Students while dating Jennings. As an adult the chain-smoking Ashrawi became part of the public ruling circle of the Palestinian Authority in Arafat's regime. "Anyone who has known Hanan as long as I have," Jennings said, "is not surprised to see her emerge as a persuasive spokesperson for the Palestinians."

On September 11, 2001, Jennings was Anchor of ABC when Islamist terrorists killed nearly 3,000 Americans in a series of attacks that destroyed New York 's World Trade Center and struck the Pentagon.

"It is certainly a motivating factor," Jennings told viewers during his coverage of this horror, "that the hatred of the United States, and the hatred of the United States as a patron of Israel, whether you're from Afghanistan, or whether you're from Iran, Iraq, or inside the Palestinian territories is so intense at some levels, and has become more intense in recent months, that nobody will be, very many people will not be surprised at this attack today though like everybody else will be amazed at the magnitude and success of it."

"[Peter Jennings] hosted what looked like a little intercontinental tea party for alleged experts on the Middle East," wrote liberal television critic Tom Shales in the September 17, 2001 Washington Post, "one of whom was professional Palestinian spokeswoman Hanan Ashrawi, whom Jennings hailed as 'widely known in the United States.' "Jennings wanted to know," wrote Shales, ".how anyone could hate America so much that they would launch this kind of vicious, calamitous attack. Ashrawi blamed U.S. foreign policy (for having 'fought Arab nationalism') and, predictably for her, Israel. Ashrawi complained that 'Israel is given preferential treatment, treated as a country above the law, as part of her condemnation. Jennings deferred to Ashrawi, as usual, and let her filibuster. It was a nauseating display," concluded Shales.

Jennings never informed his audience about his close relationship with Ashrawi, nor of his having been "part of her circle" of radical friends in Beirut. In 1972, while covering the murder of 11 Israeli athletes by Palestinians at the Munich Olympics, Jennings went out of his way to refer to the murderers as "guerrillas" and "commandos," never using the word "terrorists."

"I first saw Jennings on ABC when, as a young TV journalist, he reported from the Munich Olympics," wrote Martin Peretz, publisher of the liberal The New Republic in its September 13, 2001 issue. "And I was filled with disgust that his subsequent career has only deepened. At Munich - I still remember it, 30 years later - Jennings tried to explain away the abductions and massacre of the young Israeli athletes. His theme: The Palestinians were helpless and desperate. Ipso facto, they were driven to murder. That's life.."

"In Sept. 2002, when ABC News aired a retrospective on the Olympic Massacre," wrote the web site HonestReporting.com, "Jennings unabashedly said that Israel should stop regarding the Palestinians as terrorists as a result of the Olympic Massacre of three decades ago. Jennings dismissed the continual barrage of thousands of Palestinian terror attacks against Israelis, not only before, but also since the '72 Olympics."

In large part because of Peter Jennings, ABC News was quicker than its rivals to air foreign criticism of Israel and to portray Palestinians, other Arabs, Iranians and even terrorist organizations sympathetically. "I felt very strongly - and I still do - that there is much more than the Israeli side to the Middle East story," Jennings told Rolling Stone Magazine. "There are nineteen countries in the Arab world, and I worked in all of them."

"It is Hezbollah, which means 'The Party of God,' that gets credit for liberating Lebanon from the long Israeli occupation," said Jennings in his report from Beirut on March 27, 2002. "Yesterday, I went to see its 38-year-old leader, Hassan Nasrallah. He is a popular member of the political establishment. The Bush administration says Hezbollah is a terrorist organization. 'Hezbollah was proud to resist the Israeli occupation,' he says. 'We gave our lives. We are not terrorists.'"

Jennings never informed his audience that Hezbollah was responsible for bombing the U.S. Embassy in Lebanon and a U.S. military barracks where 241 Marines were murdered by a Hezbollah truck bomb. He also neglected to mention the theocratic dictatorship of Iran's role in arming and funding Hezbollah, a Shiite terrorist organization with close ties to Tehran.

As war with Iraq approached in 2003, Peter Jennings did reports favoring continued inspections by the United Nations. On January 21, 2003 Jennings reported on "several hundred artists and writers walking through the streets of Baghdad to say thank you to Saddam Hussein" whose regime "has always supported the arts." On his newscasts Jennings featured anti-war activists, described as noble idealists, but he never told viewers of the radical background of many activists nor that the organizer of the largest anti-war protests was the Marxist-Leninist pro-terrorist group International A.N.S.W.E.R.

After U.S. troops removed Saddam, Jennings described those gathered at the toppling of the dictator's statue as "a small crowd." Jenning's prot�g� during the war, fellow Canadian and MSNBC reporter Ashleigh Banfield, ascribed U.S. policy to the influence of what she called "the Jewish Lobby."

In 1975 Jennings returned to Washington, D.C. to host "A.M. America," forerunner to today's "Good Morning America." By 1977 he transferred to ABC's London bureau, from which in 1978 he became part of a triumvirate of evening news anchors along with Frank Reynolds and, from Chicago, Max Robinson.

In 1983 Frank Reynolds was suffering from cancer, and ABC chose Jennings to replace him. "Anchor people are slaves to the daily broadcast," Jennings has said. "Very high-priced slaves I grant you. But slaves." He has been enslaved as anchor of "World News Tonight" for more than 20 years.

In 1990 he also began doing specials under the name "Peter Jennings Reports." These have often dealt with controversial topics. In 1999 he anchored a 12-hour series titled The Century and co-authored a best-selling book with the same name. In 2004 he anchored "Jesus and Paul - The Word and the Witness," a three-hour special that provocatively interpreted these founders of Christianity through the views of radical theologians such as Episcopal Bishop John Shelby Spong.

"We may tell you all the time that our principal aim in life is to communicate and assist, inform," said Jennings on a 2001 CBS News special Breaking the News. "But if you see injustice and you can get people to do something about it, ahh, it's just a glorious feeling.. There's nothing a reporter likes more than to have an effect on policy."

In what directions has Peter Jennings shaped ABC News coverage to influence policy? Decades of documentation and analysis by the Media Research Center and others, as well as statements by Jennings himself and those with whom he has worked, provide answers.

"Peter, I believe, genuinely thinks of himself as a nobleman doing public good," former ABC News Correspondent Peter Collins told Cybercast News Service (CNS) in December 2003. "When he and his producer load and tilt a story, you can argue it's leftist bias, but it's just as effective to say they left out basic facts because they couldn't see them or they are incompetent to see them... In order to save the peasantry in America.it's their obligation to present these facts the way they present them."

Jennings' patronizing condescension towards American "peasants" - "Americans are pretty insular people for the most part," he told David Letterman in 2001 - was never more on display than in November 1994 days after voters removed Democrats and put a Republican majority in control of both houses of Congress for the first time in four decades.

"Ask parents of any two-year-old," said Jennings in his daily ABC Radio commentary on November 14, 1994, "and they can tell you about those temper tantrums: the stomping feet, the rolling eyes, the screaming. It's clear that the anger controls the child and not the other way around. It's the job of the parent to teach the child to control the anger and channel it in a positive way. Imagine a nation full of uncontrolled two-year-old rage. The voters had a temper tantrum last week.. Parenting and governing don't have to be dirty words: the nation can't be run by an angry two-year-old."

Jennings did not vote in that election. He was a citizen of Canada, ineligible to cast a ballot in the United States. When his rival American news anchors were prevented by a legal travel ban from visiting Communist Cuba, Jennings traveled there to do reporting with his Canadian passport.

In 2004 Peter Jennings announced that he had become a U.S. citizen, but this statement was incomplete. He in fact also retains Canadian citizenship and is therefore a dual citizen. Jennings' political views remain those of a cosmopolitan Canadian. He is far more European than American in values and culture.

Among the most repeated themes in stories by Peter Jennings are that the United States is "lagging behind" the rest of the "industrialized world" (and Europe in particular) in government-provided health care, child care, paid leave for parents and other social programs.

"The best child care system in the world..the Swedish system is run and paid for by the Swedish government, something many Americans would like to see the U.S. government do as well," declared Jennings in a virtual editorial on "World News Tonight" on November 22, 1989. Jennings did not mention that in the socialist nanny state of Sweden, children have been taken away from parents who were declared unfit for being overweight.

"Medical care was once for the privileged few. Today it is available to every Cuban and it is free," Jennings on April 3, 1989 told "World News Tonight" viewers. "Some of Cuba's health care is world class. In heart disease, for example, in brain surgery. Health and education are the revolution's great success stories."  He did not mention that patients must bring their own sheets and light bulbs to the operating room or may die from lack of antibiotics. He did not mention that education includes making children work unpaid in factories, and that it includes military training to teach children how to "kill the Yanquis."

After the mother of five-year-old Elian Gonzalez died trying to bring her son across the waters between Communist Cuba and the United States, the prison island's Marxist dictator Fidel Castro demanded the boy's return. President Bill Clinton's Administration sided with Castro and on an Easter Sunday used shock troops to attack reporters and at gunpoint to tear the boy from the arms of relatives in Little Havana, a suburb of Miami, Florida.

"In Miami today, immigration officials met with the Miami relatives of Elian Gonzalez again," said Jennings, also siding with Castro, to begin his newscast on March 28, 2000. "And once again the government has failed to get the kind of cooperation from the relatives that might allow the case of this young boy to end in a civilized manner that is best for him."

According to former ABC Correspondent Peter Collins, when in 1989 he proposed to do a report from Nicaragua on the 10th Anniversary of rule by the Soviet-aligned, Fidel Castro-supported Marxist Sandinista regime, Peter Jennings intervened.

"[Jennings] himself called me up in Managua and essentially dictated to me what I should say. Basically what Mr. Jennings wanted was for me to make a favorable pronouncement about the 10 years of the Sandinista revolution," Collins told Cybercast News Service, "and he called me up, massaged my script in a way that I no longer recognized it."

"The Sandinistas brought with them Marxist ideas about spreading wealth and creating a new, unselfish society," read part of the Jennings-rewritten script that ABC broadcast. "And in the first few years, they did manage to reduce illiteracy, the infant death rate and launched the biggest land reform in Central America. But the Reagan administration saw the Sandinistas as a threat and forced them into a war with the U.S.-backed Contras."

Jennings frequently pressed ABC reporters to rewrite their stories with a more leftward slant. In recent years he has supported efforts by ABC News Political Director Mark Halperin to do the same. Halperin on the day of the final 2004 presidential debate, a debate moderated by Charlie Gibson of ABC News, sent out a memo directing all ABC news reporters and other personnel to deal more harshly with any misstatement by Republican candidate President George W. Bush than any by Democratic presidential candidate Senator John Kerry (D.-Massachusetts).

"In terms of the direction that Peter Collins recalls Peter Jennings pushing in - and that was to the left of where the correspondent is - that's consistent with my experiences, and I think most [ABC News correspondents'] experience," Bob Zelnick told Cybercast News Service. Zelnick ended his 21-year career as an ABC News reporter in 1989 and now chairs the Department of Journalism at Boston University.

Is Jennings a biased journalist? "I'm a little concerned about this notion everybody wants us to be objective," he said in October 2004, noting that journalists are human and have points of view through which they filter their perceptions of the news. He added: "There's a whole industry of conservatives saying, 'Ah, it's those damn liberals,' and a whole group of liberals saying, 'It's all those damn conservatives.'"

"Historically in the media, it has been more of a liberal persuasion for many years," L. Brent Bozell III quotes Jennings as saying in his 2004 book Weapons of Mass Distortion: The Coming Meltdown of the Liberal Media. "It has taken us a long time, too long in my view, to have vigorous conservative voices heard as widely in the media as they now are."

"I think there is a mainstream media," Peter Jennings told CNN's Larry King on May 15, 2001. "CNN is mainstream media, and the main, ABC, CBS, NBC are mainstream media. And I think it's just essentially to make the point that we are largely in the center without particular axes to grind, without ideologies which are represented in our daily coverage, at least certainly not on purpose."

On the October 17, 2000 "World News Tonight," Peter Jennings eulogized Soviet apparatchik and Communist Party USA leader Gus Hall, who died that week at age 90. Gus Hall devoted his life to defeating America in the Cold War and to establishing a totalitarian dictatorship in the United States, none of which was mentioned by Jennings. "Hall," said Jennings, "never wavered."

If I understand you what you want to do is make two loops, one for MW and the other for SW with fewer turns for two resonate loops.

You could just leave the terminals open on the unused loop where it would not affect the in use loop much.

"And I was filled with disgust that his subsequent career has only deepened. At Munich - I still remember it, 30 years later - Jennings tried to explain away the abductions and massacre of the young Israeli athletes. His theme: The Palestinians were helpless and desperate. Ipso facto, they were driven to murder. That's life.."
> "In Sept. 2002, when ABC News aired a retrospective on the Olympic Massacre," wrote the web site HonestReporting.com, "Jennings unabashedly said that Israel should stop regarding the Palestinians as terrorists as a result of the Olympic Massacre of three decades ago. Jennings dismissed the continual barrage of thousands of Palestinian terror attacks against Israelis, not only before, but also since the '72 Olympics."
> In large part because of Peter Jennings, ABC News was quicker than its rivals to air foreign criticism of Israel and to portray Palestinians, other Arabs, Iranians and even terrorist organizations sympathetically. "I felt very strongly - and I still do - that there is much more than the Israeli side to the Middle East story," Jennings told Rolling Stone Magazine. "There are nineteen countries in the Arab world, and I worked in all of them."
> "It is Hezbollah, which means 'The Party of God,' that gets credit for liberating Lebanon from the long Israeli occupation," said Jennings in his report from Beirut on March 27, 2002. "Yesterday, I went to see its 38-year-old leader, Hassan Nasrallah. He is a popular member of the political establishment. The Bush administration says Hezbollah is a terrorist organization. 'Hezbollah was proud to resist the Israeli occupation,' he says. 'We gave our lives. We are not terrorists.'"
> Jennings never informed his audience that Hezbollah was responsible for bombing the U.S. Embassy in Lebanon and a U.S. military barracks where 241 Marines were murdered by a Hezbollah truck bomb. He also neglected to mention the theocratic dictatorship of Iran's role in arming and funding Hezbollah, a Shiite terrorist organization with close ties to Tehran.
> As war with Iraq approached in 2003, Peter Jennings did reports favoring continued inspections by the United Nations. On January 21, 2003 Jennings reported on "several hundred artists and writers walking through the streets of Baghdad to say thank you to Saddam Hussein" whose regime "has always supported the arts." On his newscasts Jennings featured anti-war activists, described as noble idealists, but he never told viewers of the radical background of many activists nor that the organizer of the largest anti-war protests was the Marxist-Leninist pro-terrorist group International A.N.S.W.E.R.
> After U.S. troops removed Saddam, Jennings described those gathered at the toppling of the dictator's statue as "a small crowd." Jenning's prot�g� during the war, fellow Canadian and MSNBC reporter Ashleigh Banfield, ascribed U.S. policy to the influence of what she called "the Jewish Lobby."

> In 1990 he also began doing specials under the name "Peter Jennings Reports." These have often dealt with controversial topics. In 1999 he anchored a 12-hour series titled The Century and co-authored a best-selling book with the same name. In 2004 he anchored "Jesus and Paul - The Word and the Witness," a three-hour special that provocatively interpreted these founders of Christianity through the views of radical theologians such as Episcopal Bishop John Shelby Spong.

Imagine a nation full of uncontrolled two-year-old rage. The voters had a temper tantrum last week.. Parenting and governing don't have to be dirty words: the nation can't be run by an angry two-year-old."

Jennings did not mention that in the socialist nanny state of Sweden, children have been taken away from parents who were declared unfit for being overweight.
>
> "Mr. Bush believes in a universal tax cut," reported Jennings on October 4, 2000, "which would mean a very large chunk of money not available for government programs." He did not mention that patients must bring their own sheets and light bulbs to the operating room or may die from lack of antibiotics. He did not mention that education includes making children work unpaid in factories, and that it includes military training to teach children how to "kill the Yanquis."

Bottom line: Jennings is just another 'tard from CanaDuh... a highly paid 'tard, but a 'tard none the less.

Well, you might try:

Radio Station 4960
Catholic Radio Network
Vanimo
Papua New Guinea

I'd put a prepared card in with it, and an addressed envelope, and maybe a dollar along with your report.

It might just work.

I have one of the stock versions and did the mute and detent mods myself.
What speaker did they put in for you?  This is sort of a hybrid portable almost table top radio - belying the other poster who criticized it.  This radio I have an R75 which has a much worse stock speaker than the 909.
has its place in my shack.

I thought this guy was a washed up has been.

The problem with these sorts  of ideas is that they don't actually say what the issue really is - which making money however you can.

BTW WW1 was NOT about making the world safe for democracy. It was about Germany wanting to be a world power and the strongest nation in Europe. Among other things.

David wrote:

> By late 1863, Lincoln�s war to crush Southern secession was about whether �government of the people, by the people, for the people shall ... perish from the earth.� By 1917, the European war whose causes Wilson professed not to understand in 1916 had become �the war to end all wars� and to �make the world safe for democracy.�
>
> Leaders alchemize wars begun over lesser interests into epochal struggles for universal principles because only thus can they justify demands for greater sacrifices in blood and treasure. But Bush has gone Wilson one better. He is not only going to make the world safe for democracy, he is going to make the world democratic. Where Lincoln abolished slavery in the South, Bush is going to abolish tyranny from the earth: �So it is the policy of the United States to seek and support the growth of democratic movements and institutions in every nation and culture, with the ultimate goal of ending tyranny in our world.�
> A conservative knows not whether to laugh or weep, for Mr. Bush has just asserted a right to interfere in the internal affairs of every nation on earth. Why? Because the �survival of liberty in our land increasingly depends on the success of liberty in other lands.� But this is utterly ahistorical. The world has always been afflicted with despots. Yet America has always been free. And we have remained free by following the counsel of Washington, Jefferson, and Adams and staying out of foreign quarrels and foreign wars.
> Who is feeding the president this interventionist nonsense?
> The president now plans to hector and badger foreign leaders on the progress each is making toward attaining U.S. standards of democracy. �We will persistently clarify the choice before every ruler and nation�the moral choice between oppression, which is always wrong, and freedom, which is eternally right.� This is a formula for

> �Bring-it-on!� collisions with every autocratic regime on earth, including virtually every African and Arab ruler, all the �outposts of tyranny� named by Secretary Rice, most of the nations of Central Asia, China, and Russia. This is a prescription for endless war. Yet as Madison warned, �No nation can preserve its freedom in the midst of continual warfare.�
> Who and what converted a president who came to office with no knowledge of the world to the idea that only a global crusade for democracy could keep us secure? Answer: 9/11�and the neoconservatives.
> In his inaugural address, Mr. Bush calls 9/11 the day �when freedom came under attack.� This is sophomoric. Osama did not send fanatics to ram planes into the World Trade Center because he hates the Bill of Rights. He sent the terrorists here because he hates our presence and policies in the Middle East. He did it for the same reason FLN rebels blew up cafes in Paris and Hamas suicide bombers blow up pizza parlors in Jerusalem.
> From the Battle of Algiers to the bombing of the Beirut Marine barracks, from the expulsion of the Red Army by the mujahideen of Afghanistan to the expulsion of Israel from Lebanon by Hezbollah, guerrilla war and terror tactics have been the means Muslims have used to expel armies they could not defeat in conventional war.
> The 9/11 killers were over here because we are over there. We were not attacked because of who we are but because of what we do. It is not our principles they hate. It is our policies. U.S. intervention in the Middle East was the cause of the 9/11 terror. Bush believes it is the cure. Has he learned nothing from Iraq?
> In 2003, we invaded a nation that had not attacked us, did not threaten us, and did not want war with us to disarm it of weapons it did not have. Now, after plunging $200 billion and the lives of 1,400 of our best and bravest into this war and killing tens of thousands of Iraqis, we have reaped a harvest of hatred in the Arab world and, according to officials in our own government, have created a new nesting place and training ground for terrorists to replace the one we lately eradicated in Afghanistan.
> Among those who have converted President Bush to the notion that without Arab democracy there can be no Mideast peace is Natan Sharansky, and much of what the famed Soviet dissident writes is undeniably true. Even inside the darkest despotism, people yearn for freedom. They hate tyranny and love liberty. They wish to live in lands that allow them to choose their own leaders. And as democratic rulers must return to the people for renewal of their mandates in free elections, they are more likely to seek the peace and prosperity their people desire. Thus, only democracy can pave the way to true peace and security. This is the message of Sharansky�s Case for Democracy, which the president has embraced and encouraged all to read.

Peter Jennings is a left wing Commie,in my opinion.About seven years ago
I heard a radio talk show host say that by 10:00 AM in the mornings,he has done his news thingy for the day and he usually is in Central Park walking his dogs.

TIANLI,

And people wonder why many American's call the so called Big Three National News Organizations ABC, CBS and NBC "The Liberal Media ELITE".

Clearly Peter Jennings and ABC = Anti-American Broadcasting Comraden are a prime example of the Liberal Anti-American Bias in the US Media.

That's flawed logic.   Besides, there's more to it than just having a government funding scheme.  The entity must be competent and editorially  independent.

Open and transparent government is called for in the Constitution.

Your red-baiting is absurd.  You are politically immature.

I used the site because it came up first on Google.  The letters are photcopies of official U.S. Government documents.  These belong to all citizens of the USA.  We paid for them.  We hired the people who wrote them.  We have every right to see how our government does (or doesn't do) its job.

You sir, are the Antiamerican one.

I live in an apartment building in Brooklyn. If your building is like mine, the angle of the antenna has nothing to do with your reception problem. By scouting around with a portable receiver, I found a noise 'envelope' literally surrounding my building. No kidding, I could walk out onto my fire escape, hold the receiver out as far away from the building as I could get it, and at some point it would spring to life with signals popping out all over the place. It was the same at ground level, on other floors, and a tad worse on the roof. My guess is that, if you just use the bamboo stick to get a wire outside the noise envelope of your building, it can hang straight down and you'll get decent reception. In fact, if you've noticed improved reception with a whip extending up at a 50' angle or so, I suspect it's because part of the whip is making it 'into the clear' and out of the building noise.

I'm happy with an accurate representation of events.

I do not need a third party deciding what's ''fair''.

 Facts ''balanced'' against what?  Falsehood?

Yes they do exist unto themselves. No need for EM wave to be present for them to exist and they have a characteristic impedance that does not need any EM waves around either.

An antenna takes or causes or converts a local current loop into electromagnetic energy on transmit. The antenna performs the reverse function on receive.

Not a lot of difference between air and vacuum. All antennas would work about the same. They would all resonate at a slightly higher frequency in vacuum than in air.

Speakers and microphones convert energy between sound pressure waves and a local current loop. This has nothing to do with electromagnetic waves, which antennas convert.

When the far left and the far right agree on something, you know we're in trouble. Buchanan's monologue could easily have been the commentary on CNN or the BBC or even (with a few word changes) Radio Havana Cuba. Bush's radical ideology has alienated both the left and the right as well as the center (Bush was reelected with the lowest approval ratings of any president who has won a second term). It's not accurate to think of Bush and his cronies as "neoconservative" because as Buchanan points out they're not really conservative. Bushism is a new Third Way, a radical break from American tradition that calls for endless war and endless suppression of freedoms at home and abroad in support of this war. Bush's ideology is closer to Nazism in its call for endless war and an ever expanding sphere of influence for America won through war. Bush has called for American hegemony over the world, a Pax Americana enforced not through peace but through the brutal occupation and oppression of the peoples of the world, including Americans. Well, even if Bush brings back the draft (which he will have to) and young Americans gladly march off to enforce the tyrannical rule of Emperor George, there's not enough people in America to enforce peace through occupation over the entire world. At least the Muslims and Arabs, and many of the Europeans, are not afraid, and FEAR is the only way for Bush to enforce the War Americana without occupying every single country in the world with massive manpower. Even 150,000 troops are not enough to create an artificial peace in Iraq. Just think of how many more troops it would take to occupy Iraq AND Iran AND Syria AND North Korea AND a zillion other places. Bush's goal of creating "democracy" through war and occupation is doomed to fail and take the world with it.

> Leaders alchemize wars begun over lesser interests into epochal struggles for universal principles because only thus can they justify demands for greater sacrifices in blood and treasure. But Bush has gone Wilson one better. He is not only going to make the world safe for democracy, he is going to make the world democratic. Where Lincoln abolished slavery in the South, Bush is going to abolish tyranny from the earth: �So it is the policy of the United States to seek and support the growth of democratic movements and institutions in every nation and culture, with the ultimate goal of ending tyranny in our world.�
> A conservative knows not whether to laugh or weep, for Mr. Bush has just asserted a right to interfere in the internal affairs of every nation on earth. Why? Because the �survival of liberty in our land increasingly depends on the success of liberty in other lands.� But this is utterly ahistorical. The world has always been afflicted with despots. Yet America has always been free. And we have remained free by following the counsel of Washington, Jefferson, and Adams and staying out of foreign quarrels and foreign wars.

> The president now plans to hector and badger foreign leaders on the progress each is making toward attaining U.S. standards of democracy. �We will persistently clarify the choice before every ruler and nation�the moral choice between oppression, which is always wrong, and freedom, which is eternally right.� This is a formula for �Bring-it-on!� collisions with every autocratic regime on earth, including virtually every African and Arab ruler, all the �outposts of tyranny� named by Secretary Rice, most of the nations of Central Asia, China, and Russia. This is a prescription for endless war. Yet as Madison warned, �No nation can preserve its freedom in the midst of continual warfare.�

> Who and what converted a president who came to office with no knowledge of the world to the idea that only a global crusade for democracy could keep us secure? Answer: 9/11�and the neoconservatives.

> In his inaugural address, Mr. Bush calls 9/11 the day �when freedom came under attack.� This is sophomoric. Osama did not send fanatics to ram planes into the World Trade Center because he hates the Bill of Rights. He sent the terrorists here because he hates our presence and policies in the Middle East. He did it for the same reason FLN rebels blew up cafes in Paris and Hamas suicide bombers blow up pizza parlors in Jerusalem.
> From the Battle of Algiers to the bombing of the Beirut Marine barracks, from the expulsion of the Red Army by the mujahideen of Afghanistan to the expulsion of Israel from Lebanon by Hezbollah, guerrilla war and terror tactics have been the means Muslims have used to expel armies they could not defeat in conventional war.

> The 9/11 killers were over here because we are over there. We were not attacked because of who we are but because of what we do. It is not our principles they hate. It is our policies. U.S. intervention in the Middle East was the cause of the 9/11 terror. Bush believes it is the cure. Has he learned nothing from Iraq?
> In 2003, we invaded a nation that had not attacked us, did not threaten us, and did not want war with us to disarm it of weapons it did not have. Now, after plunging $200 billion and the lives of 1,400 of our best and bravest into this war and killing tens of thousands of Iraqis, we have reaped a harvest of hatred in the Arab world and, according to officials in our own government, have created a new nesting place and training ground for terrorists to replace the one we lately eradicated in Afghanistan.
> Among those who have converted President Bush to the notion that without Arab democracy there can be no Mideast peace is Natan Sharansky, and much of what the famed Soviet dissident writes is undeniably true. Even inside the darkest despotism, people yearn for freedom. They hate tyranny and love liberty. They wish to live in lands that allow them to choose their own leaders. And as democratic rulers must return to the people for renewal of their mandates in free elections, they are more likely to seek the peace and prosperity their people desire. Thus, only democracy can pave the way to true peace and security. This is the message of Sharansky�s Case for Democracy, which the president has embraced and encouraged all to read.
> But what is often true is not always true, and U.S. foreign policy, which is to protect U.S. vital interests and the peace and freedom of Americans, cannot be rooted in the idealism of an ex-Soviet dissident or the ideology of neoconservatives who promised us a �cakewalk� in Iraq and assured us we would be welcomed with flowers. Sharansky notwithstanding, democracy is neither a necessary nor sufficient condition of America�s peace and security, nor even of Israel�s.

> In 1967, David Ben-Gurion told Richard Nixon and this writer he hoped Nasser would survive Egypt�s humiliation in the Six-Day War because only Nasser had the prestige to lead the Arabs to accept peace with Israel. Sadat was no democrat when Israel gave him back the Sinai and signed a peace. Arafat was no democrat when Rabin and Peres agreed to the Oslo Accords and shared a Nobel Prize with him. Assad was no democrat when Israel negotiated a truce with him on the Golan Heights. That truce has held. Nor was Khadafi a democrat when Bush agreed to lift sanctions imposed on Libya for the massacre of Pan Am 103 if Khadafi would surrender his weapons of mass destruction. Khadafi did, and Bush rightly claims this as a diplomatic success of his first term.

That may be in Israel�s interest. But it is not in America�s interest. Sharansky�s idealism just happens to coincide with Sharon�s agenda. Can President Bush not see this?
> America has old friendships and important interests in the Middle East that cannot await the dawn of democracy in the 22 Arab states where it currently does not exist. We cannot make the best the enemy of the good. And if democracy means rule by the people, how enthusiastic should we be about its introduction into the Middle East? In 1991, Algerians were given a democratic vote�and elected an Islamist regime. The army intervened, igniting a civil war that left 100,000 dead. President Bush might ask his father why he did not speak up for Algerian democracy then.

Only if another goofy cloistered rich eccentric someplace comes forward and gives him another million dollars. In that case the likelyhood is high that Profit Stair will buy up all the remaining airtime on the Caribbean Beacon (1620 Khz AM?) to spread his unique brand of bullshi+ among the stupid and the easily led.

Gene Scott??  Who the phuck is that?

I'm watchin the Oscars with Chris Rock as the host. Perhaps the funniest black comedian since Richard Prior.

Should be a great night as Hollywood is better connected than anything other in media.

It has nothing to do with frequency. When you are measuring the antennas reactance to a EM wave then it does but that is not the same thing as the antennas characteristic impedance.

Get frequency and the reactance to it, out of your head. The impedance of the antenna or anything else for that matter depends on its physical properties not what you might stimulate it with.

Here is a news flash for you. This RRS news group. I don't read this news group to gain political insight or other off topic news items.

Take this somewhere else or you are going in the kill  file.

David is an off topic Troll. You and others are just going to end up in everyone else's kill file. This has nothing to with the fact that I agree with you or not. I just want to read radio related stuff. You on the other hand repeatedly post off topic and only occasionally post on topic.

I expect people to sometimes post off topic but you and a few others are doing it constantly.

Join some political topic news groups.

Shyeeizzit. By 2010 they'll remove the requirement to supply licensee's first and last name, saying it's too difficult to remember all that and it has no bearing on one's ability to work a PTT switch.

I was anticipating that exact sentiment to be expressed here. If and when it becomes economically prohibitive for powerhouse networks to broadcast over the airwaves due to all the lord high advertising revenue going satellite, it will only open the way WIDE OPEN for a group of "rebels" to make use of good old fashioned radio. As a matter of fact, if you have just five cents worth of socio-psychology, you'd understand full well that there would be a huge group of people that would turn from the main stream and tune into the new age "underground" culture that uses good old fashioned radio waves to bring their message, music, media etc free of the oppressive commercial laden satellite jerk-offs.

Bank on it.... If and when satellite does away with radio, radio will become free, and unencumbered by mass-media money grubbing pigs, and thus, attract the masses again until it becomes commercialized again.

In short... Radio wont die... Just evolve... At the very worst, it will indeed even become way more interesting then it is now.

I forgot about those. Actually, WNCX = "North Coast eXpress to Rock and Roll" and that's how they ID'd themselves when they signed on in 1987.

Lessee, there are a couple more. KKJZ Long Beach, California - "K-Jazz", simulcasting on KUOR Redlands, owned by the University of Redlands. KKJZ is licensed to Cal State, Long Beach, IIRC.

Apropos of WCLV, Los Angeles's classical station is KMZT 105.1, "K-Mozart."

Los Angeles also has Kiss 102.7 (KIIS) and "Coast" 103.5 (KOST).

I remember seeing an ad for a Vespa from 1974 (the year I was born) that was sold at Payless (a drug store) for $400 or so. Now a Vespa will run you four THOUSAND dollars, and there's only ONE dealer for ALL of Northern California (in San Francisco). Here in Sacramento you can buy a scooter called a Kymco, but even that will run you two to three thousand dollars. My, how times have changed!

Caribbean Beacon broadcasts on shortwave, although I don't remember the frequencies offhand since I'm not much into that sort of thing. (Gene Scott, that is.) I doubt that a 1620 khz station on Anguilla would reach to Miami. The local diocese here in Sacramento runs a "Catholic Radio" station on 1620. Which reminds me, whatever happened to Vatican Radio? I haven't seen them listed in Passport for a couple years now. I once saw, in a book, a QSL from them showing an antenna shaped like a Christian cross. For that matter, is Eternal Word Network still on shortwave? It seems like the traditionalist Christian broadcasters (including HCJB) have gone by the wayside while kook religious stations like WWCR and WWRB have grown. A sad commentary on the state of Christianity today.

Could you post links to these "various reports"? I'd like to know more.
Given Sam's sophistication, I wonder if the guy they "caught" isn't a fall guy meant to mollify the ham/SWL community's curiosity.

We'd like to invite you to join our free WORLD SCIENCE e-newsletter, which contains some of the world's most exciting science news and photos long before they're in the papers and magazines. A sample newsletter is below.

To join, just send an email with "subscribe"
in the subject line to:

neutrino750 @ yahoo.com (remove the spaces).

The newsletter, sent out about every 3-10 days, contains short summaries of our new stories, with links to web pages containing the full stories. It's free: no pop-ups, passwords, spam, or gimmicks -- that's our pledge! The full story pages do contain small side ads (non pop-up), which are what supports our newsletter. YOU pay nothing ever. You can cancel anytime simply by replying to a newsletter email and typing "unsubscribe" in the subject line.

Below is a sample newsletter. It doesn't contain the full story links because we're not allowed to provide them here, but the real newsletter will contain working links.

LAST WEEK'S WORLD SCIENCE EMAIL NEWSLETTER

* Possible dinosaur-bird missing link found:
It's not the first bird-like dinosaur ever found -- but it is the closest yet found to the actual dinosaur ancestor of birds, researchers say.

* Science in Images - A more life-friendly Mars:
Most Mars photos show a rocky, dry-looking landscape. This is another view: an area of the planet that researchers think might have once been habitable. They plan to explore further.

* Another record: biggest blast ever in our galaxy:
The most powerful explosion in our galaxy ever recorded occurred recently when an exotic star's magnetic field snapped, astronomers say.

* New robots walk nearly like humans:
An older robot does it too, but it used 10 times as much energy as humans do, researchers say; that is changing.

At 04:08 UTC - faint, but steady.  Listed as 1,000 watts.  If that's right, and it's the only thing I can find on this frequency at this time, pretty good catch! (Corrections welcome).

Anybody have any idea what the CW is on 9.330.5 @ 0424 UTC Monday?

I can actually hear it quite well on AM on my Yaesu with the outdoor antenna. The Icom using an indoor antenna receives it better on LSB.

Pittsburgh PA, signal is very strong with very deep fades at times.

No Amateur priveleges on 9.330, from what I can see.

Sounds mechanical, but I just get gibberish using CW GET.

WHO does come in ok all day in the Chicago area...........good signal. Since you are also in the Chicago area, try for WLW, 700kHz; 1520, for some station in southeast Missouri..........I haven't IDed it yet; 524kHz, the Iowa City aero beacon; WKAR, 870kHz, East Lansing Michigan; and finally, WOWO, 1190, Ft. Wayne, Indiana.
These are pretty easy to receive, except maybe the 524kHz station.

I notice that looking through the letters, that most of the CW decodes into blocks of 5 characters. A numbers equivalent station perhaps? (Apparently Cuban, see below.)

Unfortunately, attempts to copy the text results in the entire text being compressed without the spaces. The transmission just ended at 0439, with the following characters:
AR AR AR SKSKSK (these are spaced normally, as they are viewed in CW Get)

Soliloquy. See below, I found the following.

From http://www.dxing.com/intrg012.htm

MAY LOGGINGS in kHz order with comments and UTC date/time
13375 Cuban cut numbers. Went down with AR AR AR SK SK SK 15/1837

13420 Cuban cut numbers in CW. Down with AR AR AR SK SK SK 17/1936

Also mentioned on http://www.cvni.net/radio/nsnl/nsnl49ms.html Search for ar ar sk sk     on that page.

Greetings all:

Radio Nacional de Angola heard on 4950 at 2204 GMT 2/25 with talk in PT, telephone interview and positive station ID at 2207.  ID almost sounded Brazilian-style (shouting and pop music). A little bit of piano music afterwards. Fair signal but some deep fades.

Radio Brasil Central heard on 4985 2/25 at 2047 GMT with fair signal. Lotsa Brazilian music, echo station ID and many commercials, many for beer. Many mentions of their "onda tropical" frequency in IDs at 2100.

Radio Southern Highlands (Papua New Guinea) on 3275 heard on 2/26 at 1155 GMT with C&W music (of all things!). Horriby tinny modulation on this particular song (may have been a bad recording) and time check at 1159. On at 1210 GMT past normal sign off of 1200. As far as I can tell, the sign-off times vary according to the whims of the staff.

Radio Mauritania 4845 with fair signal at 1859 on 2/27 with FR/AR IDs and Arabic style wailing as well as African drumbeats.

Radio Myanmar 5040 at 1040 GMT 2/26 with female announcer and pop music. Has a version of "Swingin' Safari" by Billy Vaughn that they use as intro music to certain parts of the program. Positive ID at 1100. Some utility QRM.

AND FINALLY....

Bhutan Broadcasting Service on 6035 with good signal, but severe and horrible QRM from adjacents. Low modulation on the voice made this very hard to ID. Several mentions of Thimpu and EZL music in English. Positive station ID by female announcer at 1130 and then carrier stayed on, but programming went away. They are scheduled to stay on, so dunno what happened. Hope for a nice QSL out of this one!

Al

BUSH SHOWS TRUE COLORS
THE RED AND THE PINK

http://www.etherzone.com/2005/stang022505.shtml

By: Alan Stang

How dumb is the Republicrud Party? We are about to find out. Long before the election of 2000, I warned that the only difference between Bush and Clinton was the latter�s propensity to drop his pants and ask for sex, which the media used to divert attention from his treason with Red China.

I was wrong. Except for China, you can make a strong case that President Smirk is a lot worse than President Scumbag, and typically the same Communist media that protected one is protecting the other, while zombie Republicruds mindlessly scramble to explain him. Let�s go down the list.

How does a homosexual prostitute pretending to be a reporter worm his way into the White House Press Corps using an alias and stay there, lobbing softball questions at the President, for two years? Needless to say, Republicrud zombies and their media front men (Limbaugh, Hannity, etc.) are mystified.

The chronology tells us that the buggeree got into the White House soon after Nine Eleven when the District of Criminals became a city under siege. Is it reasonable to speculate that, in such an atmosphere, access to the President could be so easy and his security could be so incompetent? Is it possible that nobody knew? Or is it more likely that President Smirk and his people knew and saw nothing wrong?

Remember that Smirk is a flaming homosexualist (someone who may be "normal" yet advances the perversion). We see that in the recently released conversation surreptitiously recorded by Smirk�s former friend. We saw it the day after the recent election, when the biologically female "husband" of Vice President Smirk�s dildo daughter appeared on stage as a member of the immediate family.

People who keep score tell us that when it comes to appointing sodomites to top jobs, Smirk makes even Scumbag look like a "gay basher," which gives a meaning we didn�t expect to "bring them on." The sodomite media now taste blood. They are looking for other closet sodomites to "out," a reminder of the reason security experts always consider the perversion a disqualifying risk.

Of course, something similar happened in St. Ronald�s Republicrud White House, including credit card charges for sodomy rendered, except that there was no sodomizer posing as a reporter. And remember that the Communists are using organized sodomy as a weapon to destroy the moral foundations of the nation.

Word now arrives that Smirk is negotiating with the monsters we are fighting in Iraq�the monsters who have killed 1,400 of our men. The theory is that the monsters are killing them because we have wrecked the economy, so terrorism is the only work they can find, financed with the billions left over by Saddam.

So, what�s to negotiate? If you haven�t heard this yet, you will think you are insane when you do, but Smirk is apparently proposing to pay the monsters to stop the killing, kidnapping and beheading. Everyone else is on the federal payroll. Why not the terrorists in Iraq? Would they also get government health care and No Child Left Unbrainwashed for their kids? If so, we would still save money on the war.

This probably means that Himmler and Dr. Mengele were born too soon, but there is recent precedent for President Smirk�s revolutionary proposal. Remember that a couple of Soviet KGB generals have been working for Homeland Security and now they will be joined by Communist Marcus Wolfe, former head of the East German secret police, who no doubt will help perfect the new national identity card. Your papers please!

That identity card (a.k.a. driver license) will do nothing to fight terrorism � its alleged rationale. It continues the process of merging us with Canada and Mexico, on the way to world government, and certainly does nothing about Smirk�s pals in the Soviet Union and Red China, the world�s biggest sponsors of terrorism.

When Smirk took office, he proclaimed in almost as many words that there would be no more semen or intern knee prints on the Oval Office carpet. But now the former President Bush has linked the family name to the man his son was elected to reject. George New Vorld Order Bush (41) and Bill On Your Knees and Inhale My Cigar Clinton are an item.

They travel together, looking for tsunami victims to restore. Bush (41) even says he and Clinton have been friends a long time. What is happening? Is the Conspiracy for World Government thereby signaling that it has chosen Senator Hillaroid, the nation�s leading cause of lower back pain, to be our next President?

Notice also that the Communist media, left and right, from Limbaugh to the Communist Broadcasting System, are presently talking about how bad the UN is. But they love the UN. It is as Communist as they are. Until now it could do no wrong. Yet, now they tell us every day about the oil for food scandal, about teenage girls used as UN sex slaves, about the maladministration of Kofi Annan, etc.

But isn�t former President Scumbag doing all kinds of humanitarian things under the imprimatur of the UN? Why not pay Kofi off and send Scumbag to the rescue? As President of the world, he could nail as many nubile exotic females as a man with a bypass can catch. And Hillaroid would be President of the former United States.

Is that the plan? As always, my answer will be brief, direct and completely comprehensible. I don�t know. But if it makes no sense at all, why is the hair on the back of your neck standing up? Put your hand back there ma�am, and you will see I am right. We do know that Bush (41) is going out of his way to underline the connection. Need I add that Republicrud zombies are mystified?

Speaking of Clinton and Iraq, remember that candidate Smirk expressed displeasure about his predecessor�s "nation building," and gave us to understand he would stop it. Many Americans were ecstatic, because the U.S. government should not build any nation, including our own. Now Smirk wants even more money to build Iraq.

In the "read my lips" department is President Smirk�s suggestion that the present $90,000 cap on Social Security taxes be raised. Wouldn�t this amount to the tax increase Smirk said he would reject? Remember that Smirk�s father lost reelection for raising taxes after telling us he would not. "Read my lips." But of course Smirk no longer needs to worry about being reelected.

Since mass murderer Franklin Roosevelt, the Democrud Party has more and more become the party of big government. Clinton certainly was an advocate of that. President Smirk continues to smirk about Free Enterprise, about the new "Ownership Society," but he makes all preceding Democrud Presidents, including Clinton and even Johnson, look like Ebenezer Scrooge.

I could insert a few yards of statistical compost here to prove the point, but that would be redundant. You already know the numbers as well as I do. Under Smirk the budget has lost all meaning and could serve a real purpose only when you run out of Charmin. The dollar is collapsing.

Indeed, financial analyst Jim Turk�s new book is entitled The Coming Collapse of the Dollar. To get it call the American Opinion Bookstore of North Hollywood, 1 (800) 470-8783. What happens when the nations that presently buy U.S. paper decide to get off? They are now using it to buy our country out from under us. Soon the "dollar" no longer will be the world�s reserve currency.

Please name for me some area of life where the federal government under President Smirk does not intrude, and ask yourself whether a Democrud could have arranged this. Could Clinton have gotten away with it? No. Smirk has because he is a Republicrud and routinely mouths his enthusiasm for so-called Republicrud ideas. You are seeing the classic implementation of Marxist dialectical materialism, in which we are being whipsawed between two legs on the same bug.

Question: If a President were trying to bring us to our knees, what would he do? Yes, I know such a thought is unthinkable, intolerable and impossible. Think it however, just for a moment. Remain impassive so no one present knows what you are doing. If a U.S. President�s real agenda were to destroy this country, what would he do?

Obviously, he would have to do so with subterfuge. He could not announce his purpose. He would need to talk about Free Enterprise, about the Bible, about morality, about patriotism, about extending freedom around the world. That�s what he would say. Wouldn�t he do exactly what President Smirk is doing now?

Is there some point at which zombie Republicruds will awaken, some intolerable imposition that finally will remove the scales from their eyes and prove that Emperor Smirk is wearing a red dress? I doubt it, because they have made Smirk worship a religion. St. Smirk soon will occupy a hallowed position beside St. Ronald in the Republicrud pantheon.

Isn�t it inspiring, Pilgrim? That means the fate of the nation is up to you.

Some of those images could be lower-power rebroadcasting transmitters in nearby cities, couldn't they?

Only issue I had on MW with an S-350 when I had one was drift, mostly from the dial-string tuning mechanism.  I got a scrap bcl-2000 sitting around, got to try to modify it to use a geared mechanism on of these days.

Oh can we stop with the conspiracy theories already?

http://www.dxing.com/dxr.htm

UNIDENTIFIED. YOSEMITE SAM --- Glenn, I still have to wait until the FCC completes their investigation, but I can tell you that Yosemite Sam's transmissions did originate west of Albuquerque. There were more than one group of Amateur Radio Operators hunting. The information about where to start the hunt was provided by the FCC HF DF remote stations to the ARRL NM Official Observers and NM Section Manager. Both Amateur Radio DF hunt teams converged on Yosemite. One group had made contact and the transmitter was turned off. At this time, the FCC Enforcement Division has all of the information. I was part of the team that had made contact with Yosemite Sam, but I was not the team member who physically made contact (WA5WHN, Jay Miller, NM, Feb 21, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

Apparently a bunch of hams tracked the signal down and made contact with the guy who was running it.  That's all the info I can find so far.  Keep watching the ARRL and FCC websites to see if they post an enforcement letter.

Fall guy?  You must be joking.  If it really were a government operation, they wouldn't give a rat's ass about what the SWL community thought about it.

Check out http://www.dxing.com/dxr.htm

I would suggest you contact WA5WHN and ask him about it.

bubelah, one has to wonder re doc's scribblings and use of dead languages (as in his Romans series). My tendency is that doc did know it was going over people's heads partly because doc has pretty much the only arcane reference books in his museum and he has admitted, more than once, that he taught himself the dead languages.

Where else is someone to go to check him out?

I wasn't trying to have "one over" on anyone, 'tard boy. If I was, I wouldn't have posted a darn thing about it to begin with.

It's dumb ass 'tards like you who tend to screw things up with your idiocy, whilst those of us who try to post factual information have to bear the brunt of your drug induced fantasies.

Go tote it, 'tard.

What about your supporters on the group (non tards, I assume)? Don't they have a right to know too? Why are you withholding information from them just to get back at the tards? Does anything you say/do make any sense to anybody but you? Why do you post "LMAO at the tard" more often than you post substantive radio information? Why are you responding to everybody's posts immediately? Don't you have better things to do, like maybe a job? Even myself, who is currently unemployed, doesn't stay on usenet all day.

Well, fortunately for you he assisted someone who doesn't have all theirs.

That be YOU 'tard boy, in case you can't figure that out.

Thanks. It's about time that we had substantive info other than dxAce's

They're great folks.

Sure they do, generally they're smart enough to find it.

I'm reasonably certain that it does.

Think about it. Eventually it might make sense to you.

Why not?

I can do work like things right here on the puter, 'tard boy. Get with the information age.

I'm sure you have to take at least a little time off to have mommy help you with the meds. And I'm certain there are a few therapy sessions involved too.

Go tote that portable, 'tard boy.

That's as ridiculous as David Stinsons 'informed opinion'.

I'm sitting here still having a good laugh at the 'tard boys of shortwave.

I guess the thing that really surprises me about Y.S. is that (apparently) someone thought they could carry on a long-term operation like this and escape being caught.
That's the biggest thing that lead me to believe this might be an exercise of some kind by Uncle;
I didn't think anyone could be that foolish.
And what he was doing couldn't have been cheap;
it's not like an old CB and tape recorder could have pulled this off.
Of course, I'm just speculating;
we'll have to wait for all the facts,
but I freely admit to being surprised by this turn.

YS made his mistake by operating on 3700 as I pointed out before. That really set things in motion for his demise. If not for that, he may have been a fixture for some time, with a bit of prudence.

Lots of things are obviously surprises for you.

One other thing: For a fellow who ostensibly has an Extra Class license, you're not very bright.

But then again, with testing procedures as they are these days I'm not to surprised.

Checking the http://www.wbcq.com/ website they indicate that 7415 is back on.

Well, at least I'm usually right, and I don't have to subscribe to conspiracy theories!

I rely on facts.

Operating on the same frequencies as WWV and in a ham band were pretty bold moves. Even if YS hadn't done those things, the prominence of the signal (it was pretty strong on 3700-the freq in the ham band-in the morning here in California) would have meant that hams all over the US would be trying to track him down. Coordinating the signals like that took some doing; I'm assuming that this isn't your garden variety Hard Harry type pirate. All the signs pointed to it being a government operation. I'm quite surprised that it has turned out to be a pirate. There was quite a bit of time and I assume money invested by this person in YS, why he did it nobody can say at this time. Remember KIPM, the pirate who operated with a gazillion watts and never seemed to get caught? Alan Maxwell put a lot of effort into his operation as well, but at least he had something to say. YS just seems to have been done for kicks.

Yeah, that's the thing. He screwed up by operating on 3700. Granted, the operations on the WWV frequencies might generate a bit of interest, but there have been various operators (the majority I assume to be outside the USA) operating on the WWV freqs over the years.

The biggest mistake I can see with YS is that he operated on 3700 and then the ARRL
Intruder Watch got involved.

Myself and various other monitors resolved the location down to the desert SW of the USA in December. I think, unbeknownst to us at the time, that the Intruder Watch in conjunction with the FCC was already working on the situation.

I am proud of the fact that I was able to resolve the location down to the general area at the time using simple antennas and communicating with various other monitors around the USA.

My general feeling at the time was that it was in extreme Western Texas, Northern New Mexico, or possibly Southern Colorado.

That was based upon other monitoring reports, and my own observations here of fade
in
fade out times while observing the grey line.

It was fun.

That's my story, and I'm sticking with it!

7415 is where I believe I heard the fellow from NY (Seems it was Brooklyn instead of NYC) on Monday night at 8:00 pm est, 01:00 UTC Tue. AM.

He says he's a Jew.  He has a foul mouth, per some people's perspectives.  Says he pays -- GET THIS -- $4000 Taxes on his house, AND THAT IS FOR ONLY SIX MONTHS - and he says, "It doesn't even have a basement."

BUT he makes a lot of sense on a lot of things.   Don't recall his name, but he calls his program THE RIGHT PERSPECTIVE.

Might be worth hearing if you can put up with the language.

I think I also heard him on Friday (?) night on WWCR 5070 in Jackie Patru's time slot - except she never had Fridays.

I'm getting 7415 now but not too clearly.  I blame local "noise" and an insufficient antenna on my end for that - at least for the radio beside me now.

Probably a good chance of that, however he'll still have to check in via the usual ATC frequencies as well.

and what if you don't have an email address?

I know several people who don't.

I guess they simply wouldn't get a QSL.

Where are you located?  I've head quite good BBC to americas, BBC to Africa, Australia to pacific, Japan, China and a few others for the past 10 days or so.  I'm at 53N 102W, in Saskatchewan.  Listening with an R75 and 100m (~110 yds) of wire.  Most of this listening is around 0400 and then again round about 1200 UTC. (evening and morning here locally)

Then you just send them a snail mail report:

Radio New Zealand International, P.O.Box 123, Wellington
New Zealand.

I think they require some return postage these days.

There might be something about that at:

Visit the following link, for an unbiased dissertation on Propaganda, the word. Anyone that believes that the U.S. is not actively involved in propaganda, I have some prime seaside land for sale on mars. It's quite juvenile to assert that the U.S. is somehow as pure as the wind driven snow concerning propaganda. Please visit the link and see how propaganda has shaped history over the ages. Plenty of pictures for those of you that are alphanumerically challenged.

Dr. Artaud

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Propaganda
"Propaganda is a specific type of message presentation aimed at serving an agenda. At its root, the denotation of propaganda is 'to propagate (actively spread) a philosophy or point of view'. The most common use of the term (historically) is in political contexts; in particular to refer to certain efforts sponsored by governments or political groups.

The aim of propaganda is to actively influence people's opinions, rather than to merely communicate the facts about something. For example, propaganda might be used to garner either support or disapproval of a certain position, rather than to simply present the position. What separates propaganda from "normal" communication is in the subtle, often insidious, ways that the message attempts to shape opinion. For example, propaganda is often presented in a way that attempts to deliberately evoke a strong emotion, especially by suggesting non-logical (or non-intuitive) relationships between concepts.

An appeal to one's emotions is, perhaps, more obvious a propaganda method than utilized by some other less overt and perhaps even more insidious forms. For instance, propaganda may be transmitted implicitly. Propaganda can be transmitted as the presupposition or presuppositions within an ostensibly fair and balanced debate or argument. This can be done to great effect in conjunction with a broadcast news format. Here is an example of a hypothetical situation in which the opposing view points are supposedly represented: the hawk (see: hawkish) says, "we must stay the course", and the dove says, "The war is a disaster and a failure", to which the hawk responds, "In war things seldom go smoothly and we must not let set backs affect our determination", the dove retorts, "setbacks are setbacks, but, failures are failures." As one can see, the actual validity of the war is not discussed and is never in contention. In giving the appearance of representing opposing positions and view points, a debate (of what is really aspects of the actual, genuine, argument worthy issue) in which the debaters argue from the same basic assumptions, implicitly inculcates the presupposition(s) as sacrosanct truth, thus, establishing it as an accepted fact about the given issue for ignorant observers.

The method of propaganda is essential to the word's meaning as well. A message does not have to be untrue to qualify as propaganda. In fact, the message in modern propaganda is often not blatantly untrue. But even if the message conveys only "true" information, it will generally contain partisan bias and fail to paint a complete and balanced picture. Another common characteristic of propaganda is volume (in the sense of a large amount). For example, a propagandist may seek to influence opinion by attempting to get a message heard in as many places as possible, and as often as possible. The intention of this approach is to a) reinforce an idea through repetition, and b) drown-out or exclude any alternative ideas.

In English, the word "propaganda" usually carries strong negative (as well as political) connotations. This is not necessarily so in other languages, and usage of the term may lead to misunderstanding in communications with non-native English speakers. For example, in Brazil and some Spanish language speaking countries, particularly in the Southern Cone, the word "propaganda" usually means the most common manipulation of information�"advertising.""

Go back and read the post, 'tard. I never mentioned 'portable' in the post you responded to.

Are you 'second class'? I don't know. But I do know that you are obviously a 'tard without a dog in this fight.

Go tote it.

i like the idea of the smaller loop inside the larger one. the frame is for an edge winding like a box loop. i could do a spiral winding for the sw loop inside, then the nulls would be at 90 degree angles to help avoid interaction. my purpose is to have both sw and bcb available on the same antenna lead because my radio uses the same ant input jack for both sw and bcb antennas. i want one portable package that eliminates the need to change plugs to go from sw to bcb. i can mount a switch to drop the variable across the winding i need and save wear and tear on my plugs. thanks for your thoughts!

Here's an idea for your talk show:

You go to Mem-Town and visit with the "sistahs".  You know .. like profit Stair did.  An undercover assignment - no pun intended.

Then report about it on your talk show.

Tell us about what it was like being treated like a profit.  By TaMeka and RaSheka and LaReka and MaWanda and LaTanda and RaShanda.

TV news are toast!  The subject content is never in depth and almost always leaves out critical facts, details.  Even FOX news is inadequate.

The unfortunate situation is that the vast majority of the American public has no time to READ!  Dual income families and shuttling the kids to and fro after school activities makes the 30 minute news program the limit of info consumption.

It is the fortune few who have the time and wits to search the internet for alternative in-depth coverage.  The only exception to good domestic current event news on the air is John Bachelor of WABC radio 770KHz (M-F @10PM EST) in New York City - superb in-depth current event coverage.  I also enjoy WGN radio 720KHz (M-F @10PM EST) in Chicago for a wide range of in depth subjects.

I turn the TV off with just a few exceptions.

The memory functions on the 909 are outstanding. Aside from that, it's performance leaves alot to be desired. It's good that someone has figured out a way to make it perform a little more respectably. I would think instead of dumping cold-cash into one of these prima-donnas, the thing to do would be to buy a satellit 800. Darren

With such logic why not hand over the entire U.S. government to the foreign intelligence services.
Intelligence is to be provided to individuals on a "NEED TO KNOW" basis.
I bestow trust in my elected officials and military to uphold the security of sensitive intelligence for the sake of national security.  If those elected officials fail in that trust it is my duty to elect someone who will.  I don't trust so called third party "independent" organizations with links and funding from dubious sources - including left wing and communist leanings.

The NSA can say, "This is government documentation - you be the judge." This can be maintained under the knowledge that CIA and other security agencies will never declassify all of their documents because it is precisely the most revealing documents that need to be most carefully guarded. The unknowing researcher relying on the NSA for documentation of the conflict in South America during the 1970s, for example, is faced with a one-sided portrayal of the difficulties faced by the U.S. government in combating communist infiltration. Equivalent documentation of atrocities committed by leftist groups would give the researcher reason to consider why the United States supported certain regimes to preempt communist takeover of Latin America. But "objectivity" here is a ruse. The word is cover for covert propagandizing.

A Congressional Committee headed by Fred Thompson (R-TN) produced reams of evidence indicting the entire Democratic National Committee apparatus in abetting a massive shakedown of U.S. security. A Los Alamos scientist, Wen Ho Lee, was found by the FBI to have downloaded the equivalent of 400,000 pages of nuclear design and testing information. Then-FBI Director Louis Freeh testified, ".the Department of Justice and the FBI stand by each and every one of the 59 counts in the indictment of Dr. Lee. Each of those counts could be proven in December 1999, and each of them could be proven today." Lee was subsequently released because the FBI could not reveal in court the evidence indicting Lee without compromising key national security information and sources. But that is less important to the NSA than revisiting anecdotal exchanges by Hungarian commissars circa 1956.

If YS has been ID'ed as a Pirate, could you provide post a URL link to the story? I would be very interested to read this.

Here is another VERY curious Blog thread on YS - one that perhaps sheds some light on the mysterious data burst heard at the beginning of his transmissions.  Check it out below!

Listening with an R75 and 100m (~110 yds) of wire.  Most of this listening is around 0400 and then again round about 1200 UTC. (evening and morning here locally)

I'm listening around 0300 on 5975 and 9525 khz. I keep getting a racket on 9525 that drowns out the BBC that must be coming from somewhere in my immediate vicinity. Someone suggested dimmer switches, and while I don't have any I can't speak for any of the neighbors. 5975 seems to come in good, although it has a level of noise that makes it necessary to listen with SSB. I'm located in Sacramento, California, about 90 miles inland from San Francisco. I'm using a FRG-8800 with about 50 feet of wire. I haven't tried any of BBC's other streams. Maybe I'll do that tonight.

I was listening to the start of Radio Havana's second hour at 0200 on 9820 when they announced three frequencies: 6000, 9820 and what sounded like 11705. Passport doesn't have them listed on 11705 at 0200. I tuned there but all I heard was a carrier. Has anybody heard them on 11705 after 0100 nights local time in North America?

I couldn't memorize 1 wpm of Morse code in the Boy Scouts, doubt that it is going to happen 35 years later ;-) I'm on the air for the USCG and they don't care if we know code or not. A smaller and smaller number of older chiefs and officers who were hams for a hundred years still know code in the guard - not much interest in it or radio in general by younger generations, even when they operate them for a living. Computer networking is what drives the communication business today, the radios themselves seem a small, mostly forgotten part of it.

Sorry to have gotten off-topic with the longwire - for listening it is certainly the most forgiving of any configuration imaginable.

As a general rule it is a really BAD idea to intrude onto ANY frequency assigned to hams.  We are somewhat protective of our shrinking radio spectrum and will defend it strongly.
As an example, in 1980 or 81 the "Greatfull Dead" gave a concert in Rupp Arena. Too bad for them their roadies used 70cM ham HTs to communicate.
Within minutes they where warned to leave the 70cM hamm band. They laughed at the hams. A really dumb idea. Every ham in the area with 70cM radios joined in the fun. We held an series of nets. As the roadies tried to switch freqs we followed. The concert started very late. They had to borrow HTs  from security to get anything done.
Were our actions illegal jamming?
No.

The intruders had no rights.
If this had been a life or death stituation, hams would  have gladly helped. Around the same time a young lady  had her boyfriends HT to listen to the gang. About 11:00PM she came on and said she felt "real bad" and couldn't get  off the couch to reach the telephone to call 911. We instantly brought up the 911 autopatch, had her explain the situation.  EMS  was dispatched and her boy friend was told to head for the hospital to meet her.  The surgeons removed her apendix and nothing was said about her "illegal" use of her boy friend's HT. Because it wasn't illegal.
Set up shop on any ham frequency at your own risk.
It might take them a while to locate you.
But keep in mind that a lot of hams love to find low powered, and sometimes mobile, foxes with transmitters. Compared to the task of tracking down a fox, an idiot running a stationary high  powered signal is hunting in a baited field.
As another exaple we had a stranger show up on the 76 repeater one afternoon. Trying to chat with the female IDer. It was clear that  he wasn't a ham, and likely had a stolen rig. We adopted CB handles, but IDed every 10 minutes with our call letters. This brain trust even agreed to meet wtih some of us.  A cop who was also a ham joined the party. After some converstion the idoit offered to sell us the  "funny" CB. He brought it in, and it had a set of call letters engraved. A quick check of the Callbook gave us the owners address. The cop was able to get his dispatch to track the owner down. And sure enough the rig had been stolen. His police faxed a copy of the report and the cop arrested the idiot. And when the searched the car they found a lot of loot. The theif went away for a long time. Transporting stolen guns and a trunk full of weed across state lines is a really, extremely bad idea.

Don't mess with hams unless you are very smart.
Or want to have the FCC visit you some night.
Terry

Thanx Clif and Pete..

Pete, did you remove the "nospam" from my email when you replied to me?

regards,

I'm waiting for that new dictionary to come out 'tard boy. The one that has an entry for CanaDuh. It'll have your picture next to it.

Now go take your meds, you bozo 'tard.

SIDE-BY-SIDE PAIR OF LOOP ANTENNAS AM/MW & SHORTWAVE :
You might try Making the Width (Spreader Arms) Wider and have an Inch or Two separation between the two Loops.  Try Three to Five Turns as a Starting Point for the Shortwave Loop Antenna.
CONCENTRIC PAIR (Big-&-Small) LOOP ANTENNAS AM/MW & SHORTWAVE :
Instead of a Pair of Side-by-Side Loops.   Consider having your 'smaller' Shortwave Loop Antenna inside the Larger AM/MW Broadcast Band Loop Antenna.  If your AM/MW Loop is 18" on a Side then try making the Shortwave Loop between 13" to 15" on a Side and try Three to Five Turns as a Starting-Point.

THE BETTER SHORTWAVE LOOP ANTENNA IDEA :
The better idea may be to make a separate Shortwave Loop Antenna using Coax Cable.  A Single Turn Shielded Loop Antenna can work very well as an In-Door Low Noise Shortwave Antenna where an Out-Side Antenna is not allowed or where there is a high local RFI / EMF Noise Environment.
NOTE - Use your MW Loop Antenna by itself for the AM/BCB Band.
The "GreerTech" Coax Cable [Shielded] Loop Antenna is good and very practical.

It was widely heard in the east and midwest, but apparently just wasn't making it your way.

7100 kHz.  One person wrote to tell me it is 100,00W  Every source I've checked says 1000W.  Anyone know for sure?

There is a possibility that it is 10 kW vs. 100 kW. However, it is unclear whether that 10 kW transmitter is still in service. They do apparently have a newer 100 kW transmitter which was installed in 1996.

LMAO at the 'tard!

> So.... where's the link to all this new information?

No links to the information will be provided by myself to the 'tard boys.

Suffice it to say that I've read it online via several sources, and I took it upon myself to contact two of the amateurs who were involved in assisting the FCC in tracking down Yosemite Sam.

I'm fairly certain that at some point the FCC will release some information regarding their enforcement action. It is in their hands now.

You can believe that or not, but Yosemite Sam was indeed busted on February 16 around 1800 MST, 0100 February 17.

You have yourself a nice day, 'tard.

STEVE,
That is a very good suggestion, to use the Bamboo Pole to extend the Wire Antenna Element beyond the Building's RFI / EMF Envelop and let it 'hang down' from "Out-There".
PINOT,
1.  Mount the Matching Transformer on the Far-End
(Out-Side) of the Bamboo Pole.
2.  Use a Coax Cable from the Radio out to the Matching Transformer.
3.  Use a Wire Antenna Element that Drops Down 23 Feet to 35 Feet.

Why am I not surprised?
Perhaps you just made it all up, since you haven't had a good reason to show your ass lately.
Maybe you were probably suffering from "Acting Like a Jerk" withdrawal and just cooked-up this story to have an excuse to be a rude prick again.

You know, they have medicine that will help you with that...

I'm sure you take it all the time, 'tard.

You're right though. I just sit here all day long and make things up.

It was a replay of a tape.  I thought most people would figure that out since he had passed over.  No. I don't know that they were his last words.  Like Christ, he may have said, "It is finished!"  :-)  I'm not sure if that tape was from the previous Sunday or some other time.

WBCQ 7415 is off the air. We're experiencing transmission line problems and seventy mile per hour winds at the transmitter site. We will address this problem as soon as possible.

Effective immediately all 7415 programming will be switched over to 5105. Our 7415 webcast remains available and online.

We apologize for the incovenience, and we'll do our best to get 7415 back online as soon as possible. Take care and be well.

Wonder how long it might take to get back up again? I think they normally s/on at 2000 on 7415.

Lloyd,

I don't mean to be rude (believe it or not!  ;-) ) but if you'd do a cut and past of the previous message (or set up you mailer to automatically quote the previous message) we'd get a better idea as to who you are referring to here. You can always delete the unwanted part after getting it into your mail editor.

If your message was intended for me because I posted "I doubt ANY of Gene's air time will be given up in the immediate future.  Neither do I expect ANY of R.G. Stair's time to be immediately surrendered upon his passing over to the other side!   :-) ," you must have misread it.  I do not WISH anyone dead, even some of the smart alecks on r.r.s., BUT it is a reality - we ALL ARE GOING TO DIE.   It's an appointment you nor I can avoid even if we wished or attempted to avoid it.

I mentioned Stair because someone else had mentioned both Gene and R.G. having a lot of air time -- and it possibly being "freed up" at their passings.

So long as Stair can continue to 'get it on' with the destitute young girls on his 'farm,' I suspect his heart will find a way to keep on ticking.

Adventurer Steve Fossett is set to leave Salina, Kansas this afternoon at 3 PM local time (2100 GMT) on his round the world trip.

He'll be heading east...

Not sure what frequencies or callsign will be in use at this time, though I have put out some enquiries. The aircraft is GlobalFlyer VS101.

Thank you Bubelah.

You put exactly what I was thinking

Daniel Webster proud.....!

I imagine those in attendance went straight from the funeral to the Oscars for one heck of a party! (grin)

Please allow me buy you a complimentary beer

Schmucks is right.....the devoted following seems to have lost sight of one of the well-known stories we all learned in Sunday School - of Jesus overturning the tables of the money changers on the steps of the Temple - overcharging for the animals used for sacrifice and the changing of monies to local currency - all at usurious rates.  God is FREE.  One cannot buy their way into heaven nor into the graces of God and we ride in no human's coattails.  A good leader is to be sought but not at the price of one's finances and emotional wellbeing

It is good to hear a useful message every week and useful to learn of historical, earlier versions of the text as indeed many words got changed during the process of translating Aramaic to whatever and in turn to modern languages.  Sometimes intentional but usually not, anymore than I when I translate English into Spanish or vice-versa  I surely don't intend to mis-translate a word but one must account for colloquialisms and it happens to the best of us.  Scott and some other preachers make those errors in translation sinister but those those old timers were no different thanb scholars of today and I'm sure most were human error.

However, I would be very surprised if more than 1/8th of the audience truly had a clue about his scribblings.  I am no idiot and I was clueless most of the time.  It's just like the fairy tale the "Emporer's New Clothes": I am sure 80% of the audience didn't want the rest of the  audience to know it was all a muddle to them.

I haven't made up my mind as to whether Scott actually believed his captive audience really understood since they were browbeaten into yelling "Yes Sir!" and it stroked his inflated ego or he did know it was going over their heads and it was merely a chance to display his "book larnin'" as a a fellow who knew all this stuff and had nowhere to put it where it might do some good.  Surely he would not give up his own personal goldmine to lecture at some University on a professor's pay!

P.S. RF - glad you liked my diatribe but if you saw me you would say, "That woman doesn't need fine Scotch, what that woman needs is a good, homemade, 2-layer German Chocolate cake!"  :o)

How come nobody else on this group has found your "several sources" that you claim reported it?

If they did, would you link to the notice of apparent liability? Or would you tell us tard boys to find it ourselves?

Prove it. Post links to the sources that reported the bust. Or should we just conclude that you're making the whole thing up?

It used to be that I could hear morning prayers from Saudi Arabia on 15170 starting around 0300-Passport says it's a three hour broadcast, but it usually fades out around 0430-0500 as the sun rises over Saudi Arabia. So I tried it last night, and there was nothing. I tried SSB, and there was no hint of a signal. I used to listen to this station every so often for a while after 9-11, but I hadn't tuned in in about a year to a year and a half. It would be weak but readable, but conditions have been so terrible lately that I'm not surprised that I can't hear it. What a winter-I've barely been able to hear the BBC, much less anything not beamed my direction.

Does anybody have times and frequencies for Radio Sawa and Radio Farda on shortwave? I used to listen in on 9805 after 0300 to Sawa (beamed from Morocco to Iraq) but Passport says they're not on then anymore.

They simply have to let the FCC develop their case. I'm fairly certain that at some point the FCC will release the information as to what the charges are, fine to be imposed, etc.

It just tkes a bit of time. After all, it's only been about 12-13 days since the bust.

Yes, thanks - and for those incapable of "point and click" the request is for two IRC's to accompany the report.

Might be easier to send the $2 that they request. How much are IRC's these days?
I haven't used them in years, preferring the 'green stamp' route', and typically I'd only send one.

Technically, it is "-- " (note the space) that indicates the start of a signature in conforming message.  I forget the actual RFC that suggests this, but it is not RFC2822 (or friends.)

I'm reasonably sure I've heard RHC on /something/ like 11705.  I don't my own logs or passport handy, so this is from my poor memory.

Info here (and printed schedule) has shown them using 11760 (amongst others).

The "Posted via Newsfeeds.Com" signature is tacked on by the usenet server farm that my little mom and pop ISP uses. I have no control over it. I have no way to NOT include this as part of the message. I apologize for any inconvenience this may cause, but like I said this bit of self promotion on the server farm's part is automatically included in every message that I post by the usenet provider.

Yes, but it's not listed as being on after 0100 in English to NAm.

You might be right.  The cost seems to vary - the ones I'd sent to Guatemala recently were around 75 cents, if memory serves (and it doesn't always anymore ;-), and the IRCs for Sri Lanka were a buck more than that.  When I purchased them, the PO wanted to know the specific nation, and the IRC had the nation and value printed on it.

If they want two, there's probably a good chance that they intend to send along more than just a QSL postcard.

That's interesting. I recall them as simply being generic, but then it's been many years since I've purchased any.

Well, here it is, (0:00 UTC Tuesday) and I thought I'd kill the time before Radio Netherlands finishes the news with a rerun of the start of Radio Australia's "The Science Show". Huh, what the heck is "In The Loop".

OOOOPS. They just made some rather major changes to their schedule. (As of Monday, Feb. 28).

The major one, as far at this newsgroup is concerned, is that 'The Planet', the music show that used to be on at 13:00 has gone off shortwave. As has "Bush Telegraph", a rural affairs show.

And the 00:00 hour long current events/and or science shows are now at 04:00 and the half hour "reports" are moved from 1:30 to 3:30. Which may be ok in the summer, but for the North America winter, will take them out of hearing, at least for that time slot. There's usually at least one repeat of most shows, but...

It looks like dropping some third repeats of serious stuff for some froth, like "In the Loop", and "Saturday Night Country".

I don't remember when he was there, just that he was logged there, posted to that effect, and among others, I copied some of his interference there too.

Hmm, and why would a person think a NAZI site might be offensive?

You really are a true scumbag AL.

Lawsuit? Get some legislation in place to regulate these bad boys? I never realized the benefits of having Siberia-like winters. This has cheered my day (which is a good thing as we start our 5th month of winter). Last year the ice left the lakes second week of June. Yes, I want cheese with my whine!

They're doing it by cell phone signal or something so far here, which is very expensive. I can't imagine satellite is cheap right now.

Regarding poor countries, I heard a RN broadcast about a Swiss company that does "micro loans" of usually less than $1000, which is used to finance a cell phone and in some cases a tower for poor villages. The cell phone owner and money borrower than sells air time to the other villagers. They call the city and determine when to market their produce, and call their overseas relatives without having to travel to a town with a landline. I would think the next logical step would be internet access via micro loan. This sort of thing sounds so sensible to me.

I'm more convinced than ever that it's the noise you don't really notice that makes life difficult. I've been waging a war against noise for some time now. I started using a Wellbrook loop, which helped a lot with noise. I attached ferrite cores to all the cables and power cords in my home, which helped more. I compared my reception when running on AC with the my reception when running off an external power supply, and found that the external power supply actually increased my noise level (can't win 'em all). Next, I compared my reception when using AC power to my reception when using battery power, and found that the battery brought my noise down YET AGAIN. In each of these cases, I didn't know beforehand what, if anything, would result from changing my setup. In most cases the results were positive and I'm glad I took the time to experiment with them.

The moral is: If you think you don't have a noise problem, suspend this assumption just long enough to experiment a bit. You might be surprised at the improvement that's possible! The steps that helped me probably won't help everyone, especially those who live in environments that are less noisy then mine. Still, I'll bet that most people would benefit from at least one of these steps.

Steve

Hmmm... the only logs I've seen were that of 3700, 4300, 6500, 10500 and of course the WWV operations.

No, it's not. But you aren't really asking the question, are you Al?

you wished you could write it..

I love how you guys pick quotes here and there out of space, or wherever, that are racist BS, and then say "Look at how the ___________s (just fill in the race/religion) are? Your world is literally black and white, full throttle and idle, on/off, etc. You don't see any shades of anything, except race, of course.

So what, he's just another kook on the opposite side from you. Who care what the moron says. He's probably saying stuff like this to get a reaction, and he did. I love the Race Traitor Magazine shot, it shows what kind of person it was that wrote it.

Taken out of context, I'm sure, and he's probably talking about a "white peoples party", or something similar.

I knew it wouldn't be the insane amount of commercials..something sane.

What do you do, count them? Damn, you really need to get a life. Why are you so jealous of jews? I could see it, IF they just got their jobs out of high school, and didn't go to college and work their way up (nepotism doesn't count), but you know, they seem to work hard as a rule, and that's why they are successful.

Of course the "Glorps" would probably laugh at your insanity, and say, "But almost all the Jews are white..what is the problem?" And then you would have to explain all the crazy shit you believe, and the aliens WOULD kill off us whites, due to a cracker's insane remarks.

I know and knew a couple like that. One was a postal worker, his wife was a teacher. They raised 4 successful kids, who's kids seem to be doing well. And whites and hispanics too.

Real-life Blacks tend to be stupid, hostile, lazy, fat,

I knew/know a couple like that too. Also whites and hispanics, so? There are trash of every color.. Lots of reasons to dislike people other than color.

Oh, give me a break!  Don't even begin to

There are some, but not a lot, but there are some out there.

Because they were/are the primary target of your insane hatred, and were screwed over for a long time. The jews have power, you can't fuck with them, all you can do is wail about how the are plotting this and that, and whining about how white people are being picked on....wahhhh!

> And why do Jews seem never to White trash needs cleaning up. Like any other trash. The jews are too smart for you.

LOL, you really do count them!

"Hey Junior, you can't watch this show, there are too any blacks in authority positions on it. We like our blacks to play pimps and janitors in this house!"

"Aw Dad, why do you have to be so weird?"

LOL, why should what two actors, or real people do bother you? Oh, it's that old "race mixing" stuff, isn't it? Cry again...boo hoo!

> The commercials came hot and heavy during the movie, of course. I was most struck by Burger King's commercials, which presented a musical cast overwhelmingly composed of Black cowboys, Black women and several beautiful blonde White women. In fact, I notice that not one single TV commercial these days gets by without a significant Black presence, usually anywhere from one-third to one-half the participants. No more Burger King for the Steele household, folks: If I see Black, I don't go back. Let them make it on their Black clientele, which is what seems most important to them.

"I'm sorry Timmy, we can't go to Burger King anymore!"

"But why Mom?"

"Well, your Daddy saw too many negroes dancing with white women in the ad on TV last night"

"Huh? Daddy's weird!"

"I know honey, I'll take you to Burger King when Daddy is at work sometime"

"Daddy's a kook, isn't he Mommy?"

"You said it Honey!"

I don't but stuff by what race they have doing the ads, someone who does is..not too smart, to say the least.

> We wouldn't have minded if they had kept it proportional. We wouldn't have minded seeing 12% Blacks in commercials and movies. We wouldn't have minded seeing a little overrepresentation in management and professional roles, either, but this has gotten totally out of hand. I am particularly offended by the media's portrayal of White women with Black men. Now I want to see it the way it used to be: all White. That's what it will take to win me back. Until then, I won't watch and I won't play and I won't pay. Get your Black viewership to support you for a change.

LOL, so what was the percentage of blacks last week on CBS? Times have changed, you can't go back to the good old days when you could lynch a black guy for looking at a white woman. It must kill you not to be able to get away with that shit anymore.. Dem negroes is too uppity now, aint they?

So don't watch. I personally could give a shit about 99% of sports, but if you don't understand why so many black people are playing, then you have other issues you need to address.

Good riddance. There aren't that many of you, almost all of you have woken up a little bit. And the rest of you belong to groups probably being monitored by the FBI, in case you decide to get totally crazy.

I've got 4 90 minute cassette tapes here of Voyager I. A lot of dead air on each one of course!

I recall picking them up off the east coast of Africa, and being able to hear them off the coast of California before they landed.

The frequency you probably heard mentioned was 17.705 in Portuguese from 2200 GMT 2330 GMT and in Guarni from 2330 GMT to 2400 GMT then Quecha from 0000 GMT to 0030 GMT.This was per the B04 schedule of Radio Habana Cuba.

The A05 schedule starts this Spring so watch for frequency changes in an upward direction.  Good Listening and DX!!!

I haven't brought it up, but if you go here:

http://www.virginatlanticglobalflyer.com/MissionControl/Tracking/

And in the lower right it mentions Mixed Feed... try and check that out.

And what words of wisdom would you have for the "Jew" who wrote the following statement?

"Keep bashing the dead white males, and the live ones, and the females, too, until the social construct known as the white race is destroyed. Not deconstructed, but destroyed."

Hmm, and why would a person think a NAZI site might be offensive?

You really are a true scumbag AL.

He's actually a teacher at the Massachusetts College of Art.  It's not exactly news that there are college campuses full of head cases out there, Al.  Ol' Mr. Ignatiev is not going to change the world with his ranting, and, you know what?  You're not doing this newsgroup any favors by posting this stuff here.  Maybe you and Noel can get together some time and duke it out.  Just don't report back here about it, all right?

About 15 years ago we hasd a nasty ice storm.
Knocked out the AC mains, telephone, and cable TV for 3 days.
I was amazed at how quite it got.
I was operating from a couple of GellCells, kept charged off by a  a small PV (solar cell) array.
Other then freezing my but off, it was great fun.
Since I normally only go on camping/mine DX-epditions in the late summer and early fall, it was much wquiter at home then I had ever exeprienced in the deep woods.
I could hear the igniton noise from the highway about 1 mile away!
I had very mixed feelings when they brought our power back on.
I was tired of the cold, but reslly enjoyed the quite.
I have done all that I can to reduce the RFI that I produce.
I have bypassed all the AC mains outlets, bypassed teh AC mains where it enteres the breaker box, used lots of RFI suppresion ferrite "beads" on all the active electronics, imporved my ground system as much as I can, and use the best (lowest noise) antenna that I can currently afford. Since I had a glimsp of what true radio quite conditions were, I had the incentive to do what I could.
It made a big difference. But, alas it is a far cry from the quite
I had for a few days. Given the omnipresent man made electrical noise around most American cities, I suspect that very few of us get to see just how sensitive our receivers really are.

I think there was a thread recently where someone wanted a link to a "screwdriver mobile antenna".
Found this while looking for NiMH cells.

I just purchased 30 on Saipan the other day.  The brand new ones are about the size of your typical QSL card AND expire on 31 DEC 2006.

I guess the UPU was trying to stop people from hoarding them and using them as currency or for trade.

AND what's more, the buggardly things now cost $1.75 (printed on them). They are bar-coded too.... The old 80 cent jobbies are history, I guess. I only sent 1 to RNZ, and at a buck seventy-five, that ought to be enough to airmail me a stinkin' card!

Michael - Can you pick up WFLA, Orlando, on 540?  I found that station pretty useful during the hurricanes except, of course, for local info.  I live in Lakeland and can pick them up even in the daytime.  WFLA 970 in Tampa is stronger here and they had decent storm-related info too.  But none of the powerhouse stations are in a position to serve the Ocala area with local news.  One source you could check out is the local ham emerg. net on VHF.  Their traffic usually includes info on supplies being delivered to aid stations as well as general storm and survival-related info.

BTW, how much do you pay for broadband internet?  I pay $40/month for Road Runner.  I believe XM radio is "only" $10.95/month.  I am tempted to try it since I am in my car a good portion of my work day and there is zero on AM radio that interests me.  FM is almost as bad.

Regards,

Greg

Jackie Patru with Sweet Liberty is back on at her regular time - 9:00 PM
EST / 02:00 UTC on WWCR 5070 KHz.  I believe last week when I heard Pastor Peters on her time slot it was on Thursday when Jeff Bennett was already filling her slot. Don't know what the full situation is.
Perhaps Pastor Pete was just filling in for Jeff.

I do well with 6005 Africa stream which I think starts at 0500 and also 6135.  I also get RN from Sackville nicely on 6165.

I've read about "broadband over powerlines".  If I have this right, this is internet signal on electric wires.  Don't know it that has actually started to happen down there - we're not proposed for that here.  We have deeply buried utilities (water, sewer, electric, phone, cable).  They have to put these down deep enough so that they don't freeze, which means we are well shielded from interference.  These are down about 3 metres or almost 10 feet.  One of the few benefits of these long winter nights, though today was actually great, at about -8C / 18 F.  I can tell when my one neighbour is vacuuming however and running the something else, I think may be a blender.  I may ask and do an experiment....

Well, the most dangerous part of the flight is over = the take off fully loaded with fuel seems successful.
Hope you guys can catch a recording of the flight, as the flightpath lies far from my QTH.
Very exciting!
See BBC http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/sci/tech/4304179.stm seems one of the most difficult things will be NOT running out of fuel

See also:
http://www.centennialofflight.gov/essay/Explorers_Record_Setters_and_Daredevils/rutan/EX32.htm
I was lucky enough to get a recording of Dick Rutan and Jeanna Yeager in Voyager passing over Central Africa in December 1986 on their world record breaking flight. A very difficult task in those days as technology was nowhere near as advanced as it is today.

Sure hope one of you can get a recording of GlobalFlyer -> let us know if you do

I took my own advice and asked WA5WHN about it via email, and he's being tight-lipped about it, insinuating that the FCC will be doing something about it soon or at least issuing a statement sometime in the future.  So ignore what I said, I don't think that Mr. Miller wants any more email about the subject.  I guess we'll have to wait & see what comes.

Agreed, stay away from the ham bands if you want to pirate. Frankly, I don't care what you do outside of the ham bands, as long as you're not interfering with air traffic control comms or safety-of-life channels. But you'd better know what you're doing when you set up shop on unauthorized frequencies.

Which the very fact that this guy was located & shut down negates the whole "the FCC must be turning a blind eye" theory. My question is why did someone feel it necessary to put the station on the air in the first place? Well I suppose the FCC will be asking the same questions.

Isn't that one of those brand name (Sangean) radios that has a nasty habit of the LED read outs fadeing out and when they do,ccrane company charges about $50.00 to do a repair job on them? I bought one of those ccrane radios that Art OHHHH MY GAWDDDD Bell and George NOOKY Noory tout so much from ccrane company about seven years ago and the over rated piece over priced of plastic JUNK didn't show me shit! I sent that piece of Shit back to ccrane company and then I bought an ATS-909 piece of Shit from ccrane company and that over rated over priced piece of Shit JUNK Crap! didn't show me Shit either and I sent that piece of Crap back to ccrane company too.(I don't doubt ccrane company still has records/data of my purchases and returns to them) I will Never,Ever buy anything from ccrane JUNK company again,I don't give a damn what folks say about them.

Our utilities out here were run by morons. No grounds (eventually grounds were put in), cheap materials. RF sources abound. A couple years ago there was an arcing transformer on one of the poles. So I DF it and tell SMUD (local electric company) all about it, and nothing was done because the girl on the phone had no clue what I was talking about. A few months later that transformer blew, plunging the whole area into darkness at 2am.

As for BPL, you're right it's internet on electric "mains" lines. It doesn't work all that well for what it's designed for. The only thing it does well is spew QRM from 80 Mhz on down. So far, this latest attempt to make money hasn't gotten past the test stage. Most other countries have rejected it. And it's unlikely to make any inroads in poor places like Africa, which was the intention. Internet by satellite works much better.

Well again, my question is, what was the purpose? I guess maybe they thought the lax FCC would never come after them, but they foolishly didn't count the determination of local hams.

Well KIPM didn't transmit 24 hrs a day, either, and stuck with frequencies around 6955 or thereabouts. He didn't make a nuisance of himself on the ham bands which tends to get the attention of hams, the ARRL, and eventually the FCC.

Tom, the referenced clown did broadcast deliberate interference on two HF maritime hailing and distress frequencies. That's more felonies to his credit, and if records show there was distress traffic anywhere during that time frame, it could get even worse for him.

I'm asking the same thing. What's the point of a bunch of static and "Varmint, I'm gonna blow ya ta smithereens!" played over and over again on four frequencies with a specific time delay between the four. What were they trying to prove? Was this a bunch of high school kids who were good with computers who decided to pull the equivalent of a hacking prank?

Ummm, correct me if I'm wrong or if I'm reading too much into what you say, but am I right to think you were unhappy with the CCrane products?

Should we add LaToya to this list? ;)

Below is a link to the FIRST STEP of the new and improved Un-Doc 3 step De-Programming session.....

Step 1 here ---> http://www.trashfish.com/polyp/songs/wakeupyousheep/

This URL above will link you to a download of a song in .MP3
Please run or better yet save it, then listen for as many times as needed to be effective. (hot microwave popcorn nearby IS recommended!)

Step 2: http://www.rathergood.com/vid/ (video MP3 link)

Step 3: http://www.rathergood.com/vines/ (video MP3 link)

There--> ALL DONE - YOU'RE FREE MAN !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

: ) : ) : ) : ) : ) ..and you didn't even have to "Get on the Telephone" either!!!

Finally be sure to check out: (updated)

"The Divided Kingdom": Monday through Friday at 0400 UTC on 5.085 Mhz and Saturday at 0300 on 5.085 Shortwave.
Elizabeth Border, this show's host, has assumed the very highest levels of domestic shortwave radio kookery with her paranoid conspiracy rantings about the New World Order.
Especially entertaining is her SOCK PUPPET (!) skit featuring dialog between a falsetto-voiced "Barbie" and a low-voiced "Fatherland Security" accompanied by downright scary solemn music. This is clearly the most entertaining program on 5.085 WWRB shortwave and there's something in it for conspiracy theorists as well as kookologists of all stripes.

Also go to www.coasttocoastam.com for NEW PROGRAMMING.
Just be darn sure to wear a tinfoil hat while listening.

(see http://zapatopi.net/afdb.html for DIY Tinfoil Hat Instructions)

I just saw that Liypn has the Tecsun PL350 for sale. It's $44.90 plus $20 shipping. He has 87 available as of right now.

I almost bought one tonight, but I decided to curb my impulse buying for another day.

My view on Stern and his type going to satellite is: Good-bye, why are you still here? Maybe all of talk radio will follow as well. I live near Ocala Fl and there is no decent radio around here. After hurricanes Frances and especially Jeanne the stations were off the air. No local news, hardwired telephone service was spotty and the cell system was almost useless. What did we get when the stations started coming back on? Silly kids yaking all night long thinking they are funny and bad reports of where to find ice or water. The next station that came on mentioned the hurricane and went back to Rush Limbagh. The last thing people need when they have no power, little food or water is boring syndicated talk radio. If I was working there I would have pushed to get as much accurate information as I could to the people who needed it. What good would Satellite radio be during a disaster? Let them have the rubbish they deserve. Even though my favorite AM radio station is on Sirius, I can't, and won't spend a monthly fee like that for one radio station. FOr the same price I can get broadband internet instead of dialup and listen to a stream while stuck at home all the time.

Yeh. yeh, yeh... and by the late 1900s my fifth grade teacher told us we'd all be riding around in air suspension cars. Yawn. This rally 'round the "new technologies" is crap. Few of these things work as well as we are told they do on paper. And those who are most enthused are those who stand to gain financially. Period.
We're all fools to gobble up this  gadgetry that rarely works as well as it is touted. It is nothing more than a planned cycle to keep us buying. Take a look at your local thrift store and see what you paid $400 for only ten years ago that is now "obsolete." Yup, we're damned gullible idiots. And those in the "new technologies" business are laughing their asses off at us.

JIM,

One more thing to consider the difference in the "Spacing" of the Turns for the Two 'separated' Loops :
*  AM/MW Loop Antenna can have 'many' Turns and the "Spacing" of these Wires can be Close Together [Side-by-Side] or with a Small "Gap" of 1/16" to 3/16" between the turns.

*  Shortwave Loop Antenna will have a just a few Turns and can have a greater "Spacing" {Gap} of 3/8" to 3/4" between the Turns.
REF => Loop Antenna Questions :
Paired ? -or- A Pair ? -or- Totally Separate ?

You are doing non standard things in your signature. Please make a small change to start your sig with --

Most news readers will take the -- as the start of the sig and not make it part of the reply.

In the past RHC has used this frequency in SSB. I looked it up in this years Passport and it lists RHC as AM, spanish 11:00 to 15:00 UTC with 100kW to S America.

Not long after I had sent those two pieces of plastic CRAP (I don't even call them real radios at all.Are y'all listening? Art Bell and George Noory,,, Watch Out! George Noory,them Ouija Boards are gonna gitcha!) so-called "radios" BACK to ccrane (Are you listening? Bob Crane) company,I was listening to Bo Gritz on my shortwave radio one morning and an old guy phoned in to Bo's radio talk show and he said he had bought one of those ATS-909 shortwave radios from ccrane company and when he saw that it was made of plastic,he sent that radio back to ccrane company.

Handy Shortwave Chart
Bill McFadden
billmc@agora.rdrop.com

Band allocations and time zone conversions for the USA.  Includes broadcast bands used outside the USA.  Also includes WARC-92 broadcast band extensions, which may be used before April 1, 2007 on a secondary (non-interference) basis.  For multi-use bands, most common usage is shown. Some stations operate outside the official bands.  Information is from Sep 2000 NTIA allocations table, see:
http://www.ntia.doc.gov/osmhome/allochrt.html

Frequencies are in kHz.  Usual spacing in shortwave broadcast bands is 5 kHz.  Frequencies above 10000 kHz tend to propagate better during the day; frequencies below 10000 kHz tend to propagate better at night.

Please e-mail suggestions and corrections to billmc@agora.rdrop.com.

Phone line as SW antenna

WARNINGS AND DISCLAIMERS

Connecting unapproved devices to phone lines may be illegal in your area. Telephone lines present a potential shock hazard. Do not use this antenna for transmitting. Use at your own risk.

INTRODUCTION

This article describes how to use a phone line as a shortwave receiving antenna. Performance will vary depending on the kind of phone line you have.  Overhead lines usually make okay antennas, while underground lines usually don't.  A phone line antenna will generally pick up more power line noise than a dedicated antenna, so don't expect to use it for DX work.  Nevertheless, I find that it outperforms the telescopic whip antennas built into most portables.

A reader sent in this suggestion:  If you're concerned about connecting the phone line directly to the receiver, try wrapping the phone cord several times around the receiver's telescopic whip antenna instead. Performance may not be as good as a direct connection, but it will probably be better than the whip antenna by itself.

Someone else wrote asking about lightning protection.  I haven't thought much about it because thunderstorms are rare in my area.  Most phone lines have lightning arrestors on them where they enter the house, but the lightning arrestors may pass enough energy during a lightning strike damage a receiver.  My suggestion is to disconnect the antenna when not in use if you experience frequent thunderstorms.

HOW TO DO IT

The simplest connection is a single capacitor between the phone line and receiver.  The capacitor eliminates all phone line voltages, including ringing, so that they will not harm the receiver.

 Phone line                                    RF connector
    red          .01 uF     center cond.            / \
     or   o--------||------------------------------|-o |  To receiver
   green                                            \ /
                           50 ohm coax               |
   ground                                            |
     or   o------------------------------------------+ N.C.                      shield

N.C. = no connect.  I originally connected the phone line ground (yellow wire) to this terminal, but reception was better without it (if you do this, play it safe and put a .01 uF capacitor in series).  If another ground is available, you can connect it to this terminal.

If you are picking up local AM or FM radio stations on the shortwave bands, it is likely that your receiver is overloaded.  Inexpensive and portable receivers usually lack the filtering needed to eliminate this interference, but you can make your own filters.  Filters can also be purchased from some shortwave dealers.

A high-pass filter can be used to remove signals below the shortwave bands.  It rejects interference from local AM stations and presents a high impedance to the phone line at audio frequencies so that the phone line remains balanced.

A low-pass filter can be used to remove signals above the shortwave bands. It rejects interference from FM and TV stations, as well as VHF 2-way radio transmitters. If you use both filters, connect the output of the first filter to the input of the second (don't forget to connect their ground terminals together). It doesn't matter which filter is connected first.

By the way, these filters also work well with random wire antennas. Just connect the antenna in place of the phone line.

The filter(s) should be connected to the phone line in this manner:

 Phone line                                    RF connector
    red         --------    center cond.            / \
     or   o----|        |--------------------------|-o |  To receiver
   green       |        |                           \ /
               | FILTER |  50 ohm coax               |
   ground      |        |                            |
     or   o----|        |----------------------------+

FILTER PLANS

The original credit for the high-pass and low-pass filters goes to Paul Blumstein and John Shalamskas, respectively. Edited versions of their articles are included here:

Subject: BC Band Hi-Pass Filter

The following ascii-schematic diagram is a high pass filter that will filter out Broadcast Band (MW) stations. I found it a great boon to my shortwave listening since local MW stations overload my ATS-803A front end & appear in SW, especially with a long antenna.

If you remember my antenna saga, I went from 50 feet to 150 feet & had overload problems causing me to cut back to 50 feet. (Even at 50 feet, I still have some MW interference). I took the advice of Gary Coffman and looked up filters in the ARRL Handbook. With the filter in place, I intend to try to increase my antenna length again.

Anywho, here is the filter, for interested parties.

         --------||---+----||-----+----||-----------
                      }           }
                      {           {
                      }           }
```

```
       ------------+----------+----------------

The outer capacitors are 1500 pf ceramic disks.
The inner capacitor is 820 pf ceramic disk.
The squiggly things are coils (two total).  Each one is 2.7 uh.

Subject: Re: BC Band Hi-Pass Filter

I built the filter that Paul Blumstein posted recently and measured it on a gain-phase analyzer.  Here are its characteristics:

|---|---|
| 100 kHz | -120dB |
| 500 kHz | -68dB |
| 1000 kHz | -38dB |
| 1600 kHz | -15dB |
| 2100 kHz | -3dB |

The source and load impedances were 50 ohms.  Because the filter has five elements, the attenuation is 30dB per octave.  The measurements confirmed this.

This filter seems to be a good compromise between interference attenuation and passband response.  There is very little attenuation in the 120m band and above.  It could use a little more attenuation at the upper end of MW, which could be done with more stages or a higher cutoff frequency.  Alternatively, you could build two of these filters and put them in series.  (Since two 1500pF capacitors in series are really 750pF, you could eliminate one cap.)

Just for fun, I put 470 ohms in series with the input to see how the filter performed with an antenna mismatch.  The response was:

|---|---|
| 100 kHz | -105dB |
| 500 kHz | -60dB |
| 1000 kHz | -35dB |
| 1600 kHz | -15dB |
| 2300 kHz | -3dB |

These figures are normalized to the passband response of -15dB, which is due to the impedance mismatch between the source and load and would have been there without the filter.  Hence, the filter works almost as well in spite of the mismatch, which is good news to those who use long-wire antennas.

Subject: Construction of filters for SW reception

Several people have asked for construction details of the filters I built for my DX-440.

The high-pass filter helped some, but in my location the VHF/UHF broadcasters are also causing problems.  So, I dug out the ARRL handbook and chose a 7-element Chebyshev low-pass design that is -3 dB at 35 MHz, -20 dB at 43 MHz, and -50 dB at 64 MHz (all calculated; it works well in practice!)

              LOW-PASS FILTER  (Rejects FM, TV, etc.)

                      0.36 uH  0.42 uH   0.36 uH signal  -------+--UUU--+--UUUUU--+--UUU--+-------  signal
                    |       |         |       |
               82  ___  180___    180___     ___  82 pF  ---   pF---     pF---     ---  pF shield         |       |         |       |         shield braid  -------+-------+----+----+-------+-------  braid
                           chassis ground

I had to do a little more improvising at this point.  I used .33 uH instead of .36, and .66 uH instead of .42, but it works fine.

The 5-lug terminal strips were perfect for these circuits, since there are 4 lugs plus a grounded lug.  All "ground" connections go to the lug that is mounted to the chassis, and the other 4 lugs are used for each of the connections on the signal line.  One terminal strip is used per filter.  Since both filters were necessary to clean up the hash, I am going to put them both into one box when I get the time.

signal in ------- filter 1 -------- filter 2 -------- signal out

There is no difference between ends.  They are "bilateral" which means you can't possibly hook them up backwards.  (In the above schematics, left and right ends are interchangeable.)

COIL WINDING

You can make the coils yourself using this formula:

L = 0.2 * B^2 * N^2 / (3B + 9A + 10C)

L is the inductance, in uH
A is the length of the coil, in inches
B is the mean diameter of the coil, in inches
C is the diameter of the wire, in inches
N is the number of turns

For small wire, you can assume C = 0.

Is it racist to quote racists - who are not white?

The following is a cut and paste from someone else. I claim NONE of it but find some of it quite interesting considering that I'll probably called racist for telling you what some jews and blacks have allegedly said. I did NOT confirm each citation, but trust the source from which I obtained this material. YOU have my permission to verify or attempt to disprove any or all of them. There are some white comments as well. :-)

Enough!

I'm ready to shoot my TV. Honestly. But for my family, I would cancel my satellite subscription (basic package only) outright and live off hand-selected DVDs.

The commercials are bad enough...intolerable, in fact. Perhaps because I catch only the occasional network show, the frequency of commercials seems more overwhelming to me than most. Rent some old TV shows on DVD and see how long the one-hour shows were just twenty years ago (about 53 minutes), versus today (about 40 minutes). That's why there are no half-hour shows anymore - there simply isn't enough time for more than a page or two of lines, once the commercials take their ever-increasing pound of airwaves. But, that isn't the worst of it. That isn't why I've had it. Let me explain.

Picture the Glorp race, residents of a star system some 987 light years from Earth: The Glorps finally construct a device to decode the television signals leaving Earth today. The Glorps of the distant future would be forced to conclude that Earth is a multicultural paradise, with two races living in blissful harmony. The leaders are drawn from the Jewish race, which makes up about 50% of Earth's population, based upon the percentage of Jews visible in all public walks of life. The Glorps would see that virtually everybody else of any consequence is Black, of course, with those Blacks holding the most prestigious positions - after all, today's movies all have Black Generals and Presidents and heroes of every stripe.

But the Glorps would see another race, too, because the villains always are vapid and ruthless Whites. In fact, Glorps might well wonder why Earth's Whites have been allowed to live, given that we seem to be nothing but a drain upon society. Incidentally, though we all know that TV does not reflect reality in many respects, Whites are being exterminated, just in case you truly haven't noticed. And Jews are running things. The one thing so dreadfully different from TV, of course, is the Black reality.

TV Blacks are smart, friendly, athletic, beautiful (with those never-mentioned White-caste genes everpresent), retiring, wise, helpful and in charge. Real-life Blacks tend to be stupid, hostile, lazy, fat, mean, demanding and in jail. Oh, give me a break! Don't even begin to try to tell me it isn't true! I really have no patience left for White people who deny the reality surrounding us all.

And it has nothing to do with racial "equality," either. Otherwise, where on TV and in the Movies are all the beautiful, wise and worldly Chinese, East Indians, Japanese, Russians, Serbs, Arabs, Eskimos, American Indians and so on? Why does affirmative action in the media always excessively favor just Blacks? And why do Jews seem never to have to give ground, leaving that chore to the other White meat: us? Those are questions for another day, though you might want to ponder them in the meantime for extra credit.

I just watched a first-run movie on the SciFi Channel: Alien Siege. Standard plot line: aliens come...aliens harvest people...aliens get beaten back. What also has become standard fare these days: The General of the American forces was an attractive, wise and understanding older Black man. The leader of the underground resistance was an attractive, wise and understanding younger Black man. The villains and the stupid people, including the aliens, were all White, of course. That's the way it is with the SciFi Channel now, you know. I started watching their "4400" series, then turned it off in disgust when it became clear, early on, that the female blonde lead was on the make for Black guys, one of whom appeared to be the prime male lead. I give up on the SciFi Channel. I've simply had it. I have a new motto now: If I see Black, I don't go back. SciFi Channel can depend upon its Black viewership for support from now on, so far as I am concerned.

The commercials came hot and heavy during the movie, of course. I was most struck by Burger King's commercials, which presented a musical cast overwhelmingly composed of Black cowboys, Black women and several beautiful blonde White women. In fact, I notice that not one single TV commercial these days gets by without a significant Black presence, usually anywhere from one-third to one-half the participants. No more Burger King for the Steele household, folks: If I see Black, I don't go back. Let them make it on their Black clientele, which is what seems most important to them.

In fact, I'm making it my personal mission in life now, regarding all things I see advertised: If I see Black, I don't go back. No, it won't make much of a difference. But if you join, too, it will begin to sting.

We wouldn't have minded if they had kept it proportional. We wouldn't have minded seeing 12% Blacks in commercials and movies. We wouldn't have minded seeing a little overrepresentation in management and professional roles, either, but this has gotten totally out of hand. I am particularly offended by the media's portrayal of White women with Black men. Now I want to see it the way it used to be: all White. That's what it will take to win me back. Until then, I won't watch and I won't play and I won't pay. Get your Black viewership to support you for a change.

I gave up watching sports on television long ago: just ten black guys running up and down the floor...or field...or whatever. Put it in proper context, with a lion chasing them through the jungle, and I might just start watching again. But, to watch these grotesquely-overpaid drug addicts, sex criminals and intellectual midgets bounce a ball and make with jive talk and hip-hop, anti-White behavior? No, thanks. Let their team owners and sponsors be supported by their Black fans.

And the news? I used to read a number of newspapers and magazines every day, as well as watch CNN nonstop. I never missed the nightly network news. I stopped all that, though. Coincidentally, it was at about the same time that Blacks started being force fed to us via those venues as well. I stopped because I got sick of getting nothing but lies and the party line. But, it's of a piece, isn't it? All those Blacks in unlikely poses and improbable positions simply are a part of the massive media lying that began in the 'Sixties and really picked up steam in the 'Eighties.

Join me, won't you? Boycott products advertised with Black actors and models. Make a statement: If you see Black, don't go back.

Boycott TV shows and movies with Black actors. Send the message that we are fed up: If we see Black, we don't go back.

Cancel your subscriptions to newspapers and magazines that push Black articles, columnists and advertisements into your face. There are plenty available that don't. Not coincidentally, those that don't promote Blacks are the same ones that actually tell the truth about other things, too. Tell them when you cancel: If we see Black, we don't go back.

Say it again: If we see Black, we don't go back.

Say it again...louder: IF WE SEE BLACK, WE DON'T GO BACK!

Blacks demand that other Blacks support Blacks and that is commended. Jews demand that everybody else support Jews and they get away with it. We aren't demanding what's theirs. We're demanding only what is ours. We demand the right to be able to support White people! It's all right to be White, after all. Another catchy phrase, that one: It's all right to be White.

Get this, once and for all: It is not racist to support your own race.

New America. An idea whose time has come.

Anyone used this antenna?
I found this on VOA website.

That antenna design was by Oswald G. Villard, Jr., W6QYT. It was I believe written about in the WRTH at one time. Mr. Villard passed away in the last few years.

JIM,

Take a Look at this Hard-Core DX webpage.
"Antenna for Reducing SkyWave Interference" Written by Dr. O. G. Villard, Jr.

FWIW - This design is for ShortWave "SkyWave" Signal Reception.
NOTE - This is from a prior posting to this NewsGroup.
"Home Brew Noise Canceling (Anti-Jamming) Antenna"
This Antenna was Originally Designed as a simple and easy to build Anti-Jamming Antenna for Radio Free Europe Listeners.
http://www.ibb.gov/engineering/antenna1.html
They also Claimed that this Antenna should work with reducing
'man made' local noise. A so called "Coplanar-Twin-Loop" (CTL)
This special and unusual Antenna was designed by a research scientist at Stanford Research Institute; Dr. O.G. Villard.
If you want a paper to read with substantially more information on the theory and construction of the Antenna authored by the inventor

I'm sure he flew over not far from my QTH since I live about 200 miles southeast of Salina. I probably would have picked him up when he got to altitude but I didn't have any frequencies available, and couldn't find anything by searching.

Well 4300 and 6500 are in the maritime band, but 4300 is in the old CW portion of the 4 MHZ maritime band, and 6500 is just one KHZ off channel 601 in the 6 MHZ band.  He did interfere a bit with NMN passing weather but not enough that I could hear where he was hindering communications.  In fact, I think NMN interfered with YS more than the other way around.  Now if he'd been on 6502 then I think he'd definitely have caused more interference.

Not that I'm condoning or defending this guy, but I don't think he was that much of a nuisance, even when he was transmitting under WWV.  On the other hand, I believe he was causing quite a bit of interference to ham communications on 3700.

JD,
You and Tianli are correct.  Just as for Shortwave Listening (SWL) the simplest and easiest answer to a Longwire (or any other "Formula" Cut-to-Size) Straight Wire Antenna is the "Random" Wire Antenna.
THE SHORTWAVE LISTENER (SWL) HORIZONTAL [FLAT] LOOP ANTENNA :
So to for the Shortwave Listener's (SWL) the Horizontal [Flat]
Loop Antenna can be the Antenna that fits their available space and gives them the higher Signal Levels and Lower Noise Levels with a more consistent (less fade) signal.   For the Shortwave Listener (SWL) a "Random" Horizontal Flat Loop Antenna an can be the answer for a longer larger (more signal capture area) Antenna to meet their needs.
SOME PLUSES - For a Shortwave Listener (SWL) in using the Horizontal [Flat] Loop Antenna are :
+  Generally Lower Noise
+  Generally Omni-Directional
SIZE - HORIZONTAL [FLAT] LOOP ANTENNA -vice- RANDOM WIRE ANTENNA :
*  Room-Size (Indoor) Ten Foot (10') Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 40 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Very Small 15 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 60 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Small 20 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 80 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Moderate - Average 25 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 100 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Medium 30 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 120 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Large 35 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 140 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Bigger 40 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 160 Foot Random Wire Antenna
*  Extra-Large 45 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna

= 180 Foot Random Wire Antenna

*  Giant 50 Foot Square Horizontal Loop Antenna
= 200 Foot Random Wire Antenna

HEIGHT ABOVE GROUND :
Some comments may be made about this being a "Cloud Warmer" or a "Near Vertical Incident Skywave" {NVIS} Antenna.
NVIS=>  http://www.qsl.net/k5eph/nvis.htm

IMHO - In general this is a good characteristic for a Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antenna.

For use as a Shortwave Listener (SWL) Antenna the Horizontal [Flat] Loop Antenna can be mounted at just about any Height that is easy and available to use.   A general Height of 12 to 18 Feet is easy to achieve and works well.  While near "Flat" is nice : All Corners (mounting points) do not have to be the same Height.  Usually the main objective is to get it "UP" above your Head (non-hazard) so the Loop's Wire can be as little as Eight to Ten Feet High.   Anything above 25 to 30 Feet is really not necessary unless that is all the mounting point at are Available.
NOTE - For a No-See-Um Horizontal Loop Antenna the Wire can be run around near the Top of a Fence.   Or around the House under the Eaves.

SHAPE OF THE LOOP :
A Circle would be perfect and a Square would be nice.
But the simple fact is that for a Shortwave Listener (SWL) this is a "Random" Loop Antenna that is put-up in the available Space.  Any general "Shape" using the existing structures as mounting points or any mounting points that you can easily erect should work well.  The "Sides" of the Loop do not all have to be the same Length.  The important thing is the Shape allows the Starting-Point of the Wire and the Ending-Point of the Wire come together to form a Loop.

FEED-IN-LINE FOR THE LOOP :
The Feed-in-Line for the Horizontal [Flat] Loop Antenna can take many forms.   Directly Wired 300 Ohm TV type Twin Lead or Coax Cable and even Speaker Wire could be used as a Feed-in-Line.
NOTE - When a Coax Cable is used as a Feed-in-Line :
A Matching Transformer {Balun} can also be used between the Loop's Wire Antenna Element and the Feed-in-Line.
The Balun can be a 1:1 Radio or a 1:4 Radio.

GROUNDING FOR THE LOOP :
Since the Horizontal [Flat] Loop Antenna is a Balanced Antenna a Ground for the Antenna itself is not required.
However, this does not eliminate the Requirement for a good Earthen Grounding Point for the Shack's Equipment and Radio/Receivers.

BUILDING A SIMPLE AND PRACTICAL TV "Type" PARTS
"RANDOM" HORIZONTAL [FLAT] LOOP ANTENNA :
1.  Use 50 Foot or more of TV 300 Ohm Twin Lead as the Loop Antenna Wire Element.  This can be connected either in Parallel as a Double-Wire Single Loop Element; or in Series as a Two Loop Element.
2.  Use a TV 300 Ohm to 75 Ohm Matching Transformer as a Balun between the the Antenna's Wire Loop Element and the Coax Cable Feed-in-Line.
Note- Find one that is labeled with a 5 MHz bottom frequency rating.
3.  Use TV 75 Ohm Coax Cable with "F" Connectors as the Feed-in-Line from the Loop Antenna's Wire Element and Matching Transformer to the Radio/Receivers.
4.  Use what ever connector Adapter is need to connect the TV 75 Ohm Coax Cable to the Radio/Receivers.

I'm wondering why everyone is being so "hush hush" about it.
Perhaps it has to do with the newly-complicated privacy laws, but then who knows...

Those who have listened to Jean Shepherd may have heard the old (when he played it) ad for W-W-W-W-somebody stop me-O-R. It mentioned the location at "Fourteen Forty Broadway", the now dead Mutual Network and a "Fifty Kilowatt Smile".

The station started at Bamberger's Department Store in Newark in 1922. (for many years it was owned by Macy's which owned Bamberger's; the Strauss family, which owned Macy's and was famous for the insistence of Mrs. Strauss to go down on the Titanic with Mr. Strauss, later owned WMCA when it was rock's "Home of the Good Guys".)

It had a New York satellite location on West Fifty Seventh Street and moved to 1440 Broadway, south of Times Sq., in 1926.

Now, it has moved down to 111 Broadway near Wall St. Part of this is a feeling of support for downtown after 9/11; part of it is a need to upgrade for that ugh digital system that expands the bandwidth to thirty kilohertz.

If anyone's interested, I have confirmed the exact address for the Catholic Radio Network via their manager, Fr. Mlak:

You can write to:

Fr. Zdzislaw Mlak
Catholic Radio Network
P.O. Box 7671, Boroko, NCD
Papua New Guinea

Bear in mind that they are not set up for verifying, but if you're extra nice, I'm sure the good Father will accomodate you as time allows.

Good DX everyone!

Al

I know a man who MADE one using a cordless battery operated screwdriver. I suspect that may be where they got their name. He talked MOBILE 2 MOBILE to France from NC, USA; but I expect the conditions were "right" at the moment. That was several years ago. I don't recall seeing him with that lately. Don't know if he changed vehicles and it was a bit more difficult to brace up on the second one. Seems the first vehicle was a station wagon.

I think they are used mainly for transceivers as opposed to receivers.

Looks like a smaller version of the PL550. Or, put another way, a model designed to compete with the Degen DE1102 - without SSB. Come to think of it ... do ANY Tecsun models have SSB?

On the flip side, one could say that the receivers, especially tabletops, HAVE to be sensitive in order to deal with all the noise.

You're probably right. I wonder if he read this group and got off on reading all the "government spy op" theories. I guess that in a contest between paranoid fantasies and reality, one should put one's money on reality. That said, there ARE a lot of REAL spy tx's on SW. I still wonder why the Mossad would run Sierra Yankee November Two on the edge of an international broadcast band for DAYS ON END. I mean, you think the message would have gotten across after the first couple days.

Do you realize how much a lawyer COSTS in America? Several hundred dollars an HOUR. If I had that kind of money, I wouldn't be living in this part of town, that's for damn sure.

Not now, but I've heard of areas where even cell phones can't reach (like deep in the mountains) where satellite internet is feasible.

The micro loans I've heard about are for people in poor countries to start small one person businesses to feed their families, but this is a logical extension. And yes, it's so much more sensible than BPL, which doesn't work well in America and Japan, can you imagine how it would (not) work in someplace that has decrepit infrastructure and power for four hours a day?

Yeah, somebody on this group mentioned that they have this antijamming antenna design up on the Radio Free Asia website, with text in Chinese of course. I wonder if it would actually work with a typical Degen or Tecsun radio, which doesn't have terrific selectivity to begin with. I'm sure that tianli would have more info on what the average Chinese does to listen to "forbidden" broadcasts with a small portable that's easily overloaded.

Alright,
He can come and talk about his great antenna and tell us about some of the new thing he has coming out.

I bought one of his great little Tiny-Tenna and I am still using it. I also got a great double YoYo antenna for my YB400 and it works great. It lets me get an "L" in rooms or on a balcony when I am traveling.

Please be sure and let me know when he is going to be on, THANKS FOR ASKING HIM!!!

You might give them a call or email. They might be inclined to fix it.

Well, according to ILG the VOA broadcasts is english on 11,705 during those times most of the week.

RHC is on 17,705 00:00 to 00:30 UTC. Maybe that is what you heard.

I've got Radio Farda in southeast Texas at 0309 UTC on 7105 kHz.

Their web site says it's to Iran.

http://www.rferl.org/listen/shortwave/default-frd.asp

According to the Radio Sawa site, they're not on short-wave anymore.

I'll try that. Yes, I realized that "Farda" sounds like "Farsi" (the language of Iran) after I saw Iran on the page.

Most of Sawa's SW broadcasts were to Iraq; I imagine that they've got enough AM (MW) and FM transmitters in Iraq now that they don't need SW.
That's too bad, it deprives SWL's (especially those in America) from hearing what exactly the US is broadcasting to Muslim countries in the name of curbing terrorism. Having heard it, I can say that it was mostly Arab and American pop music with some "news" thrown in. I really don't think that any Arab teenager thinking of being a suicide bomber is going to hear Destiny's Child on the radio and change his mind.

> Michael - Can you pick up WFLA, Orlando, on 540?  I found that station pretty useful during the hurricanes except, of course, for local info.  I live in Lakeland and can pick them up even in the daytime.  WFLA 970 in Tampa is stronger here and they had decent storm-related info too.  But none of the powerhouse stations are in a position to serve the Ocala area with local news.  One source you could check out is the local ham emerg. net on VHF.  Their traffic usually includes info on supplies being delivered to aid stations as well as general storm and survival-related info.

I can pick up both of them, but neither are very clear. The only two meter receiver I have at the moment needs a regulated 12 VDC power supply and was out in my shop where I couldn't get to it.

Earthlink is $45 a month, the same as RR or AOL broadband here in Belleview. I don't drive much anymore, I have Carpal Tunnel in both hands and nerve damage so a drive across town can be painful. I am now on full disability because I can't work any set schedule and it drives me crazy. I was working at Microdyne as a test and engineering tech when I had to stop working a few years ago. I'll bet there is still some equipment in use in stations you've seen that was built in Ocala, or their AFC microwave antennas.

I wanted to fix up a nice shop here at home to enjoy my retirement by collecting and restoring oddball electronics. My benches are still covered with plastic since the hurricanes. I was out there today and one of my shelves has snapped due to water damage.

I agree with nothing good on the local radio stations. The only station I would listen to on Satellite is WSM, and its on Sirius. Since I'm at home 90 percent of the time I figured it was cheaper to spend the money on a better internet feed.

I have a friend who is still an active contract engineer in the area and get the horror stories when he has time to stop by the house. If you're anywhere close to Ocala email me sometime.

S9+10 interference on that freq at 0330 in northern California. Real loud buzz, probably the same stuff that I've been battling on 31m for months. I thought I heard something in USB, but it may have just been my imagination.

I already knew ccrane company is located in Fortuna,California (way up in north California,not far fom the Pacific Ocean and not far from Oregon) because I ordered both of those radios from my ccrane catalog.I didn't know the radios are made in Taiwan,but that is NOT why I sent both radios back to ccrane company.I still SAY ccrane radios are JUNK!

Over rated and over priced JUNK! and I will NOT strike out again at ccrane company.

Roger that, in Virginia Beach every couple years or so we get a summer week-off from the grid after a hurricane blows by. The reception is phenomenal. I wonder what it would be like in the winter?

At the same time I ordered that first radio,the one with AM/FM/weather band and two tv bands,from ccrane company,I also ordered one of those round antennas that has a knob in the middle of it,I paid about $57.00 for that antenna,and I ordered one of those Radiometers,the gadget that has four little vanes inside of a piece of glass that looks sort of like a light bulb and the vanes spin around when placed in the sunshine or under an electric lamp,because I used to own a gadget like that about 55 years ago.That antenna didn't show me shit either.Useing that antenna with that radio,it wouldn't pick up KVOO Tulsa,Oklahoma (KVOO used to be on the AM band) any better than some of my other radios.Any good company keeps records of the products they sell and records of the products returned for at least ten years in my opinion and if Bob Crane is reading this rec.radio.shortwave news group (which I doubt he does) he can damn sure pull up the data from about six or seven years ago when I bought and I returned every one of the products I bought from ccrane company,except I did keep my Radiomometer though.When I ordered that Sangean ATS-909 shortwave radio,I also ordered one of those shortwave antennas that is nothing more than a piece of wire and a recoil reel with an alligator clip on one end of the wire.I sent that stuff back to ccrane company too.There is an old saying,The Customer Is Always Right!

You can sometimes get rid of noise with the ANC-4, but it has been my experience the noise needs to be really local, such as your damn PC.

I use a Wellbrook ALA-100, which is their basic amp with a roll it yourself loop. I will never go back to a long wire. I've built a DC adapter for the Wellbrook (as discussed before, the thing is postive ground so use caution.) Taking the Wellbrook out in the boonies, you can experience low noise. At my house, forget it.

This is the small loop, about 3ft on a side.
http://www.lazygranch.com/images/radio/loop1.jpg

http://www.lazygranch.com/images/radio/loop3.jpg
http://www.lazygranch.com/images/radio/loop4.jpg
http://www.lazygranch.com/images/radio/loop5.jpg
I have a similar set up that is 7ft on a side. That is about as large as this single hub design can handle.

The thing with the Wellbrook loop (supposedly) is that as you make it larger, the signal to noise ratio increases. It's not like a long wire where the longer length boosts both the noise and the signal.  Here is what Wellbrook says about this:
-----
The large aperture of the ALA 100 improves the signal pickup to optimise the signal to noise ratio and also reduces fading at HF, this is a very important advantage compared to small active antennas http://www.wellbrook.uk.com/ALA100.html
--------
I run the ala 100 with a loop about the size of a hoola (sp) hoop. That is about as small as you should go.

You may be right.  I suspect her electronic equipment is on the barely-get-you-by side, and she seems not to have learned a tremendous amount about the use of it.  Occasionally you'll hear phones ring, children walk in, and I'm not sure about barking dogs, but she has interruptions aplenty.

She could probably use a good microphone but I'm not sure which kind - probably one that's part of a headset.  That way when she turned her head to keep up with all the other household activity she'd still be talking into the mic.  Then she may need a good mixer, preferably with some compression and/or reverb built in. Adding a little bass wouldn't hurt.  I don't think she ever overdrives a mic.

She's probably doing pretty well under the circumstances.

You aren't free to express your thoughts - IF they don't meet the politically correct mold - especially if your thoughts and speech happen to deny the holocaust!

Hasn't there been one or more folks arrested in Germany for a book they wrote in the U.S?

Well, Here's one whisked off to Germany, from Canada, so they could face the charge of denying the holocaust!

Check out http://www.zundelsite.org - While the site is still available. How long before they shut it down?

"Political Prisoner Ernst Zundel Deported Secretly Whisked by Chartered Plane to Germany"

"Word has just reached me that Ernst Zundel was taken in a special, chartered (?) plane to Germany, where he reportedly landed at 10 p.m., German time, (3/1/05) in Frankfurt. There, he will be arrested for "Holocaust Denial" allegedly found on the Zundelsite - and taken to the Mannheim Prison. So, once again, this is a "cyber war" involving an American website? Ernst was deported from the USA back to CanaDuh as I understand it where he was arrested a few years ago.

There was some mention of him in a recent DXLD. Apparently he and/or his group was responsible for the program American Dissident Voices which aired on shortwave here. I'm not sure if the program still continues.

Here is the relevent material from DXLD 5-036:

 DEUTSCHES REICH [and non]. JUDGE RULES CANADA FREE TO DEPORT ERNST ZUNDEL

Ernst Zundel, well known holocaust denier (deny-er?) and onetime shortwave broadcaster's deportation to Germany imminent. German authorities have indicated he will be arrested (for holocaust denial) once he sets foot in that country. Zundel has been fighting deportation for over 2 years (Fred Waterer, dxldyg via DX LISTENING DIGEST)

Judge rules Canada free to deport Ernst Zundel  --- CTV.ca News Staff
http://www.ctv.ca/servlet/ArticleNews/story/CTVNews/1109336098253_56/?hub=Canada

Jewish leaders expressed relief after a federal court judge ruled that Ottawa was free to deport infamous holocaust denier Ernst Zundel back to his native Germany.

Justice Pierre Blais called Zundel a danger to Canadian society in a 64-page decision released on Thursday.

"Mr. Zundel's activities are not only a threat to Canada's national security but also a threat to the international community of nations," Blais said.

The judge wrote that "reasonable grounds" exist "to believe Mr. Zundel is inadmissible on security grounds for being a danger to the security of Canada," The Globe and Mail reported.

Blais' ruling was a scathing denunciation of Zundel, who he said was a "leader of international significance" among white supremacists.

"He also tried, by all means possible, to develop and maintain a global network of groups that have an interest in the same right-wing, extremist, neo-Nazi mindset," Blais said.

Blais also described him as a Hitler-sympathizer who set out to expand the neo-Nazi movement and was proud of his influence.

"I remember how proud he was when he mentioned in cross-examination that his Zundelsite received hits from 400,000 people a month, and that after his arrest, the number grew to 1.2 million people accessing his website each month," Blais said.

Zundel, 65, was arrested in the United States and deported back to Canada over an immigration violation in 2003.

He has been in solitary confinement in a Toronto jail for the past two years on a national security certificate signed by Canada's solicitor general and the federal minister of citizenship and immigration.

The certificate allows the federal government to hold Zundel indefinitely pending his deportation.

Jewish leaders praised the judge's decision and hoped the deportation would be quick.

Ed Morgan, president of the Canadian Jewish Congress, told the Toronto Star the judge's decision was "a victory against racism and hate. "It is certainly a victory for all Canadians who believe in a peaceful, multicultural society," Morgan said.

Bernie Farber, executive director of the Canadian Jewish Congress, echoed his sentiments. "He could be gone tomorrow," Farber told The Globe. "All I know is, it's going to be quick. Canadians can breathe easier now."

Zundel's defence counsel Peter Lindsay told The Globe that he plans to make a couple of last-ditch efforts to stay the deportation order.

Couldn't happen to a nicer guy!!! Can't believe we allow this kind of trash into our country, and then let them fight extradition for years, to start with. It's time for us to wake up and make whatever changes are necessary to our laws to not allow this kind of garbage go on, at great expense to the Canadian taxpayer I might add, for years (Tony (VA3QC) Champion, ODXA via DXLD)

In case you wonder what in the world this has to do with radio, Zundel used to do a SW broadcast from the USA, and his followers still do, American Dissident Voices on WWRB (gh, DXLD)

The FCC's enforcement bureau page is http://www.fcc.gov/eb/ which may have some information whenever they get around to it and stop worrying about whether an episode of "Will and Grace" was obscene...

No, I haven't seen any. I listened late afternoon and early evening to 11300 as Global Flyer transited Egypt but heard nothing. He may have been asleep at the time and had the aircraft on auto-pilot. (although his website says he was awake. He is traveling at a very high altitude, and ATC may not be terribly concerned about him).

The problem now will be, at least from here, is that the ATC frequencies he might possibly use will be difficult to hear propagationally, at least from here, though possibilities still exist.

At present (1440) he is over halfway home and just east of Shanghai, China over the water again.

Yes, this is the only thing I don't like about conspiracy theories. To them, it's not just a theory, it's fact because they thought it up, and they refuse to accept any evidence to the contrary. This is what keeps militia types burying guns in their back yard, taking pictures of the back of road signs, and running inside whenever they see a jet contrail at 30,000 ft.

This is known as "Occam's Razor." It basically states that the simplest and least complex answer is usually the correct one.

The 2 after SYN denotes "no message." So it basically means that there is no traffic for the agent. However, SYN has recently sent some message strings, such as SYN2Z58 repeated for a few hours. I haven't seen much actual 5F message traffic from this station, though.

I woke up at around 3:30 am local time so I decided to do some real DXing for the first time in a year or more. I chose the 31m band because it seems to have better reception during darkness hours. Comments at bottom.

Comments:

I'm not sure on the ID of 9750-Radio Japan is on at the same time.

Indonesia was playing some beautiful Indonesian music when I tuned in.
This is my first log of Indonesia.

Isn't University Network one of Gene Scott's stations?

The two stations on 9560 were almost equal strength at my location.

I've never had that scenario happen for very long; usually for me the power goes out for a while during a thunderstorm, but I'm not inclined to fry my electronics and hook up the big antenna at that time.  The two biggest changes I had to clean up noise were:  move to a house where the electrical and phone lines are underground, and to take the Sat 800 off of the same breaker used by the Dell laptop for work and put it on a separate one.  In the case of the Dell, noise coming through the AC/DC transformer was absolutely horrible; my trusty home computer never had that issue.

I did NOT like those two Sangean radios I bought from ccrane company and I sent them back to ccrane company in Fortuna,California.When the two radios got here,I did see that they were made in Taiwan,but that had no bearing whatsoever for the reason I sent them back to ccrane company.The two radios did not perform any better than my old beat up radios I own and most of my old beat up radios I own,I bought them at places such as Goodwill and Salvation Army thrift stores,fleamarkets and junk shops and some of my old beat up radios I own,I bought from a couple of old guys whom I know here in Jackson,Mississippi.They are always coming up with old beat up radios and old beat up other kinds of things I like.Nice try,ccrane company,I tried twice,I struck out twice,I will not strike out again!

I think it is a division of General Motors in CanaDUH that used to make and market a certain model of automobile in CanaDUH that had the Frontenac name plate on those automobiles.I saw one of those automobiles going down a highway back in the 1950's or 1960's.They might still be making those automobiles in CanaDUH with the Frontenac name on them for all I know.It was either General Motors or Ford of CanaDUH that was making those automobiles.

Hardly omniscient.  But eternally skeptical and able to see that people are being misled by the mass media.

Question authority.  They are probably up to something.

Auschwitz is open for tourist to visit,I read something about that a year ago.A new hotel (or something like that) is going to be built on the site where Hitler commited suicide (best thing he ever did!) in that bunker.

Europa Radio International will begin broadcasting from Miami via WRMI on Sunday, March 20th on 6879 / 15725 to North America and on 9955kHz to the Caribbean.

Progress on our own recently acquired transmitter, as expected, has been slow due to transit delays and poor weather conditions however we hope to have some good news by mid-April. We will keep you updated here so please check back often.

Zundel tried and failed to get asylum in Canada as a political refugee. Canada gave him and his lawyers plenty of opportunity to state his case. More, in fact, than the average citizen want to give him. It was determine his case had no merit and was refused, and he was deported from Canada. He got the same chance to state his case as any innocent or despot from any other country.

This was after being charged with distributing materials that are contrary to Canada's new "hate crime" laws. When he couldn't make a go of it in the U.S., he returned to Canada.

He is not a Canadian citizen, and was asked to leave. Something similar happened in the U.S. I understand.

Since he is still (AFAIK) a citizen of Germany, it is one of the few places he is "welcome."

Remember that "freedom" has two parts: there is "freedom to", and then there is "freedom from." A truly free society has to find a balance between these two, often opposing, notions. Many countries have decided that freedom from Zundel's unsubstantiated and specious notions regarding recent history is more important than a single individual's freedom to spread hate propaganda.

What does this have to do with shortwave? Colour me guilty of contributing to an OT posting.

Well, no it is not really OT as Zundel was on shortwave, and his supporters apparently continue to air American Dissident Voices on WWRB.

Well,I am not Perfect,although I do come close to being Perfect,but sometimes I do type a typo or mispell a word.There are no such things as,words.Words are only pieces of sentences and paragraphs or parts of other words.

If we had used Nuclear Bunker Busters Instead of conventional explosives..
None of this would be happening now,

And I don't need any damn spellchecker crap either.I learned how to spell in school many,many years ago.Webtv has a spellchecker thingy,but I have no need for it.Newspapers used to have proof readers many years ago.Have y'all noticed the so-called spelling in newspapers lately? And often they leave out some words that should be there or they sometimes print the same two words back to back and they can't pronounce words worth a shit either.Charlotte Thomson Iserybyt's book,The Deliberate Dumbing Down Of America.Get that book and read it.Or,since some of y'all like google.com so much,go and google it.(F..K google!!!) Next time y'all have a chance to check out public school books,especially public History school books,compare those books with what y'all know or can find out about Real History.

I think you are right.Matt Drudge wasen't the first to publish news about Monica's dress giving Bill Klintoon blow jobs either,he plagiarized it from somewhere else.Lucianne Goldberg   www.lucianne.com got her start by writing a trio of novels about high class whoars.

Why couldn't he seek sanctuary at that secret Nazi base at the South Pole of which he wrote? Or perhaps that hole in the earth? Or is the hole in his head?

Trying at 1830 z on NP and CWP frequencies, but = no luck - propagation not good
I see now that he is very likely to run out of fuel.....
Perhaps a landing in Honolulu???

I wondered why all of a sudden we started getting so many TINYTENNA orders all at once!  That's all I've been working on today! Then someone alerted me to the fact that another TT troll was on the loose in RRS.

We've been very busy with the YO-YO-VEE's, as discussed in WorldRadio, QST, CQ, etc. of late.  So we haven't had too many TT orders until this past week or so.  That's why it surprised us so!

I guess any publicity is better than no publicity.  Thanks everybody!

Don't forget about DX RADIO SCHOOL on WWCR.  We're tucked in with some nice company on Saturday nights: Glen Hauser, DX Party Line, Radio Weather, Adam & George.  Tune in! 5.070 megs at 11:30 pm Eastern. (Yes, it airs at other times. But that's when the new editions begin.)

That looks like a possibility John, but I'm sure they're looking at all scenarios at this point. If he can pick up some decent tail winds the problem of the fuel discrepancy might be overcome.

Anyone know where to get one or a copy of  same?
I have the service manuals for the Kenwood R-5000 and the Icom R 71A if anyone is willing to swap for a copy.

More sensitivity  then the local noise floor doesn't do you any good and might add to your problems. Think about it. If you have 100uV of noise then a receiver with a 10uV threashol will need to have a signal that is above 100uV to be heard.
A 90uV signal will be 10uV below the noise floor and lost.
It is much better to remove your local noise to the point where yoy can use better sensitivity.

Can y'all access   www.cryptome.org   with your computers? I have been reading cryptome.org since October 1999 with my webtv and I have never had any problems accessing cryptome.org untill yesterday evening.When I click on cryptome.org now,I get a webtv pop up sign that says,The publisher refuses to give you access to the requested page.I know better than that,the webmaster at cryptome.org never refuses to grant access to cryptome.org to anybody.I don't believe it is webtv's fault that I can not access cryptome.org

Virgin Atlantic GlobalFlyer special event on the air (Mar 2, 2005) -- Special event station K0KSU will be on the air from Kansas in conjunction with the Virgin Atlantic GlobalFlyer round-the-world solo flight by Bob Fossett, who took off from Kansas February 28. The aviation adventurer is expected to return to Kansas sometime on March 3. A spokesperson for the Kansas State University-Salina Amateur Radio Club told ARRL that K0KSU is operating during daylight hours only on 20 and 15 meter SSB (K0KSU has been worked at 14.259 MHz). QSLs will bear the likeness of the GlobalFlyer, with permission from Virgin Atlantic. The club is hoping to revitalize the university station with this event.

Over the last day or so I've had a chance to experiment with one of the old ClearSpeech base units. I've heard mixed opinions about the value of this unit when it comes to DXing weak signals. Some say it can make some signals intelligible when they otherwise wouldn't be, while others say that it can't. My own sense is that it can, depending on the circumstances. If the signal is just so weak that you couldn't make it out even under optimal circumstances, then the Clearspeech can do anything about that. However, if enough signal is there but you're unable to resolve it because it's awash in noise, then the Clearspeech can make it intelligible--by stripping away the noise. So, I think this unit has real value for DX purposes, except on those occasions when the band you're listening to is just very quiet to begin with. At all other times, I think the ClearSpeech unit can make a significant difference. It's very neat and works better than I expected. When using it earlier today, I had the best, cleanest audio I've ever had of Diego Garcia on 13254 khz.

>From a purely functional point of view, I prefer the base unit to the speaker version because I already have a speaker I like, and I've heard nothing especially good about the ClearSpeech speaker. The only advantage to the speaker unit, so far as I can tell, is that it's newer and has improved signal processing capabilities. I wish Heil had decided to pick up production of the base unit instead of the speaker version, but so it goes.

Steve

cheep radidios.

I'll give yoo a mucho better deal, CuHu.  Yoo send it back...and I wil sent you a bran knew YO-YO-TENNA Dipole. Sound grate to yoo, CuHu???
Dat way, wen u git a passive antenna with no elektronik parts, you wil know it has bein yer radidio dat has had da problem. (Just remember to tell me what type of external antenna jack you have on your radio....)

Have a good one guys. (And gals!)

Speaking of gals, has anyone heard from Brenda Ann?  I know the last place she was stationed at.  But wondered if she was still able to take part in RRS.  If you hear from her, tell her God Bless from the US of A

This OT post is about Zundel.  Not about the policies or conduct of Israel.

Hiya...

Someone that saw my web page e-mailed me with a question regarding what would be the best and most economical way to get an R-75 in Poland.

I have no idea how to advise this fellow... Does anyone here have any info that I could pass on to him ??? May be a good online dealer that will ship to Poland ???

Thanx in advance...

There may well be a way to bypass the speaker. I haven't spent any time with the speaker version, though, so maybe someone who has one can comment.

They do international orders. Ask him about discount ordering on a Saturday.
Sometimes they have it.

I was thinking of buying from Crane, but I'm not sure I got the right message from your postings. Would you have been happier with them if they shipped FASTER?

Thanks for the invite.  Sorry to hear about the storm damage to your shop.
I was lucky here in Lakeland.  Jeanne was the worst of the hurricanes for us but all the damage I suffered was outside - trees down in the back yard, fence damage, etc.  I still have the lower portion of a large elm lying on my crushed storage shed, but there's not much of value in there.

WFLA TV (chan 8/Tampa) was a good info source during all the storms, WFLA radio was decent, and I have several scanners, so I could monitor local hams and public service agencies around the area.

I'm sure members of this group would be interested when you get your shop up and running

Best regards,

Greg

"As we evolve into the future of Amateur Radio what do you think we will invent? Will the ARRL have new interplanetary DX entities? How do you envision the typical Radio Amateur in 2050?"

Hams were at one time known for their ability to tinker and put together a radio literally from a box of parts.  New equipment has become so sophisticated and controlled by IC's that there are few opportunities for the basement tinkerers to really build something from scratch these days.  By 2050 I suspect the opportunity will have completely gone. There will be plenty of opportunities foe EE's and others with similar training to design and build communications equipment in the lab however.

I'm not sure there will be a need for a licensed radio amateur in the year 2050. The hobby is all about communicating with others over distances from 100 to 5000 miles away. Although the telephone certainly improved access, amateur radio gave many access to people around the globe. The world of communications has changed since the 1950's and there are numerous ways to communicate over great distances that do not require a license. The internet, email, VOIP, cell phones, satellite radio are but a few of the newer technologies that do essentially the same thing that amateur radio does. Provide access to people and information about the world.

Safety around lethal voltages was at one time a very good reason for licensing radio operators, and it still is. Unfortunately for the hobby I think that by the year 2050 most people will have figured out that they don't need potentially lethal equipment and the requisite license to communicate with people and otherwise get information about the world. There will be too many other competing options that require no license.

And the ARRL? Well, it continues to function very well as the gatekeeper for this hobby. It seems to be most interested in requiring outdated tests for radio licenses and otherwise holding on to a static image of the radio hobbyist. It's unfortunate that the ARRL sees it's mission as one of keeping the unkempt hordes on the far side of the gate. It should instead be looking at new ways to entice younger members into a hobby that needs to be opened up.

An unprovoked nuclear first strike may, just may, have raised a few brows worldwide. An almost unanimous world wide embargo against trade with the US would have followed. Israel would continue collecting welfare from the US taxpayer and continue on, business as usual.

Those old tube type radios are the best,esecially if they have wooden cabinets and usually they will pick up longer distance AM stations better too.(I own some tube type radios) Set a plastic radio or a plastic radio with digital/lights/readouts out in the hot sun or on the dashboard of your vehicle out in the hot sun and watch them go completly to RUIN! Let electromagnetic radiation zap tube type radios and they will stutter along for a while and then come back to life as though nothing ever happened,just as good as new.Plastic transistors shit isn't worth a shit! Them Eton plastic radios that some folks were talking about how nice that plastic looks! BULLSHIT!

Can y'all access   www.cryptome.org   with your computers? I have been reading cryptome.org since October 1999 with my webtv and I have never had any problems accessing cryptome.org untill yesterday evening.When I click on cryptome.org now,I get a webtv pop up sign that says,The publisher refuses to give you access to the requested page.I know better than that,the webmaster at cryptome.org never refuses to grant access to cryptome.org to anybody.I don't believe it is webtv's fault that I can not access cryptome.org

hey ace. you still havent explained yourself on the "portable" and/or "tote it" crack. i am a tard, so spell it out to me........ do you base your self worth and reputation on the value of your rig?  the other 90% of us who chose to "tote it" are tards? if this is what you think then the ham"s have a name for people like you. APPLIANCE OPERATOR. hell, i would rather just sit in front of the tv and give up radio forever than to realise that i was just an APPLIANCE OPERATOR! do you even understand why that is such a insult? probably not.

I tried out my Tiny-Tenna on my Panasonic AM/FM/Shortwave radio and my GE AM/FM long distance radio and my Sears Wavfarer AM/FM/Shortwave radio and some of my other radios too and my Tiny-Tenna made absolutely no difference at all helping to pick up long distance radio stations regardless of which radios I tried it on or regardless of which radio stations I was tuning in.Why doesn't Tiny-Tenna stand behind their products? It could be Tiny-Tenna sent me a new defective product,things like that do happen sometimes.I am not and I will not spend so much as one red cent on another Tiny-Tenna anything,I struck out twice at ccrane company.I once drove a truck many years ago for an auto parts dealer company delivering parts all over town and once in a while a part was new defective.And the name is,cuhulin (CATTLE RAID OF COOLEY,over 700 years ago in Ireland.Look it up)

Maybe he didn't - it's possible someone else took him out. But I've read his stuff and read a lot about him over the years, and honestly, I'm suprised he didn't kill himself sooner. He was a genius, but he was also as looney as a screen door on a submarine.

I suspect - frequently - that sudden, unexplained suicides are often the result of a very grim bit of news the deceased got at their most recent doctor visit.

Typical, unhelpful? Virtually all of my posts are on topic. You won't find more than a handful where I replied to OT threads. You made hundreds of OT posts during the pre-election weeks.

Yep....sounds like a fine, group of quality radios there, CuHu(lin).

My offer still stands.  One of my more expensive, passive dipole antennas...for the TT.

Struck out at C. Crane too?  Gee....you seem to have a lot of problems with dealers. Hmmmmmm.

In spite of all of your antenna & reception problems, I hope you have a fine night....

(BTW....your usenet "handle" is coming up CuHu through the Google newsreader.  Nothing personal, mind you.)

All I know about the name Frontenac is that it is a French name and the name of the guy who founded this town.

Not this webtv boy.I have never harvested any content from www.cryptome.org  (or any other websites) I first got internet access in October 1999 when I bought my webtv box at a wal mart store and I hooked it up to my tv set and turned it on.Soon after,I discovered www.cryptome.org   and that website is one of many news sites and science and technology websites I enjoy checking out at least once a day or night.All I do at cryptome.org is read a few articles and then I go elsewhere and read some other websites.

Oh really! Post an example of "drudge Kool-Aid" please.

I was reading a few of the posts about how there will not be a need for ham radio in the future due to all the new ways of communicating.  That has a lot to do with it but I think the biggest problem with ham radio is the hams themselves.  CB'ers killed CB'ing with bad language and hams are doing it with those stupid contests.  I remember as a kid getting my first SW radio and listening to hams talk about their lives and the area that they lived in and stuff like that.  Now when I turn it on I get guys talking only about their radio or calling CQ CQ contest.  Then another will come back and say they are 5 and 9 out here in Kansas and soon the guy is calling CQ CQ contest again.  Does any one think that people are going to invest in a radio and all the learning to do what are nothing more than fancy radio checks?  If that is what the ham bands are going to be used for, then I say turn them over to business and telephone radio freqs.  Ric.

Are those spreader arms metallic? Looks to me you went through the trouble to insulate the loop wire from them. The metal arms will mess up the fields around the antenna. Switch to something non metallic in that case.

...it ain't nice either if the communiques Zundel used were specifically designed and coded to do an end-run around plain speech understanding, but yet intended to incite violence and a hatred of Jews in general.

> Hasn't there been one or more folks arrested in Germany for a book they

Yes. (The rub however was that they also were German Citizens who were producing pamphlets, fliers and books from within the USA, specifically at the HQ of a well known hate group, in the German language for covert shipment into Germany. When these shi+heads went back into Germany the authorities were waiting with open arms and handcuffs......)

> Well, Here's one whisked off to Germany, from Canada, so they could face > the charge of denying the holocaust!

In case you were not aware of it, Ernst Zundel is a GERMAN CITIZEN. He is not a Canadian Citizen. He fled to Canada on a visa about a week before he was to be picked up by the German Authorities on Political Incitement charges.

Germany has been trying to get him extradited for Years, and it finally came thru today. That's all.

(I also assume you didn't hear on this evening's news also that a Federal Judge in IL had her husband and elderly mother killed in her home because she ruled against the leader of another related Domestic hate group, the World Church of The Creator. So you see, people like Zundel are SCUM who need to be locked away in a 12 by 15 where their ideas cannot further incite these two or more goons who killed members of this Federal Judge's family as a reprisal.)

Nice people that Zundel and his racist goose-stepping ilk are eh...?

(I wonder if all the domestic broadcasting shortwave radio kooks will be moaning over Zundel over the comming days ?)

It doesn't take a whole lot of smarts to operate the typical tabletop, or even to operate the typical transceiver. The early hams, like in the 1910s and 1920s, THEY were smart. But today? Any moron can pass a simple test and get a transceiver and raise hell on the amateur bands, as a couple recent cases of interference chronicled on this group show. 80 years ago, you needed to know a good chunk of radio and electronics theory to become a ham, THEN you needed to know how to turn a wire coil from a Ford Model T into a working MW receiver (not as easy as it looks). Today, we have "Push To Talk". As long as you can pass that test, you can buy an "appliance" transceiver and the FCC washes their hands of you unless you take out every repeater within 1000 miles of Los Angeles. I'm sure there are still smart hams out there. I'm not attacking you guys. I'm attacking You Know Who who thinks that having three Drake tabletops makes him Big Man On SW. I notice that he doesn't even bother to get a ham license, and he thinks he's so smart because he has an ANALOG world time clock. Whoopee.

Cuhulin probably doesn't know what an IP number is. Anybody who would brag about owning a Webtv is stupid. I remember trying to download websites on a black and white Mac with a 9600 baud modem. Hell, I remember trying to negotiate the net using Unix. Quick, cuhulin-what's Unix? Don't know? Figures.

Date: FEB 2005 Author: B. Russell Subject: MAKE QUICK EASY MONEY FAST! EARN LOADS OF MONEY, HONESTLY, FAIRLY, AND LEGALLY Greetings All, MAINTAIN DISCIPLINE, HONESTY AND PATIENCE...Above all else FOCUS! I found this on a bulletin board and decided to try it: A little while back, I was browsing through news groups and e-mails just like you are now, and came across an article similar to this that said you can make thousand of dollars within weeks with only an initial investment of

$6.00. So I thought, "yeah right, this must be a scam," but like most of us, I was curious, so I kept reading. Anyway, it said that you send $1.00 to each of the six names and addresses stated in the article. You then place your own name and address on the bottom of the list and post the article in at least 200 news groups. {There are thousands}. No catch, that was it. So after thinking it over, and talking to a few people first, I thought about trying it. I figured, "What have I got to lose; except six stamps and $6.00 right, right?" Then I invested the measly $6.00. WELL GUESS WHAT?........Within seven days, I started getting money in the mail I was in awe. I figured it would end soon, but the money just kept coming in. In my second week I grossed only $17.00. Several weeks thereafter I had collected approximately one thousand dollars. In each consecutive week I am averaging more than the preceding week and it continues to grow. Currently, I have made a few thousands and it is still coming rapidly. It is certainly worth the six-dollar investment and six stamps, believe it or not I have spent more on lottery with no returns. Let me explain how this works and most important, why it works.....Also, make sure you print this article out NOW, so you can get the information. STOP NOW: Print this article out so you can get the information you need off of it. I promise you that if you follow the directions exactly you will start making more money than you thought possible by doing something so easy. Suggestion: Read this entire message carefully, and follow the simple directions and watch the money come in. It is easy, It is legal, and your investment is only $6.00 plus postage. Important: This is not a rip-off, it is decent, it is legal; and it virtually without risk- it really works! If all of the following instructions are adhered to, you will receive extraordinary dividends. PLEASE NOTE: Please follow the directions EXACTLY, and 50-thousand-dollars or more can be yours within (3) months. This program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants. Please continue its success by carefully adhering to the instructions. You will now become a part of the Mail Order business. You are in the business of developing Mailing Lists. Many large corporations are happy to pay big bucks for quality lists. However, this money made from the mailing lists is secondary to income which is made from people like you and me asking to be included on that list. page one ere Are The Four Easy Steps To Success: Get six (6) separate pieces of paper and write the following on each piece of paper. "PLEASE PUT ME ON YOUR MAILING LIST." Now get six (6) U.S.1.00 bills and place One inside of Each of the six pieces of paper so the bill will not be seen through the envelope (to prevent thievery). Next, place one paper in each of the six envelopes and seal them with the dollar bill enclosed. You now should have six sealed envelopes each with a piece of paper stating the above phrase with your name and address written thereon [don't forget to enclose the $1.00]. What you are doing is creating a service-THIS IS ABSOLUTELY LEGAL! You are requesting a legitimate service and you are paying for it. Clearly, I was a little skeptical and a little worried about the legal aspects of it all. Therefore, I checked it out with the U.S. Postal Service (1-800-275-8777) and they confirmed that it is indeed legal. Mail the six envelopes to the following addresses: [1] J. Force 701 SE 15th Street # 8 Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33316 [2] Myla Lette 400 S Kingsley Dr.#304 Los Angeles, CA 90020-3224 [3] Mrs. Florence Y. Moore 400 S.

Kingsley Drive #304 Los Angeles, CA 90020-3224 [4] A. Person P.O. Box # 5156 Philadelphia, PA 19141-5156 [5] Andrew Biela 3776 Capitol Warren, Michigan 48091 [6] Britney Russell 1812 Garrison Plantation Marietta GA, 30060. Now take the #1 name off the list that you see above, move the other names up (six becomes 5, and 5 becomes 4, and etc.) and add YOUR NAME as number 6 on the list. Change anything you need to but try to keep this article as close to the original as possible. Now post your amended article to at least 200 news groups. (I think there are close to 24,000 groups). Page two All you need is 200, but remember, the more you post, the more money you make! This is perfectly legal. If you have any doubts, refer to Title 18 Section 1302 & 1341 of the Postal Lottery Laws. Keep a copy of these directions for yourself and whenever you need money you can reuse it again. Please Remember: That this program remains successful because of the honesty and integrity of the participants and by their carefully adhering to directions. Look at it this way, if you are of integrity, the program will continue and the money that so many others have received will come your way. NOTE: You may want to retain every name and address sent to you, either on a computer or hard copy and keep the notes people send you. This VERIFIES that you are truly providing a service. Also, it is a good practice to wrap the $1.00 bill in dark paper to avoid the risk of mail theft. So, as each post is downloaded and the directions carefully followed, all members will be reimbursed for their participation as a List Developer with one dollar each. Your name will be moved up the list geometrically so that when your name reaches the #1 position you will be receiving Thousand of Dollars in Cash! What an opportunity for only six-dollars ($6) one-dollar ($!) for each of the six people listed above. Send it now, add your own name to the list and you are in business. Directions For How To Post To News Groups You do not need to retype this letter to do your own posting. Simply put your cursor at the beginning of this letter and drag your cursor to the bottom of this document, and select copy from the edit menu. This will copy the entire letter into the computer's memory. Open a blank notepad file and place your cursor at the top of the blank page. From the edit menu select paste. This will paste a copy of the letter into the notepad so that you will add your name to the list. Save your new notepad file as a text File, if you want to do your posting in different settings, you will always have this file to go back to. Use Netscape or Internet explorer and try searching for various new groups (on-line forums, message boards, chat sites, discussions). Visit these message boards and post this article as a new message by highlighting the text of this letter and selecting paste from the edit menu. Fill in the subject, this will be the header that everyone sees as they scroll through the list of postings in a particular group, click the post message button. You are finished You have finished your first posting. Congratulations! THAT'S IT. All you have to do is jump news groups and post away, after you get the hang of it, it will take about 30 seconds for each news group. REMEMBER THE MORE NEWS GROUPS YOU POST IN, THE MORE MONEY YOU WILL MAKE! IT IS A MOST FOR YOU TO POST A MINIMUM OF 200. "That's It" You will begin receiving money from around the world within days. You may eventually want to rent a P.O. Box due to the heavy volume of mail you will be receiving. If you wish to remain anonymous you can adopt another name to use, if it agreeable with the postman to deliver the mail. MAKE

CERTAIN THAT ALL ADDRESSES ARE CORRECT. Now the Why part: Assume for example you get a 7.5% return, which is very conservative. Please view the following estimated breakdowns page three Estimated breakdowns: When you mail 200 letters, 15 people will send you $1.00 Those 15 mail out 200 letters, 225 people will mail you $1.00 Those 225 mail out 200 letters, 3,375 people will mail you $1.00 Those 3,375 mail out 200 letters, 50,625 people will mail you $1.00 Those 50,625 mail out 200 letters, 759,375 people will mail you $1.00 By now your name has dropped off the list, but so far you have received at least $759,375. With an original investment of only $6.00 [plus postage]. AMAZING! When your name is no longer on the list, you take the latest posting in the news groups, and send out another $6.00 to names on the list, putting you name at number six [6] again. And start posting again. You have to remember and realize that thousands of people all over the world are joining the Internet and reading these articles every day, JUST LIKE YOU right now. So you can get $6.00 and see if it really works. People have said, "What if the plan is played out and no one sends you the money? So what! What are the chances of that happening when there are tons of new honest people who are joining every day and are willing to give it a try? Estimates are at 20 to 50-thousand new users, everyday, with thousands of those joining the actual Internet, Remember, play FAIRLY AND HONESTLY and this will really work. Sincerely, Subject: RE: MAKE QUICK EASY MONEY P.S. Hereafter, all confirmations of your name being placed on the "mailing list" will no longer be mailed to you directly due to the postage increase. You must have an E-mail address or access to an e-mail address to be notified of your name being placed on the "Mailing List." Don't forget to enclose an e-mail address along with your address. page four

Yes, some people are just to dim to put him in the kill file.

I think you should share the profit you are making from the Trolling in the news group since everyone reading the it has to put up with it. You should be paying for your advertising.

Let me know when the check is coming.

MEET PROMO GIRL: THE VOICE THAT HAS STEPPED OUTSIDE THE CBC RADIO BOX

-- by Elizabeth Payne, The Ottawa Citizen, February 19, 2005

http://www.canada.com/ottawa/ottawacitizen/news/styleweekly/story.html?id=39ff0669-4ff7-42fd-9346-adf55824c5ae

Dear Promo Girl

Imagine you are listening to the radio, minding your own business, when a persistent voice seeps out of the box and into your head. Imagine that, instead of absorbing the substance of the voice's message, you become fixated on its style. Where did that voice come from, you wonder, and who is the person attached to it? Is she younger than me? Is she being ironic? I thought I was just listening to CBC radio, is there something I'm missing here?

Imagine, Promo Girl, that someone younger and chirpier has taken control of your solid, predictable (OK, sometimes dull) radio and that it hasn't quite sounded the same since ...

At least that's how it feels ever since Promo Girl became a regular part of the CBC Radio 1 broadcasting day. There she is, her quirky, chirrupping voice giving us a heads-up on what's coming up later on the Mother Corp's daily schedule.

"So the world has ended, a guy's still got to keep busy ... " She pops in between programs throughout the day, waking me up from whatever CBC-induced REM state I'm in and breaking into my consciousness.

Is that a smile I hear in her voice? No, that's just her style; she's happy, she's a bit rumpled, she was up late chatting with some girlfriends over a few glasses of wine and has not had time to completely pull herself together but, hey, those sort of details don't bother Promo Girl.

Promo Girl is, in fact, a figment of CBC promotion's imagination. The voice belongs to an actress (who remains anonymous), and the persona is pure fantasy. Still, she is quickly becoming a very real part of CBC Radio. And listeners, like me, are asking ourselves: What does this mean?

Chris Boyce, an executive producer with CBC's Saturday afternoon variety show Definitely Not the Opera, helped develop Promo Girl. The network was looking for someone who would give a "consistent sound and tone" to its on-air promotions, he said in an interview from Winnipeg. What they didn't want was some "voice of God" announcer popping in between programs to talk about the daily schedule in deep, ringing, intimidating tones. They wanted someone more casual and engaging.

Read: Someone who would appeal to that coveted younger listenership. "We wanted something that wouldn't sound like every other broadcaster ... that would cut through the CBC Radio 1 program flow," Boyce said. The concept was launched just in time for the network's summer season last year.

"We were looking for something that was playful, fun and summer-like ... There was just something about her that jumped out of the the radio and felt like summer." Promo Girl was born.

Well, actually, the name wasn't born until the voice began to develop a character. It was the actress who first began calling herself Promo Girl. And the name it caught on.

As if to underline the fact, Promo Girl are among the first words out of Mark Thompson's mouth when I contact the manager of English radio communications. "So you want to do something on Promo Girl ... " he says.

Thompson tells me that Promo Girl, in less than a year on the job, has gotten a "terrific" response from the public.

"People seem to love her," he says, although he acknowledges there are also those who "absolutely hate" Promo Girl. "She gets inside people's heads." No kidding.

That is what got me thinking about Promo Girl. I don't absolutely hate her, although you don't have to look far for evidence that others do. One chat room participant said he switched to another radio station because he couldn't stand hearing Promo Girl's spots. "CBC's Promo Girl is not only annoying, but the tone and content of her promos often is (sic) inappropriate for the program being promoted." Another placed Promo Girl fourth on a list of Most Annoying Canadians. She landed behind Don Cherry but ahead of Celine Dion and that smug Canadian Tire commercial guy. Ouch.

Which is a bit unfair. She's not annoying. She would be quite endearing if I had met her in a sitcom or on the pages of a paperback. But I'm not so sure I want to share radio time with her.

I hate the way she gets inside my head and hijacks my radio listening experience. One minute I'm passively listening to the comforting drone of interviews mingled with low-key small talk, wondering whether we can all stand pasta again for dinner, the next minute Promo Girl is sticking her head out of the radio and speaking DIRECTLY to me.

Suddenly, I feel as if I am not alone. Someone is listening to the radio with me, and she sounds like she wants to be my friend. She keep asking me questions as if she might actually expect a response.And then there is her voice. It sounds young, but its main characteristic is that it is hip. Promo Girl has a youthful hipness that can sound incongruous when she's promo-ing Quirks and Quarks, say, or a serious piece of journalism.

None of which are huge problems for many listeners. "I love Promo Girl," one chat room participant said. "She sounds like a real person with some of the natural idiosyncratic unpolished timbre that you don't hear from a smooth, professionally-trained beauty voice."

This is true. But was is really gnawing at me about Promo Girl is the post-Seinfeldian irony embedded in her voice. That's CBC radio, she seems to be saying, but this is us, and we're younger and hipper than all that. We see the world differently.

And, ever since the days when I munched my peanut butter sandwich while CBC Toronto offered its lunch-hour agricultural reports about beef and pork futures (I can still taste peanut butter when I think of  the words "choice and good ones"), I have viewed CBC Radio as the home of those older, wiser and with better pronounciation and grammar skills than I.

Promo Girl, with her Americanized vowels ("9:30 in Newfound-lay-end") just hammers home something I have been trying to ignore. I'm dated. You know when staid CBC starts sounding hipper than you, that you are over the hill. Sigh. Thanks, Promo Girl, I'd like to get together for drinks sometime, but it would probably be past my bedtime.

Elizabeth Payne is Style Weekly deputy editor. Her column runs every second week. � The Ottawa Citizen 2005 (via Bill Westenhaver, DXLD)

Personally, I find Promo Girl exceedingly annoying! 73- (Bill Westenhaver, QC, DX LISTENING DIGEST)

Oh, so you are also miso@sushi.com? How many sock puppets do you have on the news group?

98% of the news on the Drudge site are links to other sites.
The exceptions are the news he breaks himself.

You must be choking on your own chain.

There is no real need for them now.

Some ham's have a bad attitude toward the hobby but you can't lump them all into one group.

Well, those are some of the reasons why I'm not a ham.

Heya friends this is pretty cheesy in my opinion.  this "QSL" consists of getting my report back with 1 line "confirm your report" or words to that effect and signed.  Suppose it is better than nothing but not by much.  To think, AM BCB stations used to vie with each other to have nice QSL cards.  I got some card stock and printed up some prepared form cards and am sending them with my reports, I've heard about these for years , will see if they do any good.  On a happier note, that Grundig S350 is a good BCB DX receiver.  Was reading an old post about the legendary R390.  When I was aboard ship I had the pleasure of access to one and they are GREAT on the AM BCB.  Having said that..I nowadays have neither the dough or room to get one now hi hi.  Anyhow more will be revealed.  Take care happy thursday

The ham radio hobby really needs to rethink the way that it controls access to the hobby.  Continuing to require seriously outdated tests like morse code is a turnoff to many potential amateur radio buffs.

Why not try something revolutionary such as live testing for safe and courteous operation using voice and digital modes.

When I listen to the guys on HF my sense is that their average age continues to increase. I also detect that overall participation is way off from a decade ago - lots of open space in what were once crowded chunks of spectrum.  I hear very few young and virtually no female voices of any age.  Ham radio needs to think of changes to become a worthwhile alternative to the many other modes  of communicating that do not require a license.  If it continues doing business as it has then it's future will indeed be short - possibly much less than 2050 as mentioned in the earlier thread.  The remaining members can look forward to the FCC continuing to divert more amateur radio spectrum to commercial interests that want to use it.

By way of background I come from a family of radio amateurs.  My son (an electrical engineer) considered the hobby, but thought the licensing requirement silly and the morse code requirement laughable in todays world.  He can talk around the world several ways via the internet.  He has a cell phone that does much the same thing a handheld tribander does - allows him to talk with other people.  It looks a lot like a handheld, but it costs less and doesn't require a license.

Time for the hobby and it's gatekeeper to wake up before it is too late.

Hey, be glad you didn't start at 45 baud.
Old time RTTY was SLOW.
My first landine used my RTTY TU(modem) to talk to a friends brand spanking new BBS.
Then I upgraded to 110 ASCII.
And my first hard drive was a whopping 5Meg.
That's not a typo, 5,000,000 bytes.
What was I going to fill it with?
An MFM drive running in a 5 slot IBM PC.
Somewhere I still have the Cassette diagnostics for the original PC. It was the only PC I had that supported tape, floppy and "hard file". You've never lived until you use cassette tape to load a basic program on an IBM.
My brother in law is still using my first IBM PC to run his small Bingo supply business. That old 5M keep humming along.
I doubt if anything I am running now will still be kicking in 15 years.

Your comments are certainly going to spawn a lot of commentary! I hope the vitriol stays reasonably low, as I can see where you are coming from. In my short experience, rag-chewers talk about a.) the weather b.) their equipment and c.) their cats.

I wanted to get into amateur radio when I was a kid -- it was exactly the kind of technology I was fascinated by -- but for various reasons never really got beyond building my own VHF "scanner" and learning how to solder. All these years later, the purchase of a SW set has rekindled my interest in amateur. I've recently decided to get my Basic Qualification just for fun.

However, I've noticed many of the same things you have, and I /have/ wondered if the glory days are over, and I'm just too late. I think there is no surprise that the mean age of amateurs has only gone up. With the rise of internet radio, and the scaling down of some of the stations, much the same good be said for SWL, as well.

I decided to go for it anyway, and to even practice Morse (I'm learning at 15 WPM just to set a challenge.) I figure I can give myself a few years on the +30MHz areas until I get my code endorsement (or the ITU recommends dropping code, and Industry Canada follows suit), participating as I can.

I think contests might be a fun way to meet people outside of your local "net", but agree that unless you promise to hook up at a later time, the pressure is really just to work 'em and log 'em and move on. I'm going to a ham swap meet in the summer to scope out my local amateur community.

As someone else said in this thread, amateur cab be about more than talking about gear and the weather on SSB. What the hell. I'll discover that for myself.

One last comment. The funny thing is that the many licensing bodies that give access to the amateur bands have specific rules about what kinds of conversation can take place.

Industry Canada has a requirement that amateur phone conversation (and I'm paraphrasing now) be of a "basic and trivial non-contentious nature." I understand that the FCC has similar wording when discussing the form and content of U.S. amateur phone communication.

So, in reality, amateurs are supposed to fill their conversation with radio checks and weather reports. Trivial bits of tech gossip and rig checks are expected and encouraged, according to the test questions I've answered.

I'm sure that this doesn't limit the actual range of subjects phone operators (or CW, for that matter) chat about. I'm just pointing out that the actual rules for using the public airwaves are pretty clear what you can and cannot say.

That being said, I'm a fan of keeping a good portion of the spectrum open and non-commercial. The airwaves (and the FCC used to be pretty strong about this) belong to the people, for use by the people. Industry has enough of the spectrum. Given they have the R&D resources, they can also work on squeezing more information into a tighter bandwidth if they really need more room.

From what I hear on VHF and UHF, industry uses radio the same way amateurs do: 90% goofing around and rag-chewing and 10% real work. The other day a city bus driver had to tell a number of "phone ops" drivers to stop rag-chewing on the job!

It is NOT the code tests and exams that is the big turnoff -- it is a lack of good old fashioned "Yankee Can Do"

You either see "outdated useless requirements" as a challenge to overcome and achieve your goals or you whine and drop out.

All of the below is such a gross generalization that it is not worthy of a response.

Maybe spend your time training new folks, get involved in emergency communications and promote Amateur Radio.

P.S. Good luck with your silly phones when the big one hits. During our fires in So Calif -- they were useless.

Following the thread on Y.S> (teh now defunct pirate) and the mention of the odd data bursts before each out burst. I followed one of the links and ended up at the GRAM homepage.
Gram is a nifty FFT display program. I have an often use V5 and haven't checked them out in years.
He has a link to a file that "decodes" to display an image when viewed with the Gram FFT program.
Here is the link to the FFT image display:
http://www.visualizationsoftware.com/gram/jpeg/face2.jpg
Here is the link to the newest shareware version of gram:
http://www.visualizationsoftware.com/gram/gramdl.html
(The software expires in 10 days.)
And here is the link to the actual "equation.wav" file:
http://www.visualizationsoftware.com/gram/example15.html
Yu will have to click on the WAV button and download it.
Install gram and drop the equation wav file on to it.

Very interesting.
I wish I had recorded some of the data bursts from Y.S.
If, and I have no idea, Y.S. went to this much trouble, for what is almost an inside joke, he must be very bright and very dumb at the same time.
I am going to add checking the odd FSK sigs I receive on HF for this type of "hidden" data.
You have to admit that this is an different use for audio.
As I read the thread I thought the idea of using a audio file to carry an image as FFT data to be "out there". I guess we can think of it as another form of FAX or SSTV.

I've wondered whether it was actually a digital signal at all or whether it was just the noise that was possibly made by the pull toy the fellow got the recording from.

Maybe we'll find out one of these days.

Pastor Peter J. Peters stated last night that he'd be coming on an hour earlier (REGULAR TIME IS 10:00 pm / 22:00 EST // 03:00 UTC M-F) on Thursdays for a while.

5.070 MHz, WWCR, The World's Greatest shortwave radio station - Pastor Pete said so!   ;-) While I cannot agree it is the person you mentioned above, I do however know first hand that Mr. Hollingsworth has been on neighborhood patrol from the Time Difference of Arrival Array on 75 Meters of late, so I guess one should expect more of the special-people from that HF radio venue to be comming down here to UseNet, where it's less likely they'll get nabbed by the FCC and they can still "get it out of their system".....so to speak         : )

Cheers.

I a world where "Clear Channel" owns a lot of (most?) AM stations, and these stations have very few staff, you are lcuky to get any response. In today's market, someone recieving your signal from a 1000 miles away is a non issue.
Sad but true.

I have never bought or used a Justice antenna before.I used to listen Chuck Harder   www.forthepeople.org   www.chuckharder.com  on my radios.I have listened to his radio talk show for more than twenty years.He used to be on an AM radio station in this area,either WJNT or WMPQ,I don't remember which station now.Then he went to Shortwave radio,then to satellite.One of the reasons I am going to buy myself a Lyngsat satellite set top box with the dish and hand held remote control in two months is so I can pick up his programs again and there are many other free to air tv and radio programs on Lyngsat too.I used to hear Bill Laterbach's radio commercials about Tiny-Tenna on Chuck Harder's radio talk show.One day I decided to buy one of those Tiny-Tennas,so I placed my order.I was believing those radio commercials about the Tiny-Tenna too.When it got here,I followed the instructions exactly.I installed a fresh 9 volt battery and I tried my Tiny-Tenna out on some of my radios.I couldn't hear any difference whatsoever.Either my Tiny-Tenna was defective when my Tiny-Tenna got here or those claims they make about the Tiny-Tenna are pure hogwash.Of course I know how to properly install a 9 volt battery.I have been useing 9 volt batteries in various things since back in the 1950's.Trailer trash,you say.I have never lived in a trailer before and I say it is wrong to say folks who live in trailers are trailer trash.Why don't you go visit some folks who do live in trailers? Why don't you go visit some folks who live in regular houses? Why don't you go visit some folks who live in apartments and hotels? Boy!,I sure was expecting my Tiny-Tenna to at least do something,I wasen't expecting miracles though.I wonder how many of the parts Tiny-Tenna uses to make those Tiny-Tennas are made in China? Look at the things you own,where were they manufactured? Look around in the stores,look at clothing articles that say,Made In U.S.A.Sure,perhaps the name tags on some of the clothing articles are Made In U.S.A.but where was the rest of the clothing article made/manufactured? Every one of my old eight vehicles I own was manufactured right here in U.S.A.My oldest vehicle dates from 1914,my newest vehicle dates from 1986.Fords,Chevrolets,and two old Jeeps,1942 Willys World War Two Jeep,1948 Willys Civilian Jeep and one Dodge vehicle that dates from 1978.I try to buy products manufactured here in U.S.A.whenever possible,but that is getting harder and harder to do as time goes by.What was the latest product/items you bought,today or yesterday or the day before? Where was it or they made/manufactured? What Country(s)? In China? I do not like buying products manufactured in China,but how can us Americans do otherwise? You Tell Me! I just now took another look at the package of five resistors I bought from a Radio Shack store a couple of years ago.Made in China for Radio Shack.A Division of Tandy Corp,it says right there on the package.I Love America as much as anybody else.I believe in America and American Capitalism.fed govt is selling us down the River more and more every day! You build a Tiny-Tenna that actually works and performs as you say it does and you test that particular Tiny-Tenna yourself and you send it to me and if does actually work as you say it will,I will tell the World,I will help you sell more Tiny-Tennas.Keep the power adapter/wall wart,as they say.I got "took" on my Tiny-Tenna I bought from you,I am not going to send money and get "took" again.

Hmmm...since you seem to think that learning an antiquated and absurdly slow way of communicating isn't the stumbling block, please tell us why young people are not signing up in droves like they did in the 50's and 60's.  And please tell me what "Yankee Can Do" means and how it is supposed to attract badly needed young blood to a rapidly aging hobby.

Sad to say, but your attitude parrots that of the ARRL and it is exactly what is going to kill this hobby.  Yes, I know it hurts the pride a bit to realize the test so many hams once had to pass does not produce meaningful results.  Much of the ham test is about as relevant as requiring buggy skills of prospective automobile driving licensees. And requiring that new hams pass the old test because the oldtimers had to will just continue to turn the new blood away.

Ii would be nice to say that hams provide a service in times of emergency, but the specific instances where they actually benefited the emergency worker or had a positive impact on locals are fewer and fewer.  I've tried listening to H&W nets in hurricane season and they seem to degenerate into chaos more than provide a useful service. People trampling over one another, sending code on top of voice, etc. It is as though many of them were trying for the contact rather than trying to help.

If the designation of licensed radio amateur was a desirable goal then wouldn't we see more young people trying to attain it?  But just the opposite it happening.  The graying of the hobby and the inexorable reduction in the number of active hams is obvious to anyone who listens in.

And if the greater ham community and the ARRL collectively decides to continue playing gatekeeper by requiring meaningless tests to become a licensed radio amateur there will come a time that that nobody will be knocking at the gate.

Heard you knocking, please go away.

In my long experience, the ones who complain are most often the ones who can't seem to knuckle down and study.

That holds true for most any endeavour.

If you don't like the conversation, you can always join in and change it...Can't ya?
Contests only run occasionally...If thats all you hear, you don't listen too often. The WARC bands have no contests in general...What would tel and biz want with HF? Useless for their purposes...Who are you to say what they use the bands for, if you aren't even a ham? You really don't even have a clue...Seriously...It's like a circus weight guesser trying to tell the acrobats how and where they should do their tricks, even though you have never done acrobatics...
Ham radio is not going anywhere, anytime soon. It does compete with puters, internet, etc though...No biggie... I can, and do, talk about anything I want to. Using that as an excuse, is no excuse. Even the oft blasted code is little excuse these days, being even the extra class only requires a measly 5 wpm. I hardly even consider 5 wpm a usable speed as far as CW goes it's so slow ...
They will probably drop that before too long..Ham radio is what you make it. If you ain't a ham, you can't really complain much. Also, investing in a radio/s can be cheap, or expensive. Both will work just fine. I'd hardly call myself loaded with cash, and I've got three whole stations just sitting on this table I'm at...
More radios on the floors...My first xmtr cost me nothing...Was built with junk parts..You can get a decent HF rig for 200-300 bucks, or even less if you know where to look. I bought an older yeasu 50w 2 meter rig for 40 bucks a while back...It's all up to how much, or how little you wanna spend.. MK

> The ham radio hobby really needs to rethink the way that it controls access to the hobby. Continuing to require seriously outdated tests like morse code is a turnoff to many potential amateur radio buffs. Why not try something revolutionary such as live testing for safe and courteous operation using voice and digital modes.
> When I listen to the guys on HF my sense is that their average age continues to increase. I also detect that overall participation is way off from a decade ago - lots of open space in what were once crowded chunks of spectrum. I hear very few young and virtually no female voices of any age. Ham radio needs to think of changes to become a worthwhile alternative to the many other modes of communicating that do not require a license. If it continues doing business as it has then it's future will indeed be short - possibly much less than 2050 as mentioned in the earlier thread. The remaining members can look forward to the FCC continuing to divert more amateur radio spectrum to commercial interests that want to use it.

Hard to say. There is a significant difference between a radio amateur and a radio user. A radio amateur implies a degree of sophistication that you don't get from a regular old radio user. Remember CB?? The people who would have found CB trendy would find cellphones trendy. Simply turning on a 2M handheld and talking into it doesn't make one a radio amateur; you need to understand what it is you're doing. I, for example, don't qualify as a radio amateur because I know how to use a cell or the internet. I'd need to study radio theory and understand what it is that I'm doing. Does that mean I'm for code?? No, I really don't care about that very much, because there are enough friends that I have who are content to be Techs without code.

Do the Feds have the right to take away the spectrum? Sure; but the spectrum that's getting the most noise (outside of BPL, of course) is the real high end stuff in the GHz range, far beyond 2M and the other bands most of us think of as the Ham bands.

Could hams become irrelevant in the future?? Sure they could if everyone uses cells, but in the end things like music and movie industry reps wanting payment for their copyrighted material will probably influence the direction that satellite, internet radio and regular radio will go more than the hams.  A local radio station ended up having to sell it's regular broadcast station because they got way into debt providing money to the recording industry for their internet broadcasts, which the recording industry wanted top dollar for, not the discount that they give the broadcast radio stations.  If the recording industry does that to satellite and internet streamers, it'll kill off most of them pretty darn quick, and the "need" to take the hams' frequencies will evaporate.

The cell may cost less initially, but to use it you keep pumping money to the provider company.  Get a secondhand 2M, and the cell company's fees will eclipse it in a year or two.  Of course, if you want to do other things with your cell phone, like do pictures, that'll cost you extra.

The issue isn't whether I'm trying to enter the hobby or not or whether I like taking meaningless tests. The issue is whether or not the hobby is interesting enough to attract new blood. From what I have seen at hamventions and heard on the bands there are few if any young people attracted to the hobby. It is certainly easier to ignore an obvious shift in ham radio demographics than to do something about it. But the decision to do nothing will mean the hobby will continue to grey and lose active members.

I'm not surprised to hear the FCC talk about taking spectrum dedicated to amateur radio or that they are approving schemes that will surely cause interference on the ham bands...are you? Maybe the FCC recognizes that the ham community is not the force it once was.

Last time I looked the numbers were actually up.

This is the same refrain I've heard for the past 35+ years. (I was licensed in 1970).

Same as shortwave radio dying, which I've heard for almost 40 years.

Same old story. Heard it before.

listen to the bands...ain't nearly as busy as it once was.  And listen

I was just now thinking.I think my Tiny-Tenna would make a good Fishing Lure.All I would have to do is tag a Fishing Hook on there,it already has a line on it about seven and a half feet long.BassPro is building a new BassPro store just across the Pearl River from Jackson by a Lake over there in Pearl,Mississippi and folks driving along I-20 over there will be able to see the BassPro store and that will help drag in more customers for BassPro and about a year or so ago I read in the Clarion Ledger   www.clarionledger.com  the Atlanta A's are going to move to Pearl.There is a new Baseball Stadium being built in Pearl or so I heard.Yeah,I can get over there and show them folks how good my Tiny-Tenna Fishing Lure works.It would make a neat unique and ufonious Christmas Tree Ornament too.Heck,I might as well get some kind of use from my Tiny-Tenna,after all,I paid about $10.00 plus shipping and handling charges for it about seven something years ago.Come on folks,1001 uses for Tiny-Tennas? I am fixin to go over to the Goodwill thrift store in about an hour to see what kind of junk is over there I don't need,there might be Tiny-Tenna over there too.Drinking? I buy a sixpack of Bud Light when I go to the food store once a week.Last Wednesday about a week ago was the last time I went to the food store so as soon as I check out the Goodwill thrift store this afternoon,I will go on over to the food store too.I haven't had a drink since Tuesday night,so I know I am sober.I never drink and drive.Nawwwwww dude,I am not going to be on any of your radio shows for love or money.

So what is an Antenna? It can be nothing more than a little piece of wire that cost nothing or something very complex and composed of many kinds of different parts and costing many millions of dollars that our American tax money pays for.Some Antennas are underground,above ground,laying on the ground,on rooftops,out in the Oceans,out in deep Space,out toward the edge of the known Universe.Some Antennas you wouldn't reconize,metal folding chairs,that metal louver on your house,bed springs,all kinds of things.

One of our fine friends keeps running his mouth about everyone, he has got to where he answers himself.

He is also talking about finding a "rich old woman" to take care of him. I guess he wants to be a "KEEP PERSON" notice I didn't say man!!!!

(I'm so sorry folks.....but I CANNOT resist.....)

Hey!  CuHu!!

DO NOT plug the 3.5 mm jack INTO the earphone jack.  That IS NOT where the TT jack is suppose to go!  That's why your TT won't work!  You are cutting off the sound!  You put the TT in the ANTENNA jack!  OK???
Good....

(Somebody actually did this once.  I kid you not!  And then you wonder why Customer Service reps at your cable TV, sat TV, phone company talk down to you?  Cuz people can be just dumber than rocks!)

Yankee Can Do

Read the Greatest Generation By Tom Brokaw Talk to the troops in Iraq and Afghanistan
Talk to the New York Police and Fire Dept about 9/11
Read about Steve Fossett' Round The World That is Yankee Can Do
These folks didn't let the challenges fake em out

College is full of meaningless tests and courses, yet folks take it all in stride.
With your attitude you probably don't have a driver's license

Morse thruput can be 40WPM
PSK31 is about 30 to 50WPM
RTTY is about 80WPM
Many folks here probably can't type at these speeds
So much for slow thruput
It is about communicating not speed.

Whatta ya doing in this slow communication mode ??? How fast can you type ???

All the below is BS.

Activity is not down on the bands. Propagation is down.
In 2000 at the peak of the solar cycle, the bands were packed.  I spoke to young, old , male and female. I have my log to prove it.  If you want something,  study for it.
If I can pass the 5WPM code (not my favorite mode), anyone can.  It seems that today, people take the easy way out by sniveling that the system is not fair, rather than sucking it up and working for their goals.

Thanks for the up dates Steve.

Just found a dropped #4 cylinder in my 360.

Off to the junk yard this afternoon.

Morse code is only being used by a few hams to talk to a few other hams.  Just cruise the bands and you will find that out.  It has been abandoned by the military and commercial services.  The ham community is testing for a skill with no use in the real world. And a skill with no value in the much hyped emergency communications world that hams are supposed to be ready to assist in.  That is not to say that the hams that do master morse code are not skillful people, indeed they are. But like those who persist in learing Esperanto, they are learning a language with few speakers.  Why not test prospective hams for their proficiency at carrying on skilled and courteous communications in something more widely used, like the human voice or digital modes.

You say college is "full of meaningless tests and courses."  With such apparent knowlege of the subject why don't you share with us the degrees you have attained that were based on meaningless courses and tests.  Given that most college courses are preparatory for a career of one kind or another I am truly surprised that this country has moved much beyond the early industrial age if your statement is true.

I'm still waiting for a coherent explanation of what Yankee Can Do" is and how it applies to attracting of new hams to the hobby and designing meaningful tests.

You and dxace are quite adept at one liners when you can't otherwise carry on an intelligent discussion.

YUP,
I got me one of those "Tiny Tenna" thingys and had a lot of trouble with it. I went down to the Radio shack and got me some plugs and it works a little better.

I got me an adaptor so my headset would plug into the little plug that came with it then I hung the long thingy to the top of my drape in the front window of my trailer where I can watch the neighbors come and go and so they could see my new "Shortwave RADIO".
I took an alligator clamp and a few feet of wire and hooked one end to the trailer hatch and then moved the clip up and down the long wire thingy until I got a station.
The reception ain't to good here in the park but the neighbors think it works great, I just smile and adjust the wires a little. I hope Bill is going to put a volume control on his new version.

I asked you if you were currently licensed, 'tard boy. If not, then I suggest you get your fat, stinking, ain't been wiped in weeks ass out there and get licensed lest the hobby die, 'tard boy.

That was two lines, 'tard boy. Besides not being able to learn the code, and otherwise rant, what are your other failings in life, 'tard.

Bring it on, piece of shit, bring it on!

You've proven my point perfectly.  You really can't carry on an intelligent discussion - only one liners that you might hear on a playgound.

Aside from chasing people from this forum who might actually have something to contribute and otherwise just being an annoying troll, just what do you bring to this forum anymore.  I suppose one recent claim to fame would be the engineer/designer from Degen who was hounded from this forum.

The ham community is testing for a skill with no use in the real world. And a skill with no value in the much hyped emergency communications world that hams are supposed to be ready to assist in.  That is not to say that the hams that do master morse code are not skillful people, indeed they are. But like those who persist in learing Esperanto, they are learning a language with few speakers.  Why not test prospective hams for their proficiency at carrying on skilled and courteous communications in something more widely used, like the human voice or digital modes.

With such apparent knowlege of the subject why don't you share with us the degrees you have attained that were based on meaningless courses and tests.  Given that most college courses are preparatory for a career of one kind or another I am truly surprised that this country has moved much beyond the early industrial age if your statement is true.

From what I have read recently in some webtv news groups lately,best guesstimates are there are about 600,000 to about 800,000 (it used to be about 1,000,000 or more) folks who use webtv,not even a drop in the bucket compared to how many computer users there are Worldwide and growing by the minute.At any one minute of every day and night,seven days and nights of every week,there are more and more computers being sold to folks who have never used a computer before.I seriously doubt if any webtv users are screwing around with harvesting anything from www.cryptome.org   Our webtv boxes do not have hard drives,we can not download anything even if we wanted to.

I own and use a Velocity Micro,ProMagix tower computer I bought for $1,290.00 from   www.velocitymicro.com   last year.Want proof? Come see for yourself,I will bet you money on that.You don't get it! There are lots of folks who own computers and webtv boxes and some of those folks work at computers every day.When they get home,most of those folks want to lounge on their couch or in their easy chair and surf the internet and do emailing and other things with their webtv boxes without the hassels of screwing around with their computers.You are very much Mistaken about calling webtv users stupid.By the way,I own fourteen older computers too,come and see for yourself.

@corp.supernews.com:

> Ric Trexell

Ric Trexell, I suspect that a deficit in your abilities are more responsible for your inattention to Amateur Radio, and you justify your inadequacies by feigning indifference.

Similar to the child in a grade school classroom when the teacher calls for an answer to a question. The uninitiated child feverishly gazes around the room, as if he is to make the selection on which child to call for the answer, when in actuality he (though drawing more attention to himself), endeavors to convince the teacher to call on someone else.

I can imagine that the 2600 fatalities that occur in the U.S. every year due to people's cell phone use while driving will be greatly supplemented by expanding the ability of people to send ludicrous images and messages to each other all day long. Now there is truly a proper utilization of bandwidth.

Behold Ric, FACTS and A link to the facts, you couldn't ask for more:

"Boston, MA. A new evaluation by the Harvard Center for Risk Analysis (HCRA) estimates that the use of cell phones by drivers may result in approximately 2,600 deaths, 330,000 injuries, and 1.5 million instances of property damage in America per year. But because the data on cell phone use by motorists are still limited, the range of uncertainty is wide. The estimate of fatalities ranges between 800 and 8,000, and the estimate of injuries is between 100,000 and 1 million."

http://www.hcra.harvard.edu/cellphones.html
And you want to expand this? And you judge HAMs?

Is there a real need to expand business's access to the frequency spectrum? I think not. GMRS has largely been ruined by the "5 Mile Walkie Talkies" available at Walmart that people buy and give to their kids. (They require licensing, but in today's intelligent cell phone society, everything seems to be relegated to "toy status"). Businesses increasingly use cell phones for dispatching purposes and longer distance communication. Lastly, businesses (large industry) are moving overseas, decreasing the U.S. need for UHF and VHF communications.

Come on Ric, use your head for something more than ear separation.

Dr. Artaud.

Drivers on Phones:
Are twice as likely to miss a traffic signal
Their reaction time is slower to the signals they do detect
Their risk of causing a crash increases by 400%
This amount of risk is the same as if the driver were driving legally intoxicated
Using hands free equipment does not improve driver performance.  It is the phone conversation that distracts!

I haven't heard Promo Girl, but this reminds me of the absolutely MOST ANNOYING radio commercials I have EVER heard. A decade ago in San Jose, California, there was a shop called Beeper City. It sold pagers in the days before cell phones were common. They did spots on local radio featuring "Beeper Guy" or as everybody at the college called him Beeper Dummy. They called him this because he had the most annoying tone of voice you've ever heard, and a hyperactive style of pushing beepers, like somebody who's taken too much Adderall for their own good. A 30 second spot on KMEL left you longing for the "DJ Girl" song (probably the most annoying pop song in history, but that's another story). It was like your ears ran a marathon with Beeper Dummy, and boy were they exhausted when it was over. "Beepers, beepers, beepers!" We were all about ready to go down to Beeper City and burn down their stupid little pager store by the time the promotion ran its course. But I'm sure that Beeper City got a lot of business from Beeper Guy.

/ / "why should we afford the same liberties and privileges of justice to the Taliban. Like why should we give them the same rights we afford ourselves. They're the bad guys. Why do we want to do any favors for the bad guys." And really that's an irrationalism. And yet, it was there. You know, people go "you don't need any evidence, what do you need evidence for, they're guilty." And the rational, TRUE AMERICAN PATIOTS, would go, "no, no, no, that's wrong. We want to actually follow the crimes scene leads at the real murder scene to arrest the true evil doers." \ \

http://radio.indymedia.org/uploads/psychological-warfare_.mp3

/ / [Bush] wants to get rid of this, evidence requirement to convince ourselves of something. You know he's just going to live in his own fantasy world, while WE suffer the consequences for not speaking out for our equal rights to be heard, on these CRITICALLY important issues. Particularly when it comes to war. CNN they don't want to commit ourselves to covering the facts impartially, In fact they will work to mislead you soldier. not only will they not tell you about the hazards of depleted uranium, But they're not even going to tell you about these outragious crimes that are being committed [IN YOUR NAME] \ \

Please, I beg you, on behalf of my Humanity, send this post to a Church for God of your choosing.

After making my defense public regarding an unshackled word, I realized they have decided not to attempt to convince a jury, that "sanctioned" acts, within any erotic depiction that were in my possession, were not then therefore proof, that I would condone myself such, as a twisted behavior in reality. [Ah, but how many others falsely have?] And, two, the total of images, that will be used against me has totaled to approximately 2300 of the 37,333 jpgs that were in my possession, 2300 to be argued, depict my life in an unfavorable light. Such as "Ukrainian nymphs"?, and Home Lolita. The Prosecution who would like to see me serve major penitentiary time, [more than two years, along with psychological counseling on my appreciation of the female form, and my desire to know what is going on in the public domain as a political writer of the workings of, the human mind, sexuality, and the sadomasicistic victization of the innocent. Among other things. I believe the prosecution will SUGGESTIVELY use a statement that will be made from a NSIS agent, suggesting, he felt, there were -000 images he had chosen to be considered for indictment. A number that would must include every depiction of nude adults, fashion models, and French fries. The SAME individual who will also say, after reviewing all my writings, he found nothing that would indicate a legitimate threat against the original complainant, Our Mr. George W. Bush. Yeah, gee, let's make sure a jury doesn't catch on who Johnny is as writer of our world, and to what is truly going on in the court room of our laws we guess.

In my mind, there are maybe, roughly, 10 to 12 images, [deleted or otherwise] that could be argued as criminal depictions. Depictions I did not ever distribute, or even would have left without Deletion, THROUGH CONSIDERATION.

Oh my God.

This is the information regarding my criminal matter. I will tell you however, most of the intelligence officers I have spoken with, are not in disagreement to what I am doing. Not all though. I figure all I need is some media exposure regarding my position, and the result I believe, will ultimately bring to real justice, those responsible for 9/11, and the reversal of the un-American Patriot Acts. I have nothing to hide, and am completely open to any questions. I have big dreams it's true, but my dream, is where all Peoples are granted equal rights under the law, and where investigating journalists, are as straight forward and direct as you could be. I just finished the last day of my preliminary trial, where the video tape of me speaking on 9/11 briefly, was cursorily debated whether it was truly given voluntary. (the two Bush fan officers lied to me that I would be able to address the uncontended, standing irrespective of opinion documented evidence against the Bush regime, publicly reiterating what I freely spoke with the NSIS-RCMP and the secret service on, and instead, attempted to twist my/their comments on pornography, while ending the recording prematurely in midstream of me speaking. Speaking thus: On the fact that, using no crime scene evidence was the "top secret" documented plan reported on by MSNBC, a plan in writing used by the Bush regime, as a prerequisite strategy to gain access into Afghanistan. The Judge found the officers were playing "tricks", lying, but apparently, sighting a ruling by some other judge somewhere, this conduct was perfectly acceptable for our justice officers to practice in attempting to go after the found guilty we presume?. The two police officers fundamentally undercut our national security interests, by turning out to be, as they confessed during my arrest, to be big bush backers, and in direct opposition regarding my public position on Afghanistan. I do believe however that Justice, as truth, will win out in the end.

The true American Patriot, your friendly stranger,

Johnny Wizard

If you do not attempt to forward this document to anyone, and everyone else sides the same as cowards, my freedom will be stolen by the will of bushite, and our world will loose my ever valiant presence as sworn eternal defender. Not good.

You decide.

Synopsis: I had been writing critically of the Bush Administration, when the Secret Service top secretly requested I be arrested for threatening the life of George W. Bush. They tentatively planned to have me arrested under the Mental Health Act to avoid a public criminal proceeding, but however during the process, I managed to publicly speak on local Manitoba radio for no less than forty hours regarding Bush in total, and was also well known throughout my community involvement in live theatrical productions I've been a part of for more than a decade. [I was Renfield in a stage production of Dracula, and I think I might be saved the cutting room floor in Woody Haralson and Robin William's new flick, "White Elephant" (I played a drunk white elephant.]

Hi everyone.

As many now know, through a bogus top secret warrant requested by one person at the secret service, passed to one Cnst. at the National Security branch of the RCMP, I had my computer property seized, not for the reason stated in the warrant, but to allow a trial/witch hunt to take place, in attempts to incarcerate me for a lengthy prison stint at the will of two self confessed ex-military bushite bombing, child porn pushers. When being arrested, I was asked if I would make a statement on the contents of my computer, I could then also use the opportunity to talk about the evidence against ------ -. ----. I agreed, but now the testimony ends abruptly before the actual closing. While the bogus warrant will be refused by the courts to challenge, as it has been deemed irrelevant, as a completely separate matter. You know?, how I come about to be in the, potentially life depriving court room? I can only pray a public jury will consider something fishy is afoot as foul play, when the matter isn't even allowed for our discussion as hugely relevant.

/ / As for written material or visual representations that advocate or counsel sexual activity with a person under the age of 18 years that would be an offence under the Criminal Code, the requirement that the material "advocates" or "counsels" signifies that, when viewed objectively, the material must be seen as actively inducing or encouraging the described offences with children. \ \

What is it in you, to judge such material as actual, to not then have it immediately taken to your own self as an automatic change in personal judgment? When you read of a faulting murderous character in a Ramsey Campbell book let's say, does such insight created, make you less capable in discerning you own deciding factor? The living state of fiction, is to remain as it always has, an unbound canvass of art through imagination. Johnny says: book burning is always wrong. In my case for one example of many that could end becoming thousands, the expert of experts, states without equivocation, a fully developed ample breasted 22 year old, with her shirt off, is between 10 and 12. And, through what they call "collateral" images, any legal nude picture of adults with claimed youthful features, or completely clothed children laughing, can be thrown on the heap of total to totals as an overall picture of my depraved character. Do they include my fantasy art collection? My movie poster collections? Animals from the wild? My guitar playing? My drawings? Or my written works regarding the documented crimes of the traitor, George W. Bush Jr.? Or how about, the picture of the Talliban sign in Afghanistan stating, selling heroin is against Allah's interest, so stop doing it cause it is officially outlawed everywhere here forever now, but for where the lying bush backed Northern Alliance partners are. The two ex-military cops involved in my case, are confessed supporters of the war action of indiscriminate bombing in Afghanistan. How can that be so? Only through the silencing of truth in our media circles, with their avocation of censorship in regards to me publicly speaking, do they escape public ridicule as dummies of the state in confusion.

The prosecution is seeking major penitentiary time on this first time offense, considering all the human rights positions I've fought heavily on a continuous basis internationally for the last seven years or so while discussing the inner workings of the human mind, and then there's the CRIMINALLY sadistic torturers I've advocated the personal arrest of, and then of course there's that, as everybody knows, bravely fighting global tyranny by bringing forward the documented, standing without contention crime scene evidence, regarding un-accountable as "lawless" George W. Bush's complicity in the crimes of 9/11 thing. [See, there can only be one Lawless, and that's spot is already taken by the one and only Lucy.]

As I've stated, Usenet services do not allow any participator in viewing imagery, without firstly, downloading the images. So, if your like many, you simply participate in using it's services, (of which I'm unashamedly the largest in the history of Humanity as political contributor) and download something you would offer for immediate deletion if some phony cops with a phony warrant had announced they were coming on a fishing trip to see what they could nab you suggestively with, (all done 'secretly' to stop you speaking truthful about the documented crimes of George W. Bush Jr.,) is still not good enough though, because even if you didn't witness their 'professional' depictions offered, and just deleted everything glorious and beautiful, (just to be on the same fearful side of irrational totalitarianism), you'd still be charged for cleaning up your room to convey a good public impression. While child porn relationships are broadcasted on the national news to impressionable viewers. Again!, not to outlaw criminal DISTRIBUTION by practicing protections there, where factual evidence would be crucial in determinations, let's say with a cop full time monitoring a Usenet server, but no, as like in my case, a few offensible images, along with un-ending falsehoods on the age range of us consenting adults, or children being beautiful as clothed, or in swimsuits. I had 37,333 images of every description imaginable. And weather you know of everything on your, information warehouse of a computer system, guilty or innocent, the information system is still to be found worthy for police auctioning with the potential loss of your loving family, and the tentative spot on the greatest teacher achievement awards ceremony. Remember, rarely does anyone try to defend themselves on such charges, due to the fact, demonizing such individuals in our new bushite culture, is done before a criminal case is even heard. [like with 9/11 and Jay Leno] This is why I try to articulate my position now, before they perhaps, deny me an ability to speak in my own defense. I've spoken to a few lawyers, and almost none of them want anything to do with me, for my lack of big money, and the blatant fascistic nature of the, use to be, top secret warrant that the Crown can not possibly be un-aware of. Besides, in honesty, I am most capable of speaking in my own defense, if granted the right to say as much in normal speech. I don't know the precedents, however I'm learning, I don't know the tricks of the trade, but I'm counting on a human jury, and a little bit of public scrutiny. Does the Court support the ends and means of Justice, to not offer support to the 9/11 investigating FBI officers, by having me quickly silenced on their behalf through incarceration? I fear, if I am denied a public platform to express my defense, I will be railroaded into a situation where I will be refused an opportunity to speak openly. So, I come to the world now, as a safety precaution, to insure any attempted demonization of my better name later, will at least have this out here to counter measure. Please forward this post to someone somewhere please.

/ / Section 163.1(6) creates a further defence for material that serves an "educational, scientific or medical purpose". This refers to the purpose the material, viewed objectively, may serve, not the purpose for which the possessor actually holds it. \ \

Under Canadian law referenced in the Supreme Court of Canada Sharpe case, it is acknowledged that if a public good can be shown, that the accused could have benefited by having witnessed questionable pornography, the crime then therefore, never really happened. (Think of it: who is the victim here?, the alleged ill thinking perceiver they want to send up the river?) The expert expert of experts regarding pornography in my case, who holds - out - official platitude after platitude regarding the personal investment he has made to advance his professional career in the illegal porn industry, comes truly from an alternate illusionary world, where everything that surrounds himself, looks like a young girl in a sexually explicit depiction. Can an appreciation for female beauty that includes nudity, be comprised of a definition outside of what someone else tells you your thinking then about committing a real sexual assault? Appreciating the beauty of people, doesn't automatically lead to thoughts of grunting sweats, like visions of cute little boys, fully dressed, doesn't turn the bushite automatically into a sadomasochistic homo, but then again, perhaps it does.

By exercising a right to perceive representations of that which is freely available, is of in itself, important to the sociologist, psychologist, concerned parent, and of course, the conceptualizing artist reflecting on our shared reality. For me however, in addition, the symbology of sexuality is a subject I've often danced with, and have even considered to hold potential solutions to why, or how, a sexually dysfunctional bushite, the enemy, can commit such criminal brutality against those they only know as innocent, (like a rapist or torturer does), while excusing it only on our lack of perceived moral outrage as the public, regarding their ungodly criminal conduct. Bushite are terrified of a free to be world, brought about by ourselves as a truth conveyor of ever lasting wisdoms. Why? One to one, we all make them as they are, cowardly weak morons, with not an ounce of manhood, honor, patriotism, or skill at independent free thinking. Their phony disguises or secret intelligence gathering capabilities, expose to everyone, their complete failures of stringing more than a few base words in the form of a question. Instead of facing their weaknesses, (as then creating an ability to become something greater,) they instead express their slavish dying hatred of a liberating People, a People committed solely to the principles of freedom as Justice for US all.

To suggest an image on my computer, could be construed to hold a explicit sexual element in the minds of some viewers, is not who my Court case is about. My case isn't about running a Girls being Girls website to attract business for some thing sly on the side. I'm not running a server for illicit materials sold as a perk to all new paying internet subscribers. It's about me, Johnny Wizard, challenging the TRUE intent of a small few disgruntled bushite, who are in our names, standing beside me waving cuffs hidden in these shadows, appearing to work having me incarcerated by a completely bogus bushite warrant that was secretly alleged by only a single person to state, I'm "anti-government", with a proceeding, planned to put me away silenced, with mostly naked lies on their measurement for my thinking openly about this suffering world in which we all share uniquely.

Sure, It can be argued, that depictions of brutality taken during the nazi war, could provide sadomasochistic gratification to some wannabe fascist bushite bitches, but the freedom to express such films teaches us that the nazi soldier often without leadership as direction, had no true ability to respect the lives of any other. For they victimized any, as Sattler did irrationally to the entire Peoples of Fallujah, which include the now dead Marines spoken for as unimportant to the bottom line at being losers. Why must America die sacrificed for no better good I ask again, but this time, closer to an end.

Help me break into Our news media, or leave me all to fall victim to the further enslavement of the human condition.

Johnny Wizard

The Crown's Crown

/ / The EVIL anti-Christ "un-accountable to American law cos hees duh president" demon bush Jr., has ordered the commitment of mass murder in our names, while his enemy bush bitch cult following in the corporate news establishments, have refused our communities to publicly address the DOCUMENTED evidence made public by the FBI. Alleging, General Ahmad, bush's business partner, was "secretly" responsible for a wire transfer of 100,000.00 to 9/11's "ring leader" Mohamed Atta, and in addition, that the demon anti-Christ, Our Mr. bush Jr,, had a top secret CRIMINAL war plan in place, worked on with condoleeza rice, and implemented in part by General Ahmad, to criminally invade Afghanistan signed September 9th, 2001, provided to and reported on by Jim at MSNBC. All centered on not apprehending bin Laden, (prior, during, or after) as a prerequisite to guarantee invasion. (, to secure a liquefied natural gas pipeline for pension thievers Enron.) THEREBY, forbidding the apprehension of the true culprits through following the crime scene leads at the real murder scene. \ \

Damn. I am so desperately in need your help.

You see my friend, there are people in this world that deprive our rights to freedom, through unjust acts committed in your name, done by hiding their true intent from our public's view. One RCMP Cnst, was able to argue to a judge that my writing was anti-government, and she needed to establish who I was, to enforce the law of, "threatening an international person". The warrant was to be made top secret, but through a miracle, was provided for my defense with a stack of bushite evil. I can successfully defend myself when speaking freely on the facts, but the Crown has deemed my voice inadmissible when it comes to anything in relationship to the bogusness of the warrant. The Crown is well aware that she holds the victims of 9/11 in contempt, but wagers, you Personally won't have the godly Humanity in yourself, to demand I face her politely, in the open, for our public good on national radio. If I try to speak of the reason I am in front of a jury, I will be found in contempt. While the very same guy who faked searching my computer for the single RCMP Cnst., was the same guy who searched my computer for child pornography. (Remember: through Usenet, images or movies are downloaded before getting to witness them.)

What did he find amongst 37,333 images?

OPENLY a woman of about 22 with fully developed breasts, is termed between ten to twelve, like of a woman's behind with womanly hips and pubic hair, ten to twelve also. And on and on and on, with those few photographs (I've seen no more than maybe 10 or 12 of), that would constitute an actual legal argument, thrown in to make it all look bad. Like a short video of a young girl standing in a bath smiling. The worst depiction they have is a video of several seconds, appearing to be a young boy being sexually fondled, but I certainly don't advocate such unbalanced behavior, believing it would be harmful in dealing with, as a growing up in through sexuality as the developing adolescent. So, knowing this then, what am I guilty of, that they are truly, as bushite, going to try to put me in prison for? Loving children? I didn't commit the sexual assault, take the footage, didn't distribute it, nor would I have kept it from deletion. Deletion doesn't even matter to these geniuses. They'll scan what you deleted, and charge you for that decision also. You can't win to continue going in silence. By continuing bushite fascist tyranny censorship for enslavement of our species, will suck for all concerned if you don't speak up for our rights denied NOW!

Think of how many curious seekers of youthful beauty out there the bushite could seek for demonization? They refuse to enforce the law regarding distribution. It would be nothing WITH A TRUE LEGAL JUSTIFICATION to block a site, or scan free public access Usenet for truly illegal materials.

But they don't.

So what the single RCMP cnst has done, is LIED about the true reason for obtaining the therefore bogus warrant, for she has refused to enforce the law on which she argued was the reason to be granted my personal belongings. The refusal of the fascist enemy bushite to charge me for the alleged criminal matter, would surely get George W. Bush arrested, tried, and rightly executed for 9/11, and then, the war of terrorism would be over. My writings on behalf of police investigations made public, and Jim at MSNBC, along with the documented fact demon bush used no evidence whatsoever in his allegations against bin Laden while closing criminal investigations, have been deemed by the, protect the demon anti-Christ at all costs Crown, as inadmissible, along with my essays in psychology and sexuality. When receiving my computers, a Cnst. --lling was told to look for the phrase, "bush is dead", he stated because the term wasn't found, the warrant couldn't be fully carried out. The quotes however in the top secret, nobody was suppose to see it, warrant provided to the judge, were from "The Trial and Conviction of Our Mr. bush Jr.", and none of the quoted text, contained "bush is dead". Then, on top of that, when they seized my property, I told them exactly where my writing was located. And proudly confessed to stand on the principles of Universal Justice, in serving for America's best. Instead of defending our rights, they are, as cowards, and what true fascism is, attempting to help flee, those responsible for the terrorist crimes of 9/11 back in New York City. And don't you think for a second, the Crown involved in my particulars doesn't know that. An enemy of Justice is our Court in knowing directly with the evidence in front of everyone, they sell out honorable FBI officers for death, all to please the false deity G.W. for YOUR losses too my American friend. Please, again, I beg you to help my cause, the cause of every true patriot soldier, and grieving mother. To be left without Justice for Humanity in silence, is to do an injustice no real man should want to see happen quietly to another. Once I'm silently convicted, you'll be too late to help be my witness. And if you knew my mother, you'd love her too. So please, I beg you, forward this to your favorite journalist, get on Coast to Coast, get on CBC radio or on Winnipeg's local CJOB, and demand I be allowed to face the bushite false accusers wide OPENLY in our public arena. They don't let any of us on now when we speak of General Ahmad, Afghanistan, Iraq, Enron, Social Security, Health care, and on and on and on, so your gonna have to get a little more forceful with your super human will power against the melancholy return of same old nazi fascism. I shall try more from here also.

Help life out some won't yah?

Release the Press

In regards to Johnny's criminal charges.

Being in possession of that I know not of until it reaches my computer, puts the onus on the distributor's server to be held in the same regard equally. To argue for criminalizing the possession of materials that are granted full legal rights to be propagated, as not for sure either way then, but now that they're multiplied to others, makes little sense. For, it only increases a problem that will end up costing the public a great deal more to deride, if the said material is found to be, without reasonable doubt, objectionable from a legal framework set of criteria. Instead, in my case, they've used every impractical assumption regarding the content of what I may have witnessed. I am beside myself dumfounded to learn a picture termed of a topless youth smiling, is a sight the officers involved wish to draw me with as evidenced pedophile. A term classified to include dehumanizing personal acts of sexual assault against the rights of actual children. This is unacceptable. And, I will not be found guilty of approving such conduct. As to other depictions of cruelty I've witnessed by information gathering, I can say without doubt to any as a seeker of injustice, has motivated me personally as a public figure, to take direct steps few others do in defense of the innocent. Unlike the two officers who are my public accusers, I don't believe indiscriminately murdering people by bombing a country brings about protections for those involved for example, and yet, my accusers proudly stated, they were supporters of such unprovoked, and unwarranted ILLEGAL criminal conduct against our children left undefended under their limited bushite haze.

Nothing will bottom this episode of my life, where as a lover of children everywhere, and a champion for human rights around the world, am judged not fit for freedom by a couple expert, pro-war "liberating" bushite bombers. [they both survived serving the military before taking up this police business as Bush supporters for lawlessness - (they PUPOSEFULLY sabotaged, the planned video recording of public evidence against Bush, that I made to the National Security Division of the RCMP in writing, and in approximately, ten separate audio recordings. [Oops... ])]

The bushite bombers searched for depictions of behavior sexually impressionable readers could arguably, lose their self respect or control over, but can be found by any desperate conniver, searching in depictions of a rape scene, naked people on a beach, or in a cloud storm. So, some guide lines on how best to stop their depictions of the rights of children being breached most definitely, should be handled where the questionable material emanates, not with the quester of good taste, out looking to see what is widely, and freely, publicly available by the thousands. Again, not perceived until within the possession of the observer to witness. The classifications of all that is accepted to include in the definition of "child pornography", should not include the beauty of what it is to be nakedly human, or normally affectionate. But that is being open, honest, and beautiful, traits an advocate of tyranny through censorship will run and hide from, for they fear the private human element in our public political affairs speaking freely. Bushitism. [Think of Life, a struggling to survive for better times profiteer, and ourselves, a distant relative nobody's ever heard of till now at most.]

I've been a widely published internet psychology columnist, almost since ideas have been broadly shared as such. And my writing testifies to the subject of human rights denied, as the struggles I attempt to find, real solutions for. The artistic impressions created by the artist, like the words defined within this sentence of words, is but streaming reference points to the larger unbound projections of the manifested mind. A defined, definite conclusion on it's meaning, loses it's truer state. Recognizing the subjective relationship on communicating through media, is ultimately the reader perceiving this conclusion. It is not therefore a conclusion the reader becomes for, but is held in consideration, when creating it's over all pretext, in the form of personal insight or imagination. An imaginative state of fiction, does not preclude it from still being, a shared artistic work suspended through disbelief. I can read a fictionally exciting murder mystery, all the while knowing, the characters who suffer misfortunes, are not living worse because of me, nor to learn the reasons someone is obtusely perverse, make me then, more inclined to disrespect real living, in a similar kind. [read anything from corporate media challenger, the lover, Johnny Wizard] The actions of a character in fiction, does not compel me to give up my own belief of reality, or a respect I grant in those who protect the rights of any child, or adult for that matter. I have many written works for example from those who accolade Bush as of unprecedented prowess when it comes to believing in the holy scriptures, but come on, who believes that make believe horror show, and how did I get to know people could be so deceived without knowing the indisputable consequence of Bush's deliberate criminal actions? The opinions I hold in reference, are not opinions I just automatically except as my own without thinking for myself in other words. If America witnessed without censorship the vicious evil bombing of God's children in Fallujah or Samara, or the torture of innocent people to death by liar Bush's satanic sadomasochists, every bushite repuglicon who voiced political support for the irrational murderous acts, would be hunted down by millions of armed America men, tried, convicted, and executed in time square, that we all know for certain without room for question.

/ / Expression that degrades or dehumanizes is harmful in and of itself as all members of society suffer when harmful attitudes are reinforced. \ \

But does the witness of such a relationship, granted only to the mind of an officer? Harmful attitudes depicted in Nazi film archives, works of fiction, or artistic expression, does not every time, have us rooting on the bad guys. For if so, police officers investigating harmful child pornography possession, would be left without an ability to even discern a care for any one. But they would and do care. We can see a need, and a honor to defend the rights of children, and I can't think of a more noble police position, to try defending those principles to the best of our ability. Not infringing on free thought access of everyone because some are arguably, more impressionable to the false view of the bushite conspirator. DISTRIBUTERS of illegal material is where the law should not be denied a place to practice. Making criminals out of what someone picks out in coffee grounds, is to say, some thoughts considered, are thoughts better left alone as forbidden when alleged thought of. That is where no god or person should be allowed to falsely determine for our selves, with what words can be thought "about", and what words can not. Of course threatening the freedom of another living individual with the law, better be based on the tangible as documented offences, otherwise, our rights wouldn't be publicly challenged for protection, but of denial. So Hammurabi came up with: A person accused of a criminal offense without any evidence is innocent, and the accuser, especially when it comes to capital crimes, is the bad guy every time. And gee, if America does that, Mr. bush Jr. could go to jail from Canada, China, or perhaps somewhere off somewhere's else where they have laws enforced against the crime of murder.

I am a behavioral psychologist, who's not only written on psychology's pillars of understanding, but also on the struggles of lawless war committed by sexually dysfunctional sadomasochists. I was interested to watch The Learning Channel's special, The Meaning of Love, a four or five part series, hosted by "The Naked Ape"'s, Desmond Morris. This world's most recognized, widely publicized human behaviorist, reporting on juvenile properties of mutual expression between lovers, lending well into nurturing a caring relationship for each other.

Therefore, is a reader of fiction regarding adult themes, going to read all about who get their toes piggy wiggled, or the professional accountant, who at spin the bottle, becomes the lucky "loser" of a sound deserved spank or two, secretly though, underneath it all, a pedophile who thinks unclean thoughts? Examples of sexual boundaries: Is not a heterosexual, secretly gay when they play with themselves that way? Perhaps a trans cross dresser? And some men may relate to this, but man, lesbians are a dream come true. But then... well, your a guy too right?

Such normal dynamics of continuous change through development within relationships, can not be denied a place, as being mutually beneficial as human in quality, (and maybe fun,) and being, private, none of our business, almost childhood like high jinx of that moment in time. But, leaves a, any person public view of definite acceptance, intolerably immature as inappropriate across the public spectrum. Publicly get into the intricacies of private relationships with your new book why don't you with the Court now John, you have all our ears a-flutter. Grandma doesn't need to know about your proficiency at.. and I'm not the same to Dick as I am to Jane, if you catch my drift.

While two male bushite, who are now helplessly stuck appearing plastered to protect Bush from arrest for mass murder through the advocation of censorship by tyranny, could quip to us being lovey dovey, means your ripe for picking on as, the soft and mushy easy push over in the corner they see. Me? This is why bushite think allowing brave men of our communities to speak openly as would be, calmly, against the criminal dictums of the demon anti-Christ, shouldn't be allowed, because they know, the world would then recognize them for the cowardice and betrayal they hold of our human spirit. A spirit that craves for all, the end to the continuing neo-con wars with the freedom to love Life for being truly ourselves. I see life everywhere, for trying to make some happiness and prosperity. If only we would listen to reasons for believing in creating a better world where life in cherished, is a world where bombs don't drop indiscriminately from the sky in God's name left for blame by the thieving liar bushite scoundrels.

The inner world of artistic creations by story line, is a world of pretend make belief, forwarded by the observer's conclusions. I am concerned to read struggles for entertainment, to include, cruelty against anyone for sexual gratification, but all literature regarding such, does not change my respect for the rights of others, especially those of children. If anything, it makes me more concerned on how respect for another can be better served by the powers and freedom of the unshackled word.

I've seen more child pornography on the television news regarding child pornography, than I've ever mistakenly got through the internet. Providing illegal depictions for public consumption, is where the law should be exercised, but it's often not on the grounds it doesn't prosecute as many. See my point? The FBI did an expensive child porn sting, running for two years in total I think it was, and in that time, they gave away tens of thousands of images to thousands of, who knows how to copy customers, that much later, the FBI would argue were illegal to have possession of. That is like a huge wasted effort OF OURS to distribute such offenseble materials, particularly if it was sold as, "teens in action", "youthful beauty", "buttercups", "a day at the dentist", or something of some sort to entrap more crime business. For our police agencies to set exact criteria on what would constitute child pornography, and scan internet traffic for such distributors, would be far more effective in halting such proliferations. They don't largely because, they'd have to be more precise in determinations, and therefore, many would lose their jobs as then redundant. By not doing so, we can pay billions to have people arrested, labeled pedophile for witnessing depictions of God's beautiful children being normal - while then pleading guilty to avoid the public tarnish such new bite revelations would bring. Destroying families, and future job prospects of individuals such as myself, who hate the thieving, murderous, ignorant as truly ungodly bushite liars to the core of my eternal being. Currently, our legal services, can't help but learn, bush did 9/11 with General Ahmad, and are left speaking "nothing" too - in news public suits regarding the injustice they're recorded not to answer about. Instead, a couple confessed bushite, will conclude who ever witnesses depictions they suggestively reach for as inappropriate, to not possibly also, hold children, and their rights, paramount. Well, that's just simply not true. I call for the arrest of those that ran d squads against only known as innocent families including children in Afghanistan, (Tenth Mountain Division), what do the, two self confessed once blind Bush worshipping police offers, who stand as my public accusers as job requirement, have to state on that denial of our rights to cherish life and liberty? As bushite bullshiters, they don't want to answer to not presently asked public media enquiries, because being "embarrassed" sadomasochists, they then may likewise, get off on accusing community members to be pedophiles, with flimsy examples of what, in their minds, in an insult to our sworn values. Children can be beautiful, but certainly aren't, as adults, interested in being so naked, on the six o'clock news. Do they care to make a scene bigger than it first appears? Imagine me hosting the evening news and the Johnny Jamboree, hashing it out with my opponents on the tough questions, rolling with the insults and the cash offerings, while taking time to sample the world's "best" pizza an beer joints?

Or, do they adroitly believe, they'll teach that Johnny image something or two on their own behalves for our Humanity?

George W. Bush is primarily motivated ultimately with how much they can sucker out of our public coffers, thereby in spirit, advocate censorship on my calls for traitor bush's capture for 9/11.

What they are doing is this:

My "official" court case, (Involving all good people I believe) is enforcing our Law by suggesting everything in my possession can be isolated, onto itself, and made into something I'm not of entirely. All the while pretending, we ain't at all aware of Usenet servers, or my, Johnny Wizard saves the World writings of DOCUMENTED CRIMES AGAINST YOUR HUMANITY. Writings that dominate the interest of the whole investigation, locally, and internationally. But gee, without your help, two bushite "coppers" are going to appear still pressing that bush not be arrested in their contempt of silence, while praying, I not be granted a moment in my trial to speak for my own defense literally. Well, maybe not, after all, we all change with the times. My last conversation with the said two, was quite a way back when they were asked to prosecute Johnny Wizard, and likely came back with the reply, Johnny Who? So, let's not kid ourselves, my words are quite amazing when you think about it. Well, I'd hope in these last days, before this coming media flop, they've taken it amongst themselves, to get together with the loving family to discuss anyone of the hundred or two, Johnny Wizard works of the world, and conclude, George W. Bush is truly bad news to their world's view too.

Even.

Well.. how a you been doing anyway? Are not these developing story lines to be something good going live mainstream... will we demonize the principles of Christ, in censoring ourselves like the individual person of Johnny Wizard is to be, as, being denied personal freedom by "unaccountable" George W. Bush's dictatorship of tyranny through enslavement of the human species, or, will You consider the equal freedom of a telephone call, a cassette tape recording, or perhaps, photo copier to bring us around this, we want our still living rights heard too man. Right now before we alls go it to the clink. Coast to Coast should be broadcasting for America's interest, by openly discussing the still paying costs of the bushite war crime business.

America! - bush's war is something you do not want to lose to in further dying silence. Take it from me. Be a hero. Dream of the babes! - Movie deals. Lives saved!!!

Business is business.

Look you might not care for me personally, okay, but this George W. Bush's treason of nine-eleven is an evil we together, will never, be too weak to stand against as. As indecisive humans without a leader, we will never be too few from demanding Justice be served in respect of Humanity's interest.

In nabbing those who committed treason against our America's America on 9/11, needs to be completed by firstly, following the crime scene leads at the beginning with Bush's prior 9/11 plans worked with the ring leader's financier, General Ahmad, and how Condi, rumsfeld, and Cheney with Myers, fits in the picture together as likewise traitors. The Iraq war is also a crime against humanity. All stolen monies and property must be sought, then returned to a legitimized democratic government. Torture is outlawed, and finally, all innocent people held in prisons by bushite forces, held without out charge for trial, need to be released immediately as ourselves being denied liberation truly. Let common sense prevail.

Your Kingly King of a Dreamer's dream, seriously considering prison time to be,

a major downer for my chances at partying,

Johnny Wizard

P.S. TELL SOMEBODY!

----

for all mankind...

The EVIL anti-Christ "un-accountable to American law cos hees duh president" demon bush Jr., has ordered the commitment of mass murder in our names, while his enemy bush bitch cult following in the corporate news establishments, have refused our communities to publicly address the DOCUMENTED evidence made public by the FBI. Alleging, General Ahmad, bush's business partner, was "secretly" responsible for a wire transfer of 100,000.00 to 9/11's "ring leader" Mohamed Atta, and in addition, that the demon anti-Christ, Our Mr. bush Jr,, had a top secret CRIMINAL war plan in place, worked on with condoleeza rice, and implemented in part by General Ahmad, to criminally invade Afghanistan signed September 9th, 2001, provided to and reported on by Jim at MSNBC. All centered on not apprehending bin Laden, (prior, during, or after) as a prerequisite to guarantee invasion. (, to secure a liquefied natural gas pipeline for pension thievers Enron.) THEREBY, forbidding the apprehension of the true culprits through following the crime scene leads at the real murder scene. See, with a talk radio program we could take calls and help any others who have some difficulty in understanding the logic of reason, as super simple thinking.

So, as many know, the bush regime is FOR REAL pushing still to have me incarcerated for speaking these truths, truths that stand irrespective of my personal opinion, or spin doctoring. Will you, as a complete stranger, but a fellow lover to life, help my cause by requesting also, I be allowed to face publicly my accusers on the, censorship for bushite tyranny radio networks Coast to Coast, or CBC national radio here in Canada? Before, god forbid, a couple, once self confessed bushite "police officers" of tyranny, (death squads against school kids, happy funders of heroin pushers, and who in silence, work getting un-informed soldier teen/bushite sacrificed as the bad guys for Bush's thieving. Done all to gloriously please the fabulously wealthy, safe at home from the clutches of power, neo-con "Cabal" of enemy traitors.) get lost in the translation. The fascist corporate interests are likely not going to factually report on my trial, but attempt to demonize me with their falsehoods and betraytals against our communities, that is now presently on going without your voice also heard raised yet for objection. A trial, where the evidence that factually establishes bush guilt for treason against all the American People will be sought as immaterial. What the evil enemy as godless bushite dogma blindly hope for is, a silently feared coercion through suggestive threat against Our entire Justice system, leaving the court to have quoting perhaps, only one or two lines written by myself out of context from "The Trial and Conviction of Our Mr. bush Jr" to a jury, while disallowing the documented facts, surrounding my allegations to be refused as my defense. [the criminal leads end at the bush administration's door step with bush's own signature, but bush, as Presidente', can't be arrested under American law, only impeached by the majority of already bought out and sold whole repuglicons.] Counting that our community of peers will have not a inkling what is contained in the very first paragraph of "The Trial...". You my friend alone, you alone, could help US change all that. I, as a single person am trying to stand on the principle, that ANY individual, that is accused of a capital offense without evidence, is UNIVERSALLY INNOCENT, as they would be tomorrow, today, and way back in Hammurabi's day also. And that by reason, the false accuser, is the number one suspect to start with. The enemy bushite MURDERERS try to confuse this extremely simple matter with the powers of hypnosis, or suggestion through the dictate of "our" television and radio cult broadcasts that promote tyranny by fascist censorship.

The nature of hypnosis shouldn't be feared, but learned from to gain a better understanding of the true human condition. Something a bushite hates like our public education systems, is where we through improved communications, halt their criminal transgressions against our better selves.

In the warrant to take all my writings, and computer stuffs, (to begin on their fishing expedition to protect the war monger demon anti-Christ,) it was argued, that the information contained within their possession should remain TOP SECRET. The document has now been made available for my defense, and here is the reason it was argued THREE YEARS AGO, to not have the charges publicly heard.

/ / FROM TIME TO TIME, the NSIS section receives threats from members of the public who after investigation, turn out to be suffering from mental illness. On occasion, proceedings under the Mental Health Act as opposed to the Criminal Code may be more appropriate. In cases of a mental illness, the publicity and sensationalism of an incident such as this one may turn out to be negative to mentally ill persons. \ \

Yeah but, what about DEFENDING the FBI's findings "copper"? Is it that anyone who stands up for Justice in America, who asks loudly for a public platform in OUR media market place, should only be considered, top secretly, mentally ill to think they have a right to contribute on an equal basis, among the oh so lauded, intellectual power breaking crime pushers of our World? (The woman hating child killers, like naive bushite nazi demon liar Mattis wear badges too don't you know?) Are we crazies to want to defend our rights to be free of murderous tyranny? Are they secretly saying on behalf of the bushite: to speak out in praise of the good investigative work the FBI sometimes does, is a bad thing for their future top secret "investigations" on Our behalf? Or is it because, if we believe in doing what needs to be done to protect Humanity from tyranny, would truly mean, evil bushite wouldn't be able to rob further from dying sacrificed as the undefended America?, and soon, wisdom by communication through science and reason would rule our better stays? Would it surely drive me insane to have our public acknowledge our good deeds that work to have freedom really reign indivisibly through Justice supreme? Anyway, Jeeze, I'm already crazy.

The national security branches of all our governments need a major overhaul in protocols. (officers who are involved in uncovering a criminal conspiracy, a conspiracy involving the murder of thousands of now dead Americans, should receive the full support of every police unit this world over as a protective measure for fellow officers. After all, George W. Bush is an American cop killer too.)

Before my site "Wizard's World Wide Works of Wonder" was taken down, I had the center piece (still available in other places) "Stand Together or Don't" as a full page spread with graphics and everything. "Stand Together..." is an essay that only asks that our standing criminal code in Canada be enforced, when it comes to the documented thieving of our communities as committed with the notoriously miss reported workings of the "cheating at play" VLT machine. I also had "Johnny's Last Stand" take a prominent position at the web page, along with "The Alien's Take". So get this: another argument made for the warrant to confiscate my personal belongings and leave the FBI out to die, was attributed to only a single Cnst., who blanketed my entire site in reference as "anti-government". That statement was the only statement made by the officer in regards to her summation of my writing skills, and was made in argument to a Judge to obtain the Warrant, just before the site fell, so I'm now, suspecting, was likely responsible for complaining it should be shut down by maybe.. badge waving?) Strangely (unknown to me until just recently) as it would happen, this same individual I had contacted over the course of several months regarding the VLTs, (on how the DOCUMENTED crime is perpetrated, and on our communities TRUE monetary losses (maths)) was the same who, top secretly claimed, my writing on

Justice was "anti-government." See, I offered to come down to the station and assist with the maths if need be, (remember we're talking the thieving of literally billions and billions of dollars each year from mostly the poorest segments of our societies) to offer assistance in any way I could. (Or, to be told "fool, your mistaken".) But each and every time, I was denied access to have implemented, the protections of the criminal code here in Canada, (that usually makes our country greater than all others,) without a given reason why. [An aside: bushite irrationally hate science and reason because we're intelligent, while I, can't help but respect life by learning something from just about anyone.]

Here is what it further said in the warrant, that up until now was considered top secret. (without the warrant staying secret, the darkness can't stand the light of scrutiny, and I would be freed from the restraints of a bogus warrant to go on shouting for TRUE Justice by DEMANDING the arrest, trial, and subsequent execution of those responsible for the crimes of nine/eleven - bush, rumsfeld, Ahmad, and condoleezza rice. With cheney and myers running a close second.)

AND UPON being satisfied that the ends of justice would most probably be subverted by access to and disclosure of information filed in the Information to Obtain the Search Warrant filed in support of the application to prohibit access and disclosure;

[Good guy police officers might get the public recognition they deserve in other words right?]

the Search Warrant;

AND UPON being satisfied that access to and disclosure to information filed in support of the Search Warrant referred to above might be used for an improper purpose;

[getting back stolen VLT revenues you mean?]

AND UPON being satisfied that it would be in the best interests of the administration of justice that access to and disclosure of information filed in support of the application for the Search Warrant referred to above should be prohibited to the public;

[What?, don't want US public to know bush, rumsfeld, and condi committed nine/eleven with General Ahmad? Well, now I can see why all the hush hush.]

AND UPON being satisfied that access to and disclosure of information filed 'in support of the Search Warrant referred to above might well pose a substantial threat to the interests of effective law enforcement;

[following crimes scene leads at real murder scenes not good enough for our police agencies? - US people backing up ourselves with as something worth reckoning a better future with?]

AND UPON being satisfied that access to and disclosure of information filed in support of the Search Warrant referred to above would compromise the nature and extent of an ongoing investigation;

[Well, it's only been years now. Let US ask you, have YOU called the news desks of CBC or CNN, about bush's prior plan also? Are sandwich boards, posters, and placards, a police union willing to truly get behind as the untold Justice struggle for our suffering Humanity?]

AND UPON being satisfied that access to and disclosure of information filed in support of the Search Warrant referred to above could conceivably compromise the health interests of a person;

[What about the health concerns of the hundreds of thousands of innocent people bush has since ordered murdered, along with the millions of others who will suffer the consequences of radio-active contaminations for the next few eons? National news coverage is not what I fear, I fear that no one on this lonely planet cares to hear the cries of my Humanity for mercy, or holds love for God as worth fighting for.

-snpd-

So, what now? Please don't leave ourselves undefended from the criminal dictums of the demon anti-Christ, Our Mr. bush Jr. Demon bush is not America, America is America. Look, we arrest those responsible, and we carry on, by firstly reversing almost every thing G.W. the traitor implemented. Look, when Clinton implemented change, he was able to turn the country around pretty quick. Just bring back some progressive ideas. Dump the Patriot Act, and those that voted for it, and truly bring back the Constitution with a respect granted to all Peoples regardless of nationality. Christian Palestinians are humans like US too don't you know? While fixing the neo-con war mess should start by making all co-habitants equal under the principles of fair judicial due process, meaning: freeing the innocent held captive, and arresting for war crimes among other things: bush and rumsfeld, myers and cheney, Allawi and Doud, Tommy Franks, Steven Russell, Saudi wahhabi Buford Blount, woman haters Sicko Sattler and mad dog Mattis, Batiste, Miller - along with all the rest of the rapists and torturers, and then, we.. seek out all the stolen assets taken in America's stolen name. Big job. But we can do it! God is on our side.

I was reading about "Jew Boy..." and I thought, perhaps some may misunderstand my position on Mr. Felton. When I said, "And in light of our desperate challenges today of defeating the enemies of Humanity as specific unjust individuals in "hiding", an ignorantly stupid thing to say." I was coming from a position that I felt, Greg's own superbly good and strong, intellectual arguments on the bigoted demonization of the innocent, would find himself! at fault with, by not looking for another's view regarding the label of "Zionist". Perhaps I was being too picky, but then, generally speaking, disputing the indefinable public's perception of the Holocaust is a loser's argument. Arguments, that generally, refuse to realize, soldiers like today's bushite, would as mindless droids, line innocent humans up next to a ditch, and shoot them all dead for no real reason in particular. [Nazis took film footage early on, then banned it, because it looked so completely insane.] Just like rumsfeld's blitzkrieg, or when enemy bushite thieves dropped thousands and thousands of land mine cluster duds in Iraqi school districts, threw grenades into Iraqi homes indiscriminately before entering with guns blaring, and true Americans, like Germans of yester year, still don't have it together as a freedom force worth reckoning with, to immediately destroy, the known of bushite with American law for criminally implementing the sadomasochistic torture of completely innocent people, and in some cases, tortured to death because maybe they finally then admitted, they were in cahoots with whomever as the "terrorist". Thereby, according to America's new Justice speaker, Gonzales, no longer was a human with rights to begin with anyway. A publicly expressed contempt for US innocent, done in by the disfunctioning sub-human bushite traitors sitting in our office. I'm sure some might understand who the greatly knowledgeable Greg Felton was referring to when stating "Zionists", but just think of the Arab "Semite". Ariel Sharon will steal the definition to victimize innocent Jews with for the American tax payer to foot the bill as, but when an Iraqi Semite, new to English newscasts tells you he's a bonafide Semite really, can he therefore be completely wrong about his true identity? Or how about this: do you think, the persons never shown for public media interview as accepting to receive stolen property like completely furnished houses called those of "Jewish Settlements", contain anything but, bigots masked as religious observers? How else could they possibly live with themselves? Amongst US true believing Jews? What of Hillel do we fail to recognize in not condemning the brutalizing of the innocent in our own names left forsaken? A well entertained teen, growing up in dum-dum America, or here in Canada for that matter, will likely have little understanding of Palestinian Jews or "Zionism", (like we don't regarding regressive tax systems,) but for like a proud Catholic in Ireland, it's something stupid he's suppose to stand up and destroy himself about while in a drunken stupor turning orange regarding some ancient Roman history or earlier biblical teachings not ever comprehended entirely... But then, I thought, gee, I was the one being ignorantly stupid, because in that space where we were communicating during the recorded interview, we had just finished making the correlation of mutual racism/bigotry expressed between Hitler and Ariel Sharon. Sharon/Hitler steals/stole an innocent person's home, then throws/threw them into concentration camps to be victimized further because they're said to be inferior to the war funded as ungodly criminals, by the ignorant and stupider than ever American tax payers, again. [See "Trading with the Enemy"] And it was there where, Greg brought forward, that too, they are some of the very same Ideologs, of both scenes, who want always to divide the masses by intolerance, through racism or bigotry, to get ourselves to die at war with our/their ignorance, while the true 'hidden' instigators, (non-descript billionaire weapons dealing private bankers usually,) bask on some beach somewhere in our stolen luxuries, not having to lift a finger to command a full course dinner. That is why bushite are currently working to even further destroy America's public educational system which is already the very weakest of our developed world, and why it is preached on television in America non-stop, invest in deregulating the world market so you too, can rip someone off with slave labor conditions to compete your good for nothing son/father with. One out of three workers, officially, in America earn ten dollars or less an hour. And repuglicons hired near homeless people at 75 dollars a day in Ohio to walk around carrying we vote repuglicon signs during the mock election. An informed populace, is a group of people growing tired of being taken for victims, who might wise up and stand for real Justice through the Freedoms of understanding. Can you imagine US speaking internationally? I can. If only You'll help me gain a platform to debate the facistic censorship deniers. The Coast to Coast radio netwrok don't want no Americans talking about why Americans are being asked to die for the bounty of, bad guy bushite war profiteering. The wealthy celebs don't have to risk their own lives, just the lives of other Americans denied a voice for representation. So, asking once or twice, and then fading away to give up ain't gonna do it. Coast to Coast only allows an intelectual one time a month to speak for maybe few seconds. That should change to weekly. And Americans should DEMAND America's serious political issues work to be addressed in an open forum like talk radio provides. I am open for challenging interviews. But again, bushite don't like free excange of ideas within our communities, for it puts their Satanic cult leader in a disfavorable light, who then wouldn't so easily, get away with committing mass murder in America, or allowing America's greatest pension thieves, to escape un-accounted.

So, I've been working on questions..

Do you not as an officer of our laws, require evidence to substantiate allegations of criminal impropriety against members of our community?

Would not allegations of murder substantiated without evidence, be false? And would not therefore, the slaughter of innocents, blamed for terrorism without a shred of evidence being known universally, be acts of mass murder committed against US interests? Or for the true believers, terrorism inflicted against G-d? (And, is this not why defining "Terrorism" was forbidden in the recent "Terrorism" conference in Saudi Arabia?)

To persecute an individual nation without a reason substantiated by evidence, would be then the persecution of our forsaken God as the innocent of US individually? Like Christ on a cross somewhere you'd be then right?

Come on, please, help yourself out man. This is Your world too you know,

King Johnny Wizard

"I share the belief of many of my contemporaries that the spiritual crisis pervading all spheres of Western industrial society can be remedied only by a change in our world view. We shall have to shift from the materialistic, dualistic belief that people and their environment are separate, toward a new conciousness of an all-encompassing reality, which embraces the experiencing ego, a reality in which people feel their oneness with animate nature and all of creation."

Here Comes Johnny

Demon bush spewed, he as the antiChrist, is the most powerful force on the face of this earth, because, the cowardly dumfuked marines will obey every criminal command to not go after the those who feed them toxic waste to blow themselves up by cluster dud, or die in a needless war. As evil bushite in their minds, they feel this ability to victimize our God as the established innocent, empowers themselves as war criminals fighting against all people. As our enemy, they bomb our residential districts to victimize all poor people of a whole nation at a momentary disadvantage, to hopefully get killed more, too weak to stand for their own families back home soldiers. Leaderless bushite soldiers who are getting bushwhacked again by the unaccounted billions and billions stolen from their very own grand parents they leave forsaken. Demon steven russell or buford blount, (both self confessed freedom hating war criminals), get killed American soldiers because a real man in American uniform so rarely exists in true to life form, for if there were, bush and rumsfeld would be dead for nearly escaping their rightful arrest for the murder of thousands of American countrymen. But see? Too cowardly the bushite soldier is, instead they lie to your family, while bombing the defenseless, to openly, openly mind you, steal Iraqi resources from a rich spirited but already dirt poor people for bush as the enemies of Humanity. Demon bush, the bushite's evil deity whom they continue to give their dying purpose IN LIES to as the unholy and unAmerican, costs them dearly. Ask yourself carefully, who wouldn't kill any bushite who was threatening to murder innocent people to pay further homage to bush as everyone in America as enemy? true enemies of freedom by justice? When the bushites target innocent people, they lay claim to be interested in getting killed more American slave whores, right? Right? While bush, as their false idol, sits smiling him demon grin over all the wealth he and his partners now own personally as stolen. I'd as Lord, kill any unarrested bushite whom would target a community of children with cluster bombs. Without a second thought. Who wouldn't I ask you real hard as Creation to think about God and Man? What real man or women wouldn't? These bushites are parasites, inhuman savages who should be taken out by the proud and few, true American soldier's of justice and virtue from the real marine handbook. Evil bushite I will never fear before destroying, for we'll hunt them all down ourselves and destroy them personally as I will single handedly if I have to even come back as the resurrected. A bushite is our enemy as traitors to the American way of living for our survival.

Don't like me? Tough luck.

Times are changing, there is an order to things, our universe has dimensions to it. There are many of us out there that scientifically understand this. We are at an understanding scientifically through measurement, that the nature of this living universe has a property to time that has no started ending before we've yet begun to realize our quantitative bites of measurement that we call history, are swimming with relative states of understanding. This can bring much for one to understand that there is no one right answers to everything but for willing for Justice, and that is of the God's truth, so to speak a word. So looking for somebody to explain things from the beginning as eternal life stands unbound and open, leads a position for a person such as myself to say, hey!, we're on our own here trying to do what is right for our being. As of Universal, there are things we can agree upon as anything consciously self aware. So, being that there are ideas of real world relativity that can be agreed to be so by any individual, it doesn't therefor ultimately matter, what you think of me personally when in support of freedom for all persons as God would will. (Jihad.) Thus is the separation of labeled identity from this higher plane of existence, that is as true as anything is. (Alive as God is, is to any bushite the fear they have of the real You of this universe unbound as an equal to all faiths, and rightly so, for if when we rise together, a blind and evil bushite will be the target of every person breathing.) Being thus, there is no reason to falsely find fault with what I am writing personally, but to understand yourself as judged through universal agreement by rational structure to the nature of chaos and order, thinking. .... So, Example: you know, nobody wants to be murdered. No one want to be deprived there liberty by not working directly to devive those same right from "others". If we're not committing criminal acts, and we're trying to make our way in this world the best we can with what we got, why would a bushite target US as innocent victim? Those of US trying to make an honest day's work seem enjoyable, while trying to have some happiness somewhere along the line, don't deserve to be sacrificed for the demon bush, so he can rob further more from our humanity left undefended. It is when the bushite designates a chunk of humanity under the evil bushite vision of "them" as not our equals, not our brothers, is where we all as God agree that the George W. Bush cabal of war criminals are our sworn enemies. Contemptible people who blindly follow bush don't have any understanding as reason for their baseless opinion on victimizing our God, because we know they hide from open debate of their personal proven falsehoods, and misgivings on the power of my words. It's a misplaced faith in war criminal bush as their ungodly antiChrist will escape them the wrath of ourselves as the Humans without consequences is an atheists dilemma. Bushites don't have the frame work of understanding to know why they believe in the things that they do, while victimized all our Humanity believing we in fear, won't target bushite for Johnny's favor. Think again. I'd kill bushite to defend my innocent family, wouldn't You in all honesty? Of course you would. Any real man or woman would, anything less, would be uncivilized. Destroy the war criminating George W. Bush and his partners in crime my friend, and be loved by all as savior. Or don't. You decide your fate.

Big Sky

We, as glorious human beings, are wondrously effected by the nature's of perception, but as so 99.9 percent wondrous, we come with some recognizable universal draw backs. One: actual evidence as measurable, must be a requirement to convince us of something to deprive another of rights over by judicial action. True judicial action through democratic means. (The simplicity of "a freeman shall not be imprisoned" is being profoundly missed by the bushmob's America as played too dumb to comprehend through our media news channels censored.) Demon bush demands you faithfully blank your mind from his bad faithed dictate on how unspeakable 9/11 magically went down, but without most the established crime scene evidence that is freely uploadable. It's not, gee, I wonder when he'll really screw up, it is bush himself whom is committing the crime of 9/11 with rummy to begin with, then thinking, he could get away with it still by lying to EVERYONE. For all time. War crimes have no statute of limitations in my book, and the law has a mighty long reach my friend.

Bushite bremer hired Saddam's secret police, and fired school teachers. Mr. bremer, you'll remember, is the president of Kissinger Associates, the group that criminally provided Saddam the WMD knowhow. That's is evil for ya. His strategic defense, is that American soldiers, are too weak as slaves, and create doubt on what is firmly established in evidentiary proceedings already. Mr. bremer figures, since no person would willingly put themselves where he is, as certainly, it just can't be so.. (I'm sure he and rummy get alot of chuckles from conning US all as God to murder ourselves like that.) Doubt is an ever present property of a constantly changing, nothing is absolute universe. Substantiated evidence is ALL we got to go on, and sometimes, that can even get foggy. Similarly, with bush and rumsfeld. Their kind of treason is so blasphemous, people can't recognize that any real human being would willingly try to actually do such a thing for the windfalls of big corporate profit, and as such, a many god person, (as often the good natured and kind hearted), desperately look for any doubt, than to face such a human fear of real demon behavior in our World of worlds of every character. I as Lord hope, that over time, soon, recognizing war crimes will become almost second nature to US, and the fear of Human development as all good, will change to wicked fun and prosperity for all concerned. Currently, the lawless bushites are left to furthering with the barter of Your dying existence, all done by Your inaction to simply help Yourself. Yeah, YOU left televised to be politically powerless over trying to raise some awareness on the true state of your being alive in this world.

Kimmitt "We certainly don't believe that this indicates the coalition is demonstrating weakness".

Who is this "we" the bushites keep referring to? Is bombing residential communities to murder US people indiscriminately with toxic cluster duds, (that kill aplenty dubya dubya's), not just one of the stupidest, most heinous, worthless war crimes ever that could be committed in anyone's name? Seriously. It purposefully gets killed American Patriots, and for what but a blind worship of bush as their ticking

Where is Kimmitt to speak about feeding plutonium to the loyal troops? Something he doesn't wish them to learn of? Is that not weakness as a military leader refusing like a coward, to stand on defense of your own dying blood brothers? He instead wishes to decieve himself, than to fight bravely believing in Freedom and Justice for US all. Maybe he'll change his view, by accidentally arresting bremer for the WMDs sold to Saddam illegally by following the evidence trail himself. Then maybe helping me out to get those responsible for 9/11 in the bush administration. What do you say Kimmitt?, are you with yourself as true American Patriot, yea or nay?

http://www.khilafah.com/home/category.php?DocumentID=9176&TagID=2

" "When there is a security failure, the party responsible for security is to be blamed. And let us ask ourselves, who has the capability of launching such bombs in these circumstances? What story should we believe, should we believe and blame the figure that the Americans are drawing for us (Abu Musaab al-Zarqawi and al-Qaida fighters), or should we believe what we are seeing on the ground everyday?" he said. "

Well yah. It makes no sense for why bush's Laden, or the real Laden even, would be working directly for the bushmob to steal further more from Iraqi wealth, and the soldiering American tax payer, while not suggesting a kill shot to russell, blount, bremer, rumsfeld or bush. Or, speaking on the despicable war crimes, or where all the stolen loot is going to. (IT'S SEVENTEEN PAGES!!!) Then, guess who decided all of Iraq should get this criminal, let's do the bushmob another great idea? Bremer, or the CPA. (Reminds me of rummy's "pentagon" plan P2OG, a terrorist plan figured by rummy; that since, he don't want found out responsible for treason, he'll orchestrate it himself to 'appear' [like as if by magic] as the Pentagon, or America, and that's only if, we were to be asking him directly about something he criminally planned personally. (but shhhh.. it's a written secret between just him and US apparently) Strange days of terrible tragedy, I know.. But fun!))

These crimes Kimmitt seems dead set on not investigating, ring more from his weak leadership, than from anything else. The bushite war crimes are as iligitimately premissed, and as so evil is always dumb and weak like Kimmitt is spotlighted as traitor to every American soldier out there truly dying needlessly as bushwhores so to rob from Iraqi and American. Kimmitt only lacks himself some manly courage to try saving US all by communicating for America's America. Will he, or.

Illiterate, irrational, all around dumb dubya had stated long before, that he knows that the, no plan to die for but getting bushite rich quicker scheme letter writing guy, is for sure, senior al-Qaeda, and I guess, he would know better than everyone else about the writer doing himself as the deceived pure evil nazi war criminating antiChrist so many favors? The bush liar as America's enemy kills ourselves as the innocent and undefended, needlessly but for stealing our human values, and so... accused Laden is a terrorist for what loyal causes again?

Being bushite victim just sucks for God as everyone.

I want to come down and party with you People, but the bushmob keeps trying to ruin our days, by destroying American lives not being spoken for. I don't like the bushite attitude about criminally ruling our ways, and I'm here to freely, demand Justice for Freedom as the Heaven's awakening. The problem is NRA members aren't acting to protect Justice left unrepresented by corporate mind control., Like Freedom of the living breathing good American Police investigating forces being denied as relevant news material witnesses. Demon bush's war mongering against God hasn't only recklessly murdered near two hundred thousand mostly defenseless, unarmed people, but has dumped with rummy, thousands of TONS of radio-active toxic waste to murder God for what will be greater than 50 generations of innocent human beings. Murdered in your name, my name, America's name, God's name. What beef does a bushite corporate america have with the Children of God? I beg the NRA, the CIA, the FBI, good guy bikers, and any other real Patriots to stand up as men for the Family, and kill the unarrested enemy bushmob for 9/11 as traitors to our dying America, and for the war crimes they have committed in our names. War crimes while sacrificing to actually DIE, the dumfuk nazi teen soldiers whom have no leadership present to speak of. As I've stated previously, we will ask all American soldiers to either stand for America and the Constitution, as freedom and Justice for all, demanding evidence to convince US whom is suspected for criminal offences, or with the bushites, as enemies of themselves to self arillate.

Evil is just the deceived disguised. (Wow I AM Amazing)

I guess this is all quite a consideration to take and role through with for a couple thousand years, but look, evil incarnate antiChrist bush is back again fuking US around, harming our World as Humanity with flagrant war crimes continuing. His illegitimate power base comes from Americans thinking that because he is the President, he shouldn't be accountable to American Law like the rest of US, and that is where a bushite takes the fall while trying to bring down all of Americans through corporate censorship on his treason. Like unarrested fascist steven "he'll kill a bunch of US folk if you complain publicly about bush banking policy or bush health care premiums" russell, or unarrested bush bitch buford blount, who confesses the joy to see American soldiers die rightly for his irrational crimes against innocent civilians trying to defend ourselves. Fuk, who wouldn't destroy unarrested buford blount I ask all creatures great and small. Wouldn't you? I mean, come on, HONESTLY, THINK ABOUT IT, what real man, if he had to, wouldn't, to protect their innocent family? Steven russell and buford blount as steroided pill poppers have targeted innocent whomevers for being just alive, because they trust, in faith, that all America will think it makes the demon bush 'cabal' so scary and strong in a godless world that gets killed, not all so blind cowardly Patriots seen led leaderlessly as unAmerican like that forever. One or two Soldier's of Fortune in the American marines, willing to join up with US as true freedom fighters for America, is all I'm pushing for here as King of kings.

(Hey.. I know... I naturally spook myself, but I so enjoy living for something, and, there does seems to be room to believe here for you as anyone to freely be also. If Americans only knew how fantastic you could be as this living universe questing justice for freedom, You'd as anyone, think twice about silently letting the bushmob take you as anyone else further to suffer unheard from. I urge soldiers to unite on our determination to take the bush administration out of our life and death business decisions, and straight behind bars, awaiting their open public trials for treason.)

The bushites who faithfully advocate the murder of innocent people blindly are our enemies, and I ask all able bodied men, to do what is right, and get the bushmob of terrorists before they take another American soldier as too weak to realize what is protected in the American constitution.

Forever Hold Your Peace

"I feel depressed," she said after leaving the theatre. "He (Gibson) went overboard with the cruelty and violence, and I think Mel Gibson is a bit of a sadist."

It's not the great artist Gibson, but corporate american cult news who sit back bushiting "It's harmless, now shut up dummy", knowing sadistic "sexy" rummy dumped thousands of tons of radio-active toxic waste, along with land mines to commit senseless, gratuitous mass murder in residential communities housing the God of Revelations.

It is bushite america who call themselves Christian, who fund the Likud with American sweat and labor, to criminally assault innocent Christians as accused of nothing but being Christian. They do this as enemies of Justice and God, to tell US as unbelievers, to quickening the coming of the Lord, who will in turn, condemn the individuals responsible, straight to hell where they rightly belong. (Or prison whichever comes first)

It is America who sit bushiting "Freedom", while wording nothing to blindly enslaving whomever, to torture or murder for whatever by bombing Nations of People irrationally. No reason., For law. (But to maybe secretly sell drugs, or steal assets to victimize Humanity. a.k.a. Jesus forsaken, or WMD bemer's Iraq)

And it is toxic cult corporate america, who let traitors, bush and rummy murder thousands in New York City, ("The People") and then escape forever, operation infinite justice. I don't think so. I as John would destroy every nazi american bushite happily, to save the life of one child in any third world country.

Killing people
for no good reasons really sucks. I hate bushites.

Let's get the Patriots together and bag US some Rumsfeld

I just so much hate that demon antiChrist bush, and his cabal of war mongers, it hurts. Let's just kill George W. Bush for being qualified to lead but only himself and Rumsfeld directly up to our NRA's firing squad, for almost foolishly thinking they would actually escape the planned murder of US thousands in New York City on 9/11, then continuing by sacrificing dumdum nazi soldiers on a cross in a completely unnecessary war against civilization. What is it that the evil bushites can do now in Iraq, before murdering untold thousands and thousands, but for stealing even more of God's good will towards all Mankind as loved?

[ SILENCE ]

No words from the bushites who rule our communications through corporate news censorship, while Christian parents call out unheard: why has corporate america allowed forsaken soldiers to eat plutonium to murder God for a measly few dollars the bushmob will pocket for the up coming "unbiased" re-election news campaign? As I suggested before, (If there are no real men in the marines) why not just give the unarrested bushmob all the money they want, so we can forgo all the needless death and suffering against our friends and family?

[Look, usenet's us.military.army can be the place anyone in the world can offer any irrational thought on why bush shouldn't be immediately arrested or executed as traitor, but guess what? bushite nazi brethren, either mostly don't exist in our real world, or can't think to save themselves as bushwhore nazi dumdums. Dumdums who advocate the senseless murder of innocent People, and the continuing destruction of America's America.]

Free Wheeling

" Why is it so far-fetched to imagine God's unhappiness about denying civil rights to any man or woman? "

snpd

Demon bush knows now that Americans do not support him by democratic poll, yet, he is taking a position of currupting the American Constitution, that he in almost every other way, has left ignored as irrelevant.

Demon bush is fcuekd up. I guess it comes with being the antiChrist, and killing all them American coppers, has got his purpose all wacky, and out of order with the rest of our world liberating.

You can protect a person's right to be, but not pass laws to deny free loving of the godly humans. But guess what?, bush'll do it anyway by saying, he dunt read papers with words on rights of dem People, cause we're all together too opinionated when it comes to him mass murdering thousands, like in New York City.

The Jews had it right

Demon bush recently commenting on his vast superior knowledge of matrimony, spewed forth "millennia of human experience,"

Imagine a corporately successful American divorce lawyer, taking what he can get away with, and the marriage experience for America we'll be like that sometimes.

Just where is the "human experience"? I don't yet know all the answers, but, why is it that the happy couple can't just have a religious ceremony sanctifying their marriage, and be done with the rest of the, I might screw you over in the legal ease later part of it? If done so, I'm sure marriages would more easily stand the test of time. The strength of marriage is recognized for what it symbolizes in love ever lasting union. (as God is, or as with Nature, or just as all the dedicated one on one playtime)

The divorce lawyers take half your life's assets through pressing subtly for, doing so as he/she plans, to be sweetly bittered out of settlement as far as the lingo can commiserate the arbitrator of commissary charges on every forthwith therefore, stuffed for your(s), petty pity parties into their glorious big fat wallet.

Marriages don't truly hold together through love by expensive paper work done by hearty bureaucrats, but by a personal life commitment to love, cherishing one.. blah blah blah... Now, how could anyone, anywhere, as "The State" say to two people who express a mutual caring love, (as anyone else could), are forbidden to express love through sharing freely with one another as something truly beautiful? A celebrated relationship that makes their time together something treasured? Time of the newer old world along with all the ancient newborn stars above orchestrating for their everyday ra-ra pom-pommed humdrum of roughing it through the bad times to revel in the good? Couples who have committed to life long sharing, live longer on the average, than anybody else does. It's a fact Jill.

(As for me, and my own little Universe that revolves around myself starving for attention as almost penniless performer, leaves me with my one liner, "no I'm actually playing the Son of Man as Creator for real to packed live auditoriums", really kinda, makes things difficult...but hey! Things could change. God is free Love man!, don't you guys remember the 60's? Look, I'll even show you how i do some of my best card tricks, if you get me on for an hour or two with Aaron Brown. He's on that CNN channel. The News channel. Or perhaps my secret nemesis, Art Bell, why don't you give him a call?)

God but, the Marriage thing is really a big something in America, as it does seem amiss, though I'm honestly not qualified to offer much more insights, until I can get off the, why is bush getting away with murdering US as the antiChrist first. (Maybe it is all my fault why no girl wants to give her love to me in between my swashbucklin'.. oh well then, I guess that's one of the mysteries I pose as the average chicken coop's "holy God cock")

Anyway, I think it's time we'd be getting the deviant George W. Bush annulled from our wills.

" MK Ahmed Tibi (Hadash) said he does not think Boim should resign because the deputy defense minister acts as valuable evidence for those who think the Israeli government embraces a group of fascists. "

As I've written, since i took up this challenge, areil sharon is the furthest thing from a Jew one could imagine. No really, that's the most disturbing quality of racism, and or bigotry practiced in our governments as Institutionalized. (A fault found that is genuinely unfair as those who practice it.) (of which so very none get truly wealthy from.) Resulting in an individual monster named ariel sharon: enemy of every Jew since the dawn. To, as a representative government, publicly, in the People's name, ACT deliberately unfair as criminals, denigrating some labeled group of innocent people for cheating and victimization, or murdering like hitler did, is as of, unfair to the God of Christian, Pagans, the Buddyhas, along with a great many others even including the, "no thanks", they have all the answers already to life's big question innocent Atheists, DOES NOT preclude including the "Jews" of the old new testament, that sharone (in contempt of all People as God, as in his own life left rejected 'unfairly') would have left unread. For the bonuses of american tax taking from an "other" less fortunates to not have anti-Semites (Semite=Arab) with nazi american mk-47s around ariel sharon always to protect himself from a true Kingly Jew. For, what else is in this life, but to make people suffer like Jesus did. Right ariel sharon? It's this, it's so simple, the corporations wont let US say so thing again. FRONTLINE did a show once, several years ago on the actual individual people that the Jew-haters funded by nazi america victimize, but repeated since?,.. rarely never in AMERICA. Why? Because anyone with any sense would immediately see, who was the bad guy, and who was the Jew. Not good for the repuglicons who take money on the, won't go away issue though, played unknowable on "unbiased" commercial corporate american TV news broadcasts. They're stayed to f-o-r-c-e US neutral by, in a evil cult like bushite trace, find irrational excuses to except silently: concentration camps, torture, and first degree murders against innocent Christians or Jews, paid for committed in our names as illegitimate.

What ever happened to the 50 year Jewish Jubilee where all Jews give up on what is their now stolen land, to acknowledge God's Holy teaching from the Tora? Is the Jubilee just a myth? If you build a house, on the property you share, would it be wrong for ariel sharon to steal it, while america was left unaware? American tv doesn't even play what their being truly taxed to death for under the demon antiChrist, their Mr. bush Jr., so what can we expect in all honesty, right? (Demon bush murders good guy American police officers, and it's just far to embarrassing for corporate america to immediately arrest or execute the traitor.)

Mr. ariel sharon has been on the Jewish hit list, since a Jew met a Jew in the park and said, "that ungodly bastard sharon just murdered my Palestinian Jewish friend, who he called innocent of all things." Demon anti-Jew ariel sharon knows what his consequences are, for, that's all he is as the ungodly. Knows nothing of democracy, knows nothing of freedom or Jewish religious teachings, he just keeps killing Jews so they won't catch him, while he does things like, oh I don't know, desecrates the third holiest of holies. Again, ariel sharon is not Jewish. Deal with it. PRIME EXAMPLE:

The evil Jew-hater, ariel sharon, was caught directly involved in the cover up, of the failed attempt for his partners in crime to blow up some could be Jewish People in the Mexican congress, then likely finger Laden as innocent of as terrorists. To incredible to believe?
Believe it. Didn't see it splashed on CNN as important on where American tax dollars are being funneled as Christ killers though did you?

snpd the God is sometimes gay part

But simply put, the more Jews ariel sharon gets murdered, the more money from repuglicons comes by taking Christians for Christ helpless on the cross, but without any 'real' God. Then anti-Jew ariel sharon puts money back into the private pockets of 'wealthy' repuglicons for funding true terrorism on the sly. The Likuds steal people's homes, life savings, shoot to death innocent Christians, Atheists, whomever, while they then send off the surviving victims with only what can be carried quickly, to suffer in some ghetto camp.
Hitler, revisited. What "Jews" since whenever have suffered from, now without God in Government, made fearful to stand for their rights against bigot murderer ariel sharon's mk-47s., they then under tyranny, falsely, try to condemn all themselves as forsaken without G's leadership found in Mr. ariel sharon. The Jews had it right on me never actually personally getting up on a cross by God's inability to communicate through silence, it is more of a metaphor on the true state of humanity, but no more so graphically illustrated by today's Likude Israel that condemns all the People as God. One more example on many: Demon sharon, funded by nazi bushite america, will have Jewish Israeli teens arrested that disagree with murdering innocent people to steal their land as God from. It's a fact Jack. Mr. areil sharon is not Jewish. Live with it suffering without speaking, or shout to the high heavens that your fed up, and we're not going to take it any longer. The King has returned!

King of the Jews,

Johnny Wizard

W's Reality Gap
http://www.alternet.org/mobile/story_mobile.html?StoryID=17907

" Whenever President Bush is now confronted with an unacceptable reality, he either changes the subject - is steroid use really more important than the environment? - or expresses confidence in his certainty. "I'm absolutely confident that..." he'll say, as if the issue is his determination rather than his conclusion. "

It's his faith infinitive as the antiChrist, where he has hypnotized the dopey with merely the power of suggestion, that has brought him to US as foolishly not conceiving, or most importantly, truly understanding. So, do we feel sorry for his ignorance as fallibility we are all prone to own as the human rendition? No. But for stupidity thinking he could murder US as the innocent to steal our free values, and just get away with it by lying to no one continually, is where the Lord makes our stand for God unseen as miraculous.

The demon bush dictate is not exceptable for my just little man universe. I knows too much about freedom to go on dying in bush's forsaken place as innocent sacrifice. With corporate america's unarrested demon bush forcing my hand, I would decide to defend by concluding, he is truly, the enemy of all America. America: weak without leadership, yes, but not as dumb as some would have us believe. When is it that we feel sorry for the thousands of lives bush's deliberate actions of mass murder have taken for no good reasons? Their ain't nobody to defend america's overlord, but through corporate censorship of the reality of who's really dying for the demon bush liar. I'm the one anyone would ever have a legitimate fear of getting on the wrong side of, and if your not in the process of attempting to get away with murdering some defenseless family for nothing but to rob from, to each, his or her own, mostly, right?

U.S. pays millions to discredited Iraqis http://www.twincities.com/mld/twincities/news/nation/8010694.htm

" The letter appeared to contradict denials made last year by top Pentagon officials that they were receiving intelligence on Iraq that bypassed established channels and vetting procedures. "

Bypassing America as undefended freedom,, sacrificed to die for slavery under the unconstitutional as blatant evil, bushite decrees. Demon bush tells America, and indeed the World, since 9/11, evidence will no longer be a requirement to convince US who is a mass murderer, and corporate news america sells on without the human opinion present evaluating his true asking price. Man, that demon bush is sure one true evil bastard when you think of what he, rummy, and Ashcroft is stealing in our names censored through nazi fascism. [Granted, I am literate.]

God or no God, I don't like that demon antiChrist, Our Mr. bush Jr. very much.

Democracy How?
http://www.prospect.org/print/V15/3/collier-r.html

" "The database is comprehensive, extremely detailed,"

By Annan not publicly addressing this very serious issue, will not be fooling me he hasn't heard it mentioned. The families of Iraq are accounted almost entirely by "comprehensive, extremely detailed" measurements. So what the hell is going on about supporting our world community by not condemning war crimes?, Just where is Annan on the issue of an international commitment kept I want asked religiously across this world. Now.

Boy, if I were make believe King...

Falling for You

Brahimi said. "We need to organize elections as early as possible but not as early as impossible."

Help me understand: Why can not Iraq start on the process of

ORGANIZING ELECTIONS

NOW to work towards gaining accountability for soon as possible? After June? What the... Can't we people talk while walking? Look, the future is likely coming no matter what, and what ever illegitimate government is embarrassingly stalled by evil WMD proliferator baathist bremer to steal unaccounted American tax dollars from the "willing" victims dying, (like by bush bitch cluster dud) will still necessitate the need, to have started on the process of fair elections for our Iraq before hand. Corporate america might not care of sacrificing America to rob from, but real People are honorable, and won't reserve the scourge of nazi bushitizm a place to suffer any further if we can help it.

The bushites are sorrily, simply not qualified under the dire circumstances they've assaulted ourselves into for mugger war profitizing, as leading US to be dying undefended while failing miserably on my behalf to demand Justice as freedom is truly.

Now, it has been vaguely suggested that a, steven "you can't have public health care or he'll murder whomever for thinking" russell, or a buford "bush bitch" blount as treasonous evil nazi bushwhore, to undermine freedom and democracy everywheres in our world might cowardly attack defenseless innocent families at the polls while leaving "bin Laden" fingerprints, criminally warring to kill more American dumdums for commi Halliburton et al, continuing committing as unaccounted massive waste in America by over billing the dying People. Why would bushites do this? Evil is blind irrationality, disguised as thought out faithfully by fascists. The, nothing to fear suggestible absolute nature of non-lineraliity, is 99.9 percent, super fractal wowy miraculous as crazy about the fringes, (or is that bridges?). But, without Justice ruling our stay, we leave for a Heaven waiting, on a sea of madness as enemies of life to all things eternally being. Translated: We need to arrest these specific war criminals at the end of our, ready to fire rifles. Done to stop them personally, from robbing or murdering America indiscriminately as enemies to everyone. But in addition to that, (like at the same time) who says the polls can't be stretched out over several days or a week, with multiple options on submitting votes registered through the oil-for-food program? I want to know where Annan is on this., why it can't be done., and what his position is on returning the Iraqi Humanitarian aid stolen by Halliburton, or Iraqi Central Bank deposits cashed by HAS TO BE, current pirates. Annan, be a man, an acknowledge our presence as relevantly important for our world's living sake.

We had 100 percent access throughout Iraq prior to allowing bush, rumsfeld, and franks to sacrifice literally thousands of innocent lives. Who are now DEAD or DYING NEEDLESSLY as first degree murder victims, in some bastardized Lord's name apparently.

Any improvements of the current situation in Iraq today, are going to be less that what would have costed to not kill innocent people for nothing but evil bushite war profitizing at it's level worst in this history ever of all Humanity recorded. The demon antiChrist of corporate america has got to go, and he's got to go immediately as arrested or shot dead by the Patriots for treason, before he causes US anymore needless losses and grief to our friends and family. Like for the next fifty or so generations what with the plutonium being fed blindly as willed to cowardly, weak, American teen enemy bushite soldiers presently. (If we could seperate the bushites from the rest of US, this might be a good thing, but they have no real leadership to speak about freely as the dying stupidly.(PRINT THIS PAPER AND MAIL IT EVERYWHERE))

DYING like those from 9/11 did, or dying slower, like with NYC air quality as best Oz has to offer. (Harmless corporate TV tells US without opinion.) Either or even in other ways, the demon bush is truly killing God's America in Your name not heard from. Help me you idiot. You! Yes you there, reading here. I am your secret friend see?, and.. well.. the Universe needs your help desperately pal. Please? For me? ..Oh God help me your really dumb without you aren't I too? Listen: we need to talk.

We are here to save all of creation from needless death. Big deal. Your are of a real eternal nature, that exists also, (as understood scientifically) timeless. For real. (The big bang is now. (All mass is also of not as seperate energy, then there's our gravity...)) Our possibilities for a great, better future are staggering, if we are capable collectively as individuals to defeat the "kindness" of George W. bush, the dying embodiment of evil as the very true demon antiChrist of all biblical references ever mentioned. His lying isn't just deceitful, it is downright hellish.

You know what I think? The evil enemies of Humanity, don't want US People to be recognized from being victims under tyranny through corporate cult censorship. Without Justice ruling our ways under the irrational criminal bushmob dictate, we lose as losers cheating ourselves as not worth the consideration to be free individuals.

Granted, I am an actual god familiar with the rights present within the Constitution of America. THEE God's god, here to teach the world about needless sacrifice, caused primarily, for the effects of inflated egg shell egos. As Creator, I goofed somewhere in the, order to chaos mixer. I didn't plan (it was a mistake) for Americans to be so cowardly and weak when it comes to defending their very own selves from needless death and sorrow through blatant, naked, how can you miss it, evil criminal enterprises. So, perhaps, now if I stop writing, and fake I flied off vamoosed into the unknowable, a couple people on the planet might go 'hmpht', and decide to carry on bravely, the real, honest to death struggle for freedom living without me as sorrily missed. (I as John am not anything special paradoxically.) This is fear itself, ain't nobody nowhere as terrifyingly terrifiable as this is just truly super terrific being only my simple written taughts, yet, ... I'm like.. just fiction writer, big dreamer Johnny Wizard, looking for some happiness, human respect, and a good last supper before I check out from this made by the earthling "space explorers" dungeon cell.

But who cares about me, or my great, he thinks he's so brilliant ideas? Everything's seriously a pain to him sometimes, and he talks to himself like he's the, been here and gone as eons now, King of the Universe for the holy Word from the Heavens above or something. What a poor dying fool to chance that anyone would willingly help themselves by caring for someone. ..You know, I'm beginning to not be all that crazy about the demon bush liar continuing to war humanity in my own true name also now that I think of life in this way honestly. H-e..Y -! (Morningstar has been accused of a lot of things, but you'll notice, always plays fair as your rules.))

What freedom in Iraq will come that allows a, buford blount to walk unaccosted by 'legal' services? Or where rummy's cluster dud advocates gain silent gratitude? A nation high-jacked by bremer's buddies who illegally sold Saddam WMD, then the product wisely gets destroyed as functionally useless being primarily indiscriminate warfare, then bremer's buddies come in again and murder untold thousands upon thousands, all because your magic TV is letting them get away with it as considered too embarrassing to the billionaire private stake holders. Fuk you corporate american Human haters for not reporting the bushites as war crime supporters.

Where in the real world are the nazi bushites gonna demand we go to allow 'them' to continue warring the Constitution while wearing a bushite soldier's uniform in their dying universes of Universe? Leaderless corporate america?, injured and dying as the unjustly starving? What can the bushites do now in Iraq, that they couldn't do before the needless murder of untold thousands upon thousands of innocent people with loving families? Before dumping thousands of tons of radio-active toxic waste as enemies of God's children?

Only to rob, maim, and destroy God's great work through Love. We had complete unrestricted access throughout Iraq, and Saddam was offering the national media for bush to pontificate, while not refusing dialog for any suggestions.

I ask:

Can not America invite me formally for brunch, by somehow bypassing the war mongering nazi tyrant held up in the Oval office? I'd invite you all, but my place is still a mess, and I'm stuck eating for survival just now. I don't qualify for help, because surely, a person with your talents, should have someone willing to stave you off the, who cares about saving the world for you buddy, laughing in all seriousness shtick. (cool eh?)

I give you my world:

To save humanity from tyranny will be accomplished through the value of these free ideals recognized.

Isn't life grand sometimes when the bushites aren't needlessly murdering our innocent families in your name?

I again, will now leave
you without me,

forever loved,

Johnny Wizard - Your "other" parent or guardian advising you to immediately, by Citizen Right, arrest the President's 'cabal' in the name of the Lord, who already died for this once already god damn it, and I'm not sacrificing any longer unknown as forgotten in the absence of any true reason to our existence, I want to celebrate. I want to afford a cold brew to nuzzle on a warm sunny afternoon, at a hideaway somewhere, lost in my comforts of having few real worries, but for unintentionally offending someone for not having the time to except their generous support, or gratitude.

" "We need to find a mechanism to create a caretaker government and then help prepare the elections later - sometime later in the future," he added. Mr Annan said that there was "wide agreement" "

Unelected care taking government? What is the group their now supposedly doing? Where in the process is corporate america to simply fix the Russian generators they've been paid over and over again already for as doing nothing in The People's interests?, As unaccounted to? Where is corporate america to fly in the emergency food and provisions for the innocent as victimized? Who's care will this continuing robbery of America through war crimes further fail to serve? How can Annan gain "wide agreement", with no poll on the issue? Who personally did he talk to, agreeing to leave Iraq without working for an elected government of the People?, and who consented to give up on such dire needs? Where is Annan on the thousands of tons of radio-active toxic waste dumped by rotten rummy? Is it not an issue he should personally be addressing for Humanity, to demand an immediate clean up paid for by those responsible? Imagine that: Truly toxic as dying, American Patriot soldiers making it up to God's great Creation, by hunting down the actual bad guys, who done did crossed the wrong family this time.

Wow, now that would be a war worth televising!

New Moon

To steal public utility services paid already as owned completely by IRAQI, (America dying for the bushite American pension thieves at WorldCom or Britain's "Dutch"-Shell,) ain't gonna change the business locations. The evil unAmerican cop killing bushites think they're gonna party in Manhattan on our dime in apartments for around $15,000 a month, while sneering at a homeless beggar on the streets, who thought he was still in Vietnam.

An oil-for-Iraq program needs to be reestablished, but transparent to all as addressing the immediate emergency needs of Iraqis. Private, in the secret back room with the bushmob nazi bankers, and their private inept collaborators flustering as international fraudulent behaviors, just wont do., try as bush might to murder perhaps millions of Americans uncovered by his criminally enforced, reduction in health care coverage extravaganzas.

THE ROVING EYE IRAQ AND AL-QAEDA Part 1 - The usual suspects http://www.axisoflogic.com/artman/publish/article_5146.shtml

" This latest US intelligence, though, makes little sense. For starters, al-Qaeda pigeons are highly unlikely to move around with computer discs in their briefcases: since early 2002 a disabled al-Qaeda has used women couriers to deliver strictly verbal messages. "

Kimmitt in collusion with the bushmob perhaps? To cover up an investigation set up to encourage the blind murder of America as bushite by attempting to divide all the People of Iraq as Iraqi?, na... not in a tribal based, enduring practically timeless, inter-woven culture.

Those who ran public healthcare and university are all the bad guys for thinking, the blind bushite bigots would conclude illegitimately., and I would say to yourself: no, the People with equal rights to stay united for good times, are a people sworn to uphold law that serves our freedom's best. Iraqi assets are not bush and bremer's right to steal without question, nor either, American generosity swindled by WorldCom, Enron, Dutch-Shell or Halliburton is the final, be all answer to everything.

You as sure would know that unjustly victimizing the World in our name because "they" didn't believe in blindly worshiping with servitude, the war mongering mass murderer demon bush liar, is freedom stolen from any. Wide, across the board, ask anyone for comment on where the bombs dropped from. Needlessly in bush's name, but to war God's love, and my good life.

Demon bush is not America, America is America.

This is all I'm ever doing as King, but perhaps also, not going left hungry. If you can help me help you, we'll be set for something better.

Truth can pose serious problems, when we idolize blindly the evil demon antiChrist for criminal sacrifice, instead of arresting him for 9/11 along with cheney, and bummer rummy, the silent but radio-active cluster dud dropper who murders American Patriots for a nickel.

Too awe shock embarrassing is it to ameliorate for the sake of a dying American Patriot Kimmitt?

For, why would Laden want the bushites to stay to further rob America through creating instability within his own ranks? without denouncing the demon bush war lies, that are paying a very real price.. ? What would it cost commi Halliburton, to face public accountability (Democracy) in Iraq on where Iraqi money is being misappropriated for? Do you think they'll get to keep the oil business, to sell back to all of Iraq at uncontested mark up freely? To steal food aid to under pay the third world? Starving?

To steal public utility services paid already as owned completely by IRAQI, (America dying for the bushite American pension thieves at WorldCom or Britain's "Dutch"-Shell,) ain't gonna change the public business locations. The evil bushites think they're gonna party in Manhattan on our dime in apartments for around $15,000 a month, while sneering at a homeless beggar on the streets, who thought he was still in Vietnam.

Perhaps, he is.

Another American soldier owes me a beer, or will be dying to steal life from themselves as sacrificed for the evil criminal dictate of Their Mr. bush Jr.. Don't go silent as the unknown dying enemy to God and humanity, stand with Justice and freedom in America for Americans, and I swear, we won't kill ya as the good guys in the epilogue.

By the bushmob attempting to create unrest, so Halliburton at al, can continue in the tommy franks chaos to rob America blind with false billing, instead of cash paying, is costing the lives of American teen soldiers. Who god love'em or hate'em, don't have the intellect to strategize their way out of an open paper bag, never mind evil bush's false creeds without real leadership present as living for. Instead of bruising our egos, the bushites are dropping bombs illegally on the family.

Man.

Ask a dying soldier how it sits to know commi Halliburton pocketed Humanitarian Aid? Go ahead, ask'em?! Then ask'em why they die as cowards by rummy cluster dud for the bushmob to rob their own direct families left unprotected? Ask'em! You know what they'll tell you? They're not happy about these bushmob war crimes truly destroying America in America, "freedom", "democracy", Johnny Wizard or otherwise., Or instead they'll mumble something incoherently while jaunting away to murder some one found defenseless, or innocent to pay further while dying to slave under the criminal dictate of the really evil demon bush Jr..

A proud bushite is a toxic bushite halting from warring the innocent by stealing your human values truly.

We need to see an apology to come from America, an apology to Humanity for this carnage waged unnecessary, but for these contemptible war profiteering practices as direct assaults to all as God is. Assaults that we have been unable to remedy by openly communicating to bush's secret White House, rumsfeld's secret Pentagon, or Ashcroft's secret Justice Department.

Just who's running this show anyway, I wanna know.

A - g - a - i - n

Will Americans save themselves with help from the rest of US, by arresting bush and rumsfeld immediately for high treason?, or will they cower and DIE as the innocent, in false gratitude to the lying traitors bushmob? To with their dying breath proclaim unattested, to be ridding the Universe of their continuing criminal behavior.. a.k.a. evil?

Evidence is a must to establish a crime scene provocateur, to deny such privilege is to deny freedom be served as consented through any government.

Hint: Demon bush, rumsfeld and Ashcroft, they ain't no struggling democracy entirely.

Look, the thing about God coming down, and having it out with humanity on some various critical issues, isn't like going to happen, it is doing.

We had complete unrestricted access throughout Iraq prior to murdering any innocent child in america's name.

These verbs will strike that antiChrist demon down for ever and a day, and if I've gone, faded away, these words will still remain, till now we meet again,

as you were,

Johnny Wizard

The Benderman Cause

I felt compelled to support the Benderman's cause in any way I could, so I am providing America some arguments that I would use in a court of law to defend your freedoms. If America would so desire, I would also be prepared to make a recorded statement from here in Canada. (I have been denied access into the U.S..) My positions of rational argument are naturally based upon our established facts, and as such, are something few Americans are afforded the luxury of through corporate channels. I hope my forcefulness on these issues does not fear you to doubt I have the best of intentions when it comes to serving the interests indivisibly inherent within the American Constitution. God, I believe is just, and as such, the ungodly war actions of George W. Bush dictate are criminal in the worst degree, being a harbinger of suffering and misery against all of Humanity as US being the innocent. The innocent in our entirety, is my "God" that I love with all I can will. I am compelled as a living human being to defend America to the last bush supporter praised if need be. I fight the enemy of God and Humanity with reason, understanding, Akeido, and a conviction that our justice system must prevail for me to be truly myself really.

"He explained to "60 Minutes," "I was told in basic training that, if I'm given an illegal or immoral order, it is my duty to disobey it. And I feel that invading and occupying Iraq is an illegal and immoral thing to do."

The war was declared "illegal" by the U.N.. Why? Because Saddam wasn't found in breach of the internationally agreed upon resolution 1441, (Saddam did EVERYTHING POSSIBLE that was asked of Iraq by the bush administration, and then some Mr. Bush refused to even take him up on. Like national Iraqi television broadcasts.) despite the lies quoted by corporate news America. There was no need for the conflict to begin with as was so reported internationally on march 7th, 2003. U.N. inspectors had complete unrestricted access to go anywhere without delay, and known stock piles of WMD were burned, so could not possibly be completely accounted for by evidential findings due to the fact that they were destroyed beyond recognition. American soldiers were put in harms way to be sacrificed for no better good, but for to allow as has happened, the misappropriation, or as some have alleged, the criminal theft of Iraqi resources, including monies of the Iraqi Development

Funds through Presidential decree 13303. Which include the unappropriated, desperately needed, humanitarian aid provisions still denied innocent Iraqis, such as potable drinking water and food stuffs. Democratic principles are DENIED the Iraqis by the neo-con military forces, such as holding all individuals equally accountable to a rule of law. The outlawing of torture, or the outlawing of false imprisonment has not been professed as the action of the neo-con "liberating" force. Mercenaries are not obliged to obey any laws for example. And, "Dr. Germ", and "Dr. Anthrax" are held solely for the fact that they know of the scientific hazards of depleted uranium, and may have warned the uninformed sacrificing American GI, if not held illegally against their wills by the enemy. Commanders such as irrational war criminal Sattler, forbade all men and boys between 15 to 50 from leaving the city of Fallujah, while refusing to negotiate with anyone, (because as so was openly confessed, Sattler had no evidence that Zaqari was in Fallujah) then leveled the city to kill all it's inhabitants, estimated at that time near 300,000 people. Using a napalm type WMD, cluster dud land mine munitions, and as reported, nine two thousand pound bombs in a city 3 1/2 km by 4 km. Serving for a military not strong enough collectively to prosecute such lawless criminal barbarity, is serving for a military not principled in the American virtues of freedom and democracy. In truth, serving for such ungodly criminal command is a cowardly act of treason. George W. Bush is an enemy of our Humanity.

Can I Get a Witness?

"It is now argued that because demon bush is President, it therefor doesn't matter where the actual crimes scene evidence for the murder of thousands in America leads to according to the FBI, for George Walker Bush (666) in above all the laws of the universe. Despite! the reason they obtained the warrant, was to charge me for "threatening the life of an international person", they instead decided not to as saboteurs of liberation. They argued after the warrant gave them my personal possesions, [...]"

Don't miss the rest of the inside scoop to the up coming public Johnny Wizard trial, cradled within this last testimony of a King left forsaken by all of America as unworthy of public discussions in our media.

Look at this will ya? DU killing American Patriot Soldiers, while bush revises our continuing history, like this ain't really happening. I can only again, beg you as the reader, to wake up to this bush madness, and support ME, the mythological Son of Man God King because: my facts I bring to our table, do not change from your summation of my unbridled character. (I don't need votes, but a trust in the good times coming through for trying something better.) As I have said before, you don't have to support Johnny by donating a few dollars for Christ sake, but, to have a care for your own humanity. Or, will doubting me, unfortunately, change the truly toxic composition of measured radioactive, and gaseously microscopic, depleted uranium. For we both as ALL suffer from the demon bush fumbles of corrupt ineptitude, disguised as heinous war crimes against everyone. Crimes of murder, that there is no rational justification for., then, or now. No good reason to have bombed, then stole from the billed Iraq as Dutch-Shell victims. Only irrationalisms. Examples: What can we do now in Iraq, that we couldn't have under Saddam? Spend tens of billions in investments on universal health care, or education perhaps? Why bomb anyone, when we had complete, unrestricted access? What could bush have demanded for Iraq justly, when his un-elected entourage is responsible for outrages 9/11, the Patriot Act, and Guantanamo? So see, now, we have a really big ego problem. By god, You humans are truly blind without ourselves to be seen as.

Well, not quite.

Don't forget, Our Mr. bush Jr. also participated directly with the 9/11 strategy's, top secret Presidential Directive, of offering no evidence against Bin regarding some crime that wasn't galvanizing the world like the lucky, World Trade Center incidents did in time sensibly. Without 9/11, what would Powell look like from when in August he gave the Taliban 43 million, to then in September, going after those that funded the Justice supporters? How? And, where is the Saddam money gone for the food shipments?! Our Mr. bush Jr. has it secretly he writes. He also writes he will not be accountable to any rules of Law in this Universe regarding the ownership of said monies he has stolen through the UN not chirping. I told you, no leadership. (Good thing we showed up to raise the dead eh? Nudge nudge.)

Justice and Freedom, like God as Nature, be not feared as of.

A friend and myself were discussing political deceptions, and he asked me if I knew what the secret to the universe was, and I said no, what?, he replied, there is no secret.

The politics of living is Humanity's survival, and is what should be as our interests recognized, to be representative. However, there is often dismal public failure to characterize hugely heinous criminal attempts to harm our universal freedoms through unbiased corporate conduct. Justice must be prime, and maybe You as the forever unknown still. It's just, that we don't have customers at National Newscast Central to invest in ourselves as interested benefactor. Why can not the widely publicized, and FREEDOMly available, central questions on 9/11 be asked without answer by Blitzer, or Aaron? Do they actually have US believing it is in not our interests to say as much for Justice? For America? For God as victim? How far would CNN go to discrediting American soldier after American soldier, blindly sacrificed for WorldCom bush and Dutch-Shell bremer, before CNN finally reports on bush's other partners in crime, like Ahmad, the funder of the 'mastermind', Atta. Why continue? For as the bushmob, to murder cowardly Americans while stealing pensions and selling heroin, is just stupidly dumb, evil and wrong man. So wrote the holy god guy from beyond his own comprehension as a timeless wonder, demon slayer. The dumbass bush crimes against US as God, I will remind you, are very real, and toll many innocent souls. The criminal sabotage bush inflicts in his public responsibilities as America, yearns eternally for accountability to our suffering World, God included.

I will not go silently.

No, it wasn't Iraqi planning, or of Afghanistan's students, it was bush, rumsfeld, Condoleezza,, Ahmad, and likely Mueller as traitors, who decided your wager as American to be devalued into official, unrepresented criminality as bound tyrannical. (Tenant and checheCheney, maybe also..) See, this is why the Patriot Act rears it's direct onslaught against every American, barely too, unchallenged by Blitzer, or Aaron. No Justice for terrorists, is no freedom for bush's america TRULY. As a result, the fascist sympathizing bigots, racists, and war crime advocates, will argue they're inept to comprehend what they know not of, and as we witness, gain easy unchallenged corporate access by ignoring our public sentiment. You don't have to look far for major problems with the, "but bremer said they were freed Iraqis", or the official 9/11 story line, but as a CNN news caster, Your dismissed without care for. I say it doesn't have to be so, oh godless bushite victims censored.

Turning Logic on Its Head

Bush's preemptive war policy is a war without just cause. Under international law and centuries of common legal usage, a preemptive war may be justified as an act of self defense only where there exists a genuine and imminent threat of physical attack.

We are all in agreement, in truth we rise, evil is just the deceived disguised. Boo!

The case is wrapped up, and bush and rumsfeld need to be immediately arrested for 9/11, for murdering countless thousands for stolen gain, at the losses to our humanity, that show through every putrid utterance of scum bucket bush, as contempt for our living as humanity through Law. Where a person accused of a criminal offence without any evidence is clearly innocent. For why I ask you reader, would any unjustified leader of US people blame someone for a crime who wasn't linked to the offense, while working to close investigations, and not follow through with the ample clues to capture the true evil doers? Just how cowardly stupid can soldier families be taken without conviction as themselves worth fighting for?

Justice for all, and glory be to godly.

Bush's preemptive war against Iraq doesn't even purport to preempt a physical attack. It purports to preempt a threat that is neither issued nor posed. Iraq is not issuing threats of attack against the United States. It is only the United States which threatens war.

By publicly encouraging attacks against the American People, bush works to do death, on hopes to then maybe?, get what he's purposing we are publicly pushing for as? Blind, dumb, and criminally neglegent; we all are then agreed? To have no publicly known reason to perpetrate war crimes against everyone to steal and murder for Our Mr.bush Jr.?... America's false deity super evil anti-Christ? The terrorist of terrorists?

The demon who marked evil on the map with an "Oh", for Ohpression by slaying everyone as the innoncet and God loving in Our names?

It isn't Our position as humanity, to grant bush free criminal reign over our rights to judge plainly still living. Americans do learn a great deal from Sitcoms thank you very much, and God damn it, we can count too. 2 infinity with everything minumn, and too, where indivisable Justice is of truly being Human to reason as the Living Universe.

Oh, but no, here comes Our Mr. bush Jr. who publicly only confesses as pure evil, nazi vermin, to want to kill our party by actually, factually, robbing from, then murdering everybody as his enemy illegally, irrationally!, and alas, God is truly alone, for CNN, as most others, have no cause to make on Our cult mentality. We are all together as One God, despite corporate news censorship ignoring our calls for Justice, because, WE are living as agreed, whole heartedly, to be worthy of fairness officially. As a democractic political lobby of too, yourself dummy. God hater nazi sharon really publicly supports the murder of ourselves being, he states over and over again to rob and murder from your family to be only a jewish thing. The Universe, could be, something amazing at a real world level of sustainability, as there is space to consider so factually as Existence is believing! Curently however, the corporate break up is not watching US performing live as recorded, because they victimize US always. War is the breakdown of communications, but, bush, the unelected American cop killer, he isn't listening to any questions not being stated absent your appeals to be heard as silently victimized, because... CNN doesn't want to embarres US maybe? All the robbing and killing bush and sharon does continually then?, mistakenly? Dead people don't say much for your world, eh american niebour? Eh?

Hello.

Psychodynamic Theory

Freud suggested that there were conflicts between conscious and unconscious forces that influence our feelings, thoughts, and behaviors, theorizing that conscious thoughts only comprise a fraction of mental activity, therefor concluding we, as individuals, are psychologically, more that we can speak as understood completely. Freud used the term unconscious motivation, to address that of which we dont consciously know of as elements of personality, to offer explanation and study of what can not be stated as direct awareness of the persons living relationship to existence with our infinite nature as. To reveal these hypothesized underling forces of personality, Freud developed three techniques: Free association, dream interpretation, and analysis of, slips of the tongue. By researching these areas of experience that are not direct results from conscious abstracts, or conclusions, Freud hoped to reveal an order to causes that reflected a hidden instigation of behavior included. (Freud was secretly a theologian). Freud, naturally, considered that our personalities begin at the start of development, so emphasized childhood experience as the foundation, or framework from where our personalities would be more so dependent upon. Freud formed his theory around divided states of mind: id, ego, and superego, along with 5 psychosexual stages to help structure an understanding of our progressions through human development.

Such wrestling with Freuds ideas, brought me to consider, are our deliberate actions not based on sound judgement? If there are unconscious motivations driving our will, where does that leave principles, as we measure ourselves in honesty? When things are uncertain, do unconscious motivations, gain decisiveness on our faulting conclusions? Can some forgotten childhood experience, unknowingly convince ourselves, one plus one equals something else?

Humanistic Theories

Humanistic Theories emphasize our capacity for personal growth, development of our potential, and freedom to change our destiny. Unlike more defined branches of Psychology that seek underlining hidden forces, Humanistic theories stress self realizations are ultimately, like plans, responsible for the directions we take in personal development, and through the motivations we have as the human species. The phenomenological perspective, speaks of our individual perceptions, be they accurate or otherwise, become our reality, while the Holistic view, speaks of the individual person, being more than individual parts described through divisions of statement, but of a unique entity that is, in part, identifiable to all things mentionable. It would be then right to say, Holistic is a definition that defines its own meaning, as something more than can be completed by its own explanation. Much like dancing poetry that holds lasting truths, or a leisurely good beer on some sunny afternoon. In the field of Humanistic Theory attributed to Maslow, we concede we have desires, that are framed in a hierarchical manner, where the basics for survival are primary, while social and personal needs ascend us through greater living by open communications with the Universe as ourselves.

Social Cognitive Theory

The field of Social Cognitive Theory has categorized personality development, to be attributable through three wide based assertions: Environmental factors, cognitive-personal factors, and behavior, which in turn, interact to form everything. Bandura portrayed personality's development into four main processes: developing language ability, observational learning, purposeful behavior, and self-analysis. Bandura emphasized that our cognitive thought out conclusions, is our personality development. He too however, like his predecessors, also dealt with consequences we can attribute partly to forces we are not solely consciously responsible for, and the strengths of those forces upon our outcomes. The perceptions of where we are at succeeding, Bandura argued is a balance in our beliefs in what we are capable of, and so being, brought forward the outlining term, Locus of control. Internal Locus of control is dependant on how much we believe our particular actions can control some outcome for personal reward. While the designation of an external Locus of control, is a delegation to our self on some situations, as having little ability in our world as malleable to our own command for gratification, now, or in the future somewhere. Though, it should be remembered, our living existence with nature, wouldnt be entirely hostile to the idea of bringing ourselves enjoyment by simply only trying to better ourselves, and the threat of law winning to protect the community serves better than chaotic anarchy. Not much would ever be gained, if failed attempts were concluded as complete failures of experience. Much of Bandura is widely correct as generalized statements about the human condition, so much so, that his, Self-Efficacy construct, regarding self confidence being crucial to succeeding, is as much a reiteration of his Locus of control theorem.

Trait Theory

Trait theory is an attempt to be more scientific regarding the sometimes, ambiguous nature of getting to the absolute truth of our universal condition as individuals. Trait theory's five-factor model classifies all personality traits to be associated into five categories: openness, conscientiousness, extraversion, agreeableness, and neuroticism. (OCEAN). With the theory parsed with a fluidity for change for an individuals classification as developing, while naturally becoming more stabilized as we grow older to our vises, and conceptions of conviction on who we figure we are. The designations, OCEAN, are almost arbitrary, and are prone to relative bias for conclusions. Objectivity in assessing ones agreeableness, regarding a mathematical certainty for example, only comes from whether the person understands how to formulate the answer. Perhaps it is insecurity of suffering ridicule for being stupid, that an individual would publicly argue with his calculator at the grocery store. Or in another way, ones agreeableness, without question, could lead to doing jumping jacks in Brookland if ones not careful. Now substitute agreeableness with openness, or conscientiousness.

An attempted, conscious or otherwise, confrontation to the limits of relative fallible human reason it would appear this is heading for in the field of psychology's relationship to the categories of philosophy, theology, and the true science of measurement. It is the explanation made through the divisive qualifications of language, that fall us to the deception that we are actually aware as could be of our infinite selves, a living part of existence. In the beginning was the Word, and only some super freaky God could figure out what it meant really, maybe. I could be right, to say I may be wrong on things that are not truly separate from everything else, as effects have causes, and no living thing is separate from existing. So, to successfully compartmentalize our identity, is to include our relationship to the winds on Jupiter, and the electromagnetic properties of consciousness being also timeless in nature. (Science teaches us that.)

Genetic factors are recognized to play a significant role in trait theory, particularly when looking at the comparisons of separated at birth twins, who not only have commonalties in appearance, but occasionally, also in experience with our physical reality, with decisions made, as once thought completely independent, have shown through in life styles, such as employment choices, or naming a pet dog, Toy. Which would beckon to theorize DNA's multi-dimensional space-time design, such as with horizontal gene transfers, to not just a blueprint to making something else, but to some never understandable living holographic relationship to all things in this universe, as intelligence ourselves.

It is God's fault, that is of yourself also, that we, leaderlessly, allow bush to further escape rightful

God's practically wiped out, and the world is falling apart because of George W. Bush's treasonous war action against all of US as the forsaken, Humanity, (Jesus You are.) but, I still see a glimmer of hope. A real possibility that you'll be getting on to spend some quality time doing what we all should be doing, demanding real justice for (Johnn err...) freedom's bounty. Sure, I'm broke, near homeless, hungry, and left forsaken by all you little Jesuses too, but golly, I'm still holding out the dream that you gained something from your boo-da catholic Jewish Muslim Moslem Atheist upbringings. Why must we allow rumsfeld to escape accountability for blindly attacking Iraq to kill US as the innocent? The demon antiChrist Iraqi conflict has no basis for just cause. It can never be what it is not. We had complete unrestricted access, to do anything bush pleased, prior to sacrificing a single person for Halliburton and Worldcom, disappearing billions as the American tax payer, robbing the central bank, stealing the nation's public resources including humanitarian aid, dropping cluster duds on American soldiers along with tons of toxic waste corporately mandated as completely safe to eat by the poundful. No joking. Murdering thousands. Demon bush is really evil to US all man. It gives me as Creator a bad name the great Johnster can't disguise as only one big dreaming little g. I consider the conduct of George W. Bush an insult to my intelligence, and, I don't like it, nor wish bush's criminal folly to continue stealing the lives of good people treated unjustly in anyone's name. Let the US destroy George W. Bush instead of ourselves as countless my friend, and be thanked in love as a person who cared for all that is good about America. Live god damn you People, live!

Johnny Wizard Reveals
Bush did 9/11

A war plan to kill the people of Afghanistan for Enron's power plant in India was on the White House desk on the ninth of September. A plan to blame bin Laden for a crime without providing any evidence. Then 9/11. None of the ample evidence implicated Laden, like none of the suspects were from Afghanistan, so why not seek the true culprits responsible? FBI officers have claimed publicly that warrant requests were sabotaged by someone at headquarters just prior to 9/11. The CIA has publicly claimed stock options were played on the loss of the two airline companies as insider trading. FBI officers claim Mr. Atta received $100,000 in terrorist funding by General Amed, who was meeting with the Bush administration a week prior and after 9/11. Then rumsfeld and bush stood against our humanity without reason to steal our lives, playing out an evil never before shown to sway their capture as traitors to the American dream. I demand my voice be heard through our corporate news services, to accept any debate from those who fight to keep us ignorant on our ability to freely communicate.

Again, we witness no counter argument for bush and rumsfeld's treason against all the American people. They both have struggled diliberately to hide the culprits responsible for 9/11, blamed a nation of millions without evidence to murder for Enron, have attacked the American Constitution, stolen billions from cowardly Americans silenced by the corporate agenda through frauds blatant...

And, they both need to immediately be tried for war crimes, or taken out by loyal American Patriots who will stand up for freedom to be America.

Here is some information on my big time super duper works on most all radios and reallyyyyyyy yanks in them radio stations from far and wide from all four corners of the World.(but it doesn't work at all for me and it never did the day it got here) A piece of Radio Shack (because it says so on my Tiny-Tenna that I own and it never did work at all for me) plastic circuit board measuring one and three quarter inches square.A little black thingy which looks kind of like a transistor to me,,,,,, (let me go get my magnafying glass,,,,,,,) I see a very tiny little brown colored round thingy (I don't know what it is) standing up,about three sixteenths diameter,it looks sort of like one of those smilies we have all seen on the internet before.I see two tiny little round sort of long thingys with four different colored skinny bands around both of those thingys and both thingys are laying on on the piece of Radio Shack plastic circuit board and they look like twins.A metal U shaped bracket that holds a nine volt battey.Coming up out of the bottom of the Radio Shack plastic circuit board is a two strand wire with a clip connector the nine volt battery snaps onto,one of the wires is red,the other one is black and coming up from the top of the Radio Shack plastic circuit board that two strand wire nine volt battery connector wire thingy meaures five and a half inches long.Another two strand wire,one of the wires is red,the other wire is green and the two strand wire has a plug on the end of it for plugging into a radio antenna jack,the wire/plug assembly measures from the top of the Radio Shack plastic circuit board seven and a quarter inches long.OK,I am fixin to wrap the long Tiny-Tenna antenna wire that comes up from the Radio Shack plastic circuit board around end for end around my plastic one foot long ruler and I am going to try to give y'all a halfassed accurate guesstimate of how long that antenna wire that has the Alligator clip on it is,,,, Stand By,,,,,,,,,, Go take a piss break if y'all need to,,,,,,,, it measures about seven and a half feet long,But I did say that is a guesstimate.Yes folks,two bits worth of Radio Shack parts and sell it for $19.95 plus $5.95 shipping & handling and y'all can get rich too! What a Life! I have to watch the North by Northwest movie on tb now.

Something you need to think about!!!!

To stay in business with your doors open you got to make money!!!!!!  I charge 200% minimum and a a hundred dollars and hour for my labor. So you don't like what I make, BUY ME OUT, it's your and you charge what you want!!!!

Until then don't take about profit that someone makes from working. I have never missed a day to work in my life and I don't remember being late.

What kind of drugs do you use? You respond to my post like you are miso and now you call me Francis. You are one confused individual apparently as confused as miso who thinks Drudge is a right wing web site. Drudge links to right wing news sites like yahoo, google, AP, AFP, Reuters. All well known right wing news sites according to miso.

I never should have posted to this stupid off topic thread to begin with but the Troll that Drudge was a right wing web site was, ah, never mind.

I missed a month off work in 1969,gall bladder operation.I have never in my life ever been late for work,not even once.I worked in factories and I drove a bread truck for Sunbeam Bakery (Koestler's Sunbeam Bakery,Vickburg,Mississippi) and I worked at Delta Cotton Oil company.Three years (RA,Regular Army) in U.S.Army.Before all of that,I had odd jobs such as working at a gas station,a paper route,mowing yards,ectera.

Even selctivity will not help all that much in the case of most noise. Which by nature is broadbanded. When fightening someforms of digitalnoise, a real narrow IF fitler can sometimes help. But unless you are trying to dig CW out frm the man made noise, super narrow filters are really much use. Much better to work to reduce you local noise. A low noise antenna can really help. From what I have read the Wellbrook loop,is great at reducing "point source" noises. I have played with home made shielded/balanced loops, but the results weren't worth the added trouble. I am currently playing with a sycnhronous noise blanker that "slices"/mutes the antenna output for an adjustable number of mSec with a 60Hz line locked "switch". It almost works.

Some of the Lowfers swear by this. The "swicth" has to go ahaead of the radio's front end. I am strting to think that my 9:1 matching transformer is "ringing".

Oh gee whiz, Cuhu. I see your problem now: You write backwards....so you probably  hooked up your battery backwards! Which reminds me....I had an Air Force pilot call me once and leave a message.  He didn't know what a 9 volt battery was or how to "install" it!

That's frightening, when you think of people like this defending our country.....

I like you Cuhu.  You're much funnier than some of the others in here in years past.  What's the name of your trailor park?

Oh, Burr....most of the trolling morons in here have NO concept of what it COSTS to operate a small business in America.  Not even a part-time business like ours.  The taxes, the overhead.  Your utility companies like phone, electric, heat, all charge you a higher rate because you're special....you're a BUSINESS.

They see someone who takes $9 worth of parts and thinks he's making a $10 profit.  They can't even imagine the other costs involved. But for some reason it's "evil" for an American to do this.  But when it comes to a $19 product from Wal-Mart made by Chinese slave labor, well that's OK!

Then there are the cigarettes, lottery tickets and beer that many trollers in these groups think nothing of wasting $19 on.

In the words of W4JYZ...."It's so sad....so, so sad....."

Actually, you have to send me a check, Telly.  There is no profit in what I do.  In fact, there are more losses than anything.  If we break even, it's a good year.

It's just a part-time cottage industry that I enjoy doing to help swl's and hams.  Nothing more, nothing less.

Let me know when you send it....

Always blame the antenna....NEVER the radio.  A good policy.

Again....put your money where your mouth is.  I will GIVE you a FREE passive dipole antenna to prove you wrong.  Why won't you take me up on the offer?  In fact....keep the TT.  Just tell me where to send the antenna, and what plug I should use for the antenna.

You doth protest too much.  I'm beginning to think you're the fella we discussed on DX Radio School.  The fella who also bought the Justice(sp?) Antenna from C. Crane and claimed that was junk, too???? Is every antenna you buy from every dealer junk???

I'd like to have you on my show.  You seem to be THE EXPERT on shortwave radio.  Can we call you for tomorrow's taping???

Read this...more liberal democrat ranting as in the Presidential race! They believe all the garbage they throw on the wall..hoping it will stick. Then they believe it themselves. Reality goes away. As does info on the shortwave issues.

The issue is not whether one could "suck it up" and take the meaningless test if they want a license.  No doubt, if someone wanted to become an licensed amateur they could learn the minimum speed for code and then never use it again.

The issue is how such requirements are are perceived by and whether they motivate prospective hams to study for one or more licenses.  Like it or not licensed amateur radio communication and it's sister hobby SWLing face a lot of competition from other modes of communication and gathering information about the world that were not there 20 years ago. And none of those modes require testing and licensing.  That competition is real and the amateur radio hobby needs to recognize that it no longer has the appeal of being the premier method of long distance communication.  If the hobby doesn't, it will gradually fade away.

Heard 3/2 at 19.25 in the CNMI with booming signalson 6055 kHz  in FR and local vernaculars, with chanting vocals.  Should be a nice card!

Radio Tanzania, Dar es Salaam was also there on 3/2 at 19.02 on 5050 kHz with Swahili talk and drum/flute music and station IDs.

Good day for African stations!

OK, I realize I'm new to this newsgroup, so I probably don't have the FAQ that may or may not exist, but, Mr. Patrick, can you tell me what this has to do with shortwave, or even radio in general?

This kind of crime and reporting are in everyone's morning paper every day, so, now speaking personally of course, this seems to be a waste in the group.

You post a lot of this sort of thing, as well as some loggings.  I, for one, would sure like to see you post more loggings than news clippings, especially if they're not radio-related.

Thanks!

Al

I have a Sony 7600GR. Will I get much better performance from a new Grundig SAT 800? I think I can get a reconditioned Grundig for around $400. I am just wondering if it's worth nearly $300 more than the Sony.
Any help appreciated.

You know, I've been licensed for a little over twenty years, not always active.  I hold an advanced class license, not extra.  I just haven't had the time or opportunity to go for the exam, and I really can do all I want with the advanced class.

Now, this is a general reply to all the mess that's been posted here in the last few days.  The hobby will not die out, simply for the fact that there will always be those individuals who rise to a challenge and will study to pass an exam (whether people think it's meaningless or not) to attain the goal that they want.  In this case, the ham ticket.

It has been my experience that people who have no hope of passing a technical examination are the ones who bitch and moan the most about why they shouldn't have to take such a "meaningless exam."  True, in the US we have done away with the high-speed code requirements (except for the General RadioTelegraph License), but that is because it is a somewhat outmoded means of communication.  Even for seafarers, GMDSS is taking over and code is used less and less.  The fact that one needs to understand the RF medium one is working in and fully understand the technical requirements and aspects of it will never change.  Dangerous voltages and currents exist here as well as the potential to cause harmful interference, so this will "never" be a plug-and-play hobby.  If you think that you can do it like that, you are a danger to yourself and others and probably bordering on a public menace.

Even SWLs who tinker with building their own equipment need to know electronics or they have no hope of success.  Although there is no license requirements or testing for SWLs (at least no license here in the US), most take it as a matter of personal pride to learn all they can.

As for "meaningless college courses," well, I can think of a few: Psych didn't aid me in my goals one bit, nor did the mechanical engineering courses such as thermals and fluids.  But I took them and gave it every effort BECAUSE IT WAS A REQUIREMENT and I wanted my BSEE.

So here I now sit, with a BSEE (B.Sc. EE) that has gotten me good employment, as well as a Microsoft MCSE which has also helped and I am also certified by the Society of Broadcast Engineers as a CBRE AM/FM. All of this paid off, and like so many before me, I rose to the challenge instead of whining and bitching and moaning.

As for contests and people talking about thei radios, well, if you don't like that, then go out and find someone who wants to talk about the things you wish to discuss.  It's as simple as that!  You certainly are not going to change the meat and potatoes of the ham community, so you will spare yourself an aneurism and have much more success by initiating conversations with like-minded individuals who are willing to talk about other issues.  There are so many licensed amateurs in the world that surely you will find someone who wants to talk with you.

Just my two cents, and thanks for listening.

Al

I like MASH and watch it as often as possible. As for the draft, I can't think of a person who deserves drafting more than you. A nice stint in greenland comes to mind, peeling potatoes for four years. I did my service.

Who cares other than you? How people spend their money, they could be loaded and the extra is nothing!
This is America and supply and demand determine these things. It could go to $500.00! Again who cares!

One finger hunt n peck typing system dude here.About two or three words per minute,all depends on how long the words are and how often I scratch me arse and pick my nose,,, hold out your coffee cup and catch this booger,KLINK!!! Go bragg (Fort Bragg is Bragging every day) on your typing skills.Show us how fast you can type,BUT,that doesn't prove anything.

That old IBM computer that dates to back around 1990 is still sitting over there at the Goodwill thrift store since a week ago.I know a guy who has worked with computers for 47 years and he knows every computer operating system there is.He told me that old IBM computer works on the old DOS (Disk Operating System) operating system and only old timers know how to program and work that computer.I believe him too.This afternoon,I offered the lady at the checkout counter $5.00 for that computer.I really don't need or want that old computer,but I want it any damn way!

I have to agree Ace. You really have a bad attitude and a bad mouth/keyboard. Juvenile sounding. Some growing up is needed. I'm sure Ill get flamed but that's ok. We all know what you're like.

A Satellit 800 will be a step up from a 7600GR, but will it be worth $300? I sure don't think so. Why not spend that money on a used tabletop? You'll get way more bang for the buck that way. Several Lowe HF-150s have gone for around that on Ebay recently.

Mind you, it's a little weird to call the 150 a tabletop in contrast to the 800 when the 800 is about 15 times the size of the 150. :)

Best,

Steve

Hello Ducky!

Both radios are superb within their categories. When considering absolute reception, the Satellit 800 is a superior radio to the ICF-SW7600GR.

HOWEVER --- have you tried using a really good antenna with your '7600?
Please remember (and note well) that the ANTENNA is far more important to good reception than is the radio.

A good DXer can achieve far more with a '7600 and a good antenna than someone else with a Satellit 800 and a mediocre antenna.

Though it would be overkill to buy a Wellbrook ALA 330S antenna for a Sony portable, just for the "heck" of it I attached my Wellbrook to the Sony. You should have heard the signals "pouring" in! (Of course the Satellit 800 is better yet.)

That said, if you are truly interested in good short wave reception and are willing to erect a proper antenna, then "yes" the Satellit 800 is EASILY worth the $300.

Best,

Joe

Do you want to know for sure that you are going to Heaven?

The reason some people don't know for sure if they are going to Heaven when they die is because they just don't know.

The good news is that you can know for sure that you are going to Heaven which is described in the Holy Bible as a beautiful place with no death, sorrow, sickness or pain.

God tells us in the Holy Bible how simple it is to be saved so that we can live forever with Him in Heaven.

"For if you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you WILL BE SAVED." (Romans 10:9)

Over 2000 years ago God came from Heaven to earth in the person of Jesus Christ to die on a cross and shed His blood to pay our sin debt in full.

Jesus Christ was born in Israel supernaturally to a virgin Jewish woman named Mary and lived a sinless life for thirty-three years before He was crucified.

Three days after Jesus Christ died on a cross and was placed in a grave He rose from the dead as He said would happen before He died.

If someone tells you that they are going to die and in three days come back to life again and it happens then this person must be the real deal.

Jesus Christ is the only person that ever lived a perfect sinless life.

This is why Jesus is able to cover our sins(misdeeds) with His own blood because He is sinless.

The Holy Bible says, "In Him(Jesus) we have redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins..." (Ephesians 1:7)

If you would like God to forgive you of your past, present and future sins just ask Jesus Christ to be your Lord and Saviour.

It doesn't matter how old you are or how many bad things that you have done in your life including lying, stealing all the way up to murder.

Just pray the prayer below with your mouth and mean it from your heart and God will hear you and save you.

Dear Jesus Christ, I want to be saved so that I can have a home in Heaven with you when I die. I agree with you that I am a sinner. I believe that you love me and want to save me. I believe that you bled and died on the cross to pay the penalty for my sins and that you rose from the dead. Please forgive my sins and come into my heart and be my Lord and Saviour. Thanks Lord Jesus Christ for forgiving me and saving me through Your merciful grace. Amen.

You are now a Christian if you said the prayer and allowed God to save you. Welcome to the family of God.

If you did not say the prayer then you may never get a chance to be saved again because none of us knows exactly when we will die.

This means that if you die without trusting in Jesus Christ as your Lord and Saviour you will be forever separated from the love of God in a place called Hell.

The Holy Bible descibes Hell as a place of eternal torment, suffering, pain and agony for all those who have rejected Jesus Christ.

The good news is that you can avoid Hell by allowing Jesus Christ to save you today. Only then will you have true peace in your life knowing that no matter what happens you are on your way to Heaven.

Servant of the Lord Jesus Christ, Internet Evangelist R.L. Grossi

One last shot and I'm dropping out of this thread.  I have enjoyed both hobbies for many years, and have gotten to know many fine people. Passing a morse test again would be irrelevant.  My worry is about the future of both these hobbies.
There must be a reason that many long time amateur radio dealers have folded in the past decade.  And it wasn't from being overwhelmed with business. Folks, the signs about lack of interest in the hobbies are there.  Whether enough people care to see those signs and change the way the hobby does its business is at least open to question.  Here's hoping what I have heard today is a minority view.

Lloyd,

We'd all better know who you're addressing if you did a little quoting.  Some of us get accused of quoting too much so I guess you're just helping level out the average.  ;-)

Anyway, Check out http://scripturesforamerica.org/  You'll find lots of material, including a link to a FREE Bible Law course (only online I think) which is the very same that Pastor Peters was/is offering in hard copy for $10 per lesson to cover the printing, mailing, grading, etc. That link is http://www.moseshand.com/

Finally, to your question:  I'm not too sure about online available archives as I just did a quick scan and didn't see it.  HOWEVER, He does have thousands (? - well over 1000, anyway) of recorded sermons and there is no set charge to get on the Tape/CD Ministry whereby you will get four messages every month for FREE.  He would very much appreciate a contribution to help cover the costs.  HE decides what four tapes or CDs you get each month and they are generally newer messages.  He has LOTS of older messages that can be ordered very reasonably and he will provide a catalog from which to order.  Some of the subjects cover 15 or more separate messages.  (King James ONLY Deception, about 12 or 14; The Sabbath 4 tapes (BOTH very interesting sets) and LOTS of other subjects are very well covered - at very reasonable prices.)

He also has a wide selection of books written by himself and others. I'm sure some of his detractors wish much of this material were no longer available!  ;-)

You can't judge the man or the message by what his detractors accuse him of.  Check it out for yourself.

Al

Nope.  It just draws little critters out from under their rocks and rotting bark.  I enjoy seeing the snakes squirm as they attempt to detract from the message he has to deliver!  :-)

You can sometimes tell by the comments that follow just who the sons of the devil are.  You can feel the darkness that pervades their miserable lives.  You can tell who is on the Lord's side and who is aligned with the forces of this world.

HAVE FUN!   It won't last forever!   :-)

See what an ANC-4 does for you; if there's a single noise source that's most important, it will knock it out.  Just use any two of your antennas as inputs.

Even if it doesn't help the noise (say it's coming from all over) you can amuse yourself listening underneath MW stations for the what's there.

Hey, 'tard boy... here's a hearty handshake and a pat on the back for taking the time to post those logs.

What were you looking for? Your name to be emblazoned in fancy coloured lights what? Maybe some folks jumping up and down going "Oooooooh!" or "Ahhhhhhhh!" or "Will you look at those fantastic logs!"?

Probably ain't gonna happen. Get over it.

You'll get just what you got. A correction, some additional information, or totally ignored because you posted factual info that needed no additions or subtractions.

Or, as you allude to below, are you just starved for attention?

What he said was not confusing at all. You simply lack comprehension skills.

It would be the same as saying "Invading CanaDuh is not our plan, having said that, all options are on the table".

What would be meant by that is that at present there are no plans to attack Canaduh, but if CanaDuh really screws up bigtime we may have to rethink things, and if an attack on CanaDuh is warranted we will do it.

Good luck with that one. In the past they've been known to be rather sporadic verifiers.

Let us know if something comes back.

WNTP 990khz Philadelphia, PA TEST
Date(s): March 4, 2005 (Late Friday night into Saturday morning)
Time: 00:00AM EST until 02:00AM EST (2 Hour Test)
Modes of Operation: 50kw Day Pattern Programming: 50hz thru 10khz test tones, Phonetic Voice ID's, Dead Air

Notes: CE Rene Tetro will be conducting an audio proof of the xmtr after making some changes to the system. Mr. Tetro will be measuring frequency response, THD, and IMD products of WNTP while running full power on the day time antenna. If time permits, he will repeat these tests using the standard 10kw night pattern.  This is not a DX test. There will be no Morse Code ID's, and frequently there will be "dead air". It is hoped that DX'ers will be able to hear some of the tones, especially those in the 2-4khz range.

Tones will be transmitted at four modulation levels: 95%, 75%, 50%, and 25%. Rene has also agreed to run some limited phonetic voice ID's. These will be a high pitched female voice, IDing the station in phonetics.

THIS IS WNTP PERFORMING TRANSMITTER TESTING.
WNTP. WHISKEY NORWAY TANGO PAPA TESTING.

Reception reports can be e-mailed to: rtetro AT pobox.com

Snail Mail via: Rene' F. Tetro, Chief Engineer, WNTP-WFIL
117 Ridge Pike, Lafayette Hill PA 19444

That's them assholes do.It's always on their shit list and they won't do anything about it till it goes completly out,dead as hell.Have y'all ever seen one of those transformers up on them poles blow up!? You don't want to be nearby.At the edge of my driveway is one of them poles with the wires and shit up there and one of them big ass transformers.I fear someday that son of a bitch is going to go,BLAM!!!!!! Them fuckers get old and that "cooling" oil in there is always HOT! BLAM!!!!!!!!

Ducky, do you know anyone who already owns an 800? Is there anyway you could spend some time listening to an 800 before making a decision about what to buy? That would be the ideal scenario.

If you scout around on the web you'll find many reviews of the 800, but it's hard to tell just from reading a review whether the improvement you'll get from an 800 is 'worth' $300. After all, what the step up to the 800 is worth will depend not just on the 800 and the 7600GR but on how big an investment $300 is for you. To me, $300 is a pretty big chunk of change. If I part with it, it will only be after a good bit of research and probably a fair amount of reluctance. On the other hand, some people are willing to spend $300 on a lark.

One thing Joe mentioned that's very relevant here is that the 800 will accept a much larger antenna than the 7600GR. So, if what you really want is a receiver that can tolerate a large, outside antenna, then the 800 might suit your needs. On shortwave, you should never expect the 800 to deliver the performance of a Palstar R30 or a Lowe HF-150. On the other hand, the 800 will offer you FM and airband coverage, which may well interest you. Clearly, a lot is going to hinge on what you want from a receiver.

Good luck with the decision and please let us know how you make out!

Steve

DRM Tests Begin in Mexico

The Mexican government is due to select a digital radio technology this year and has authorized testing to begin for Digital Radio Mondiale for the AM band. The public radio network is carrying out the testing.

Mexico is considering both IBOC and Eureka-147 for its FM digital technology.

"DRM is recognized as the worldwide standard for shortwave," said Jorge Rodriguez Castaneda, the director general of radio and television systems for the Mexican Ministry of Communications and Transportation.

"We will study DRM for application in the AM bands, and maybe the FM bands in the future."

While the DRM system covers the broadcasting bands below 30 MHz, the DRM General Assembly plans to vote on a proposal to extend it to the broadcasting bands up to 120 MHz at its meeting in Paris next month.

During a DRM symposium in Mexico City on Feb. 9, 80 attendees heard a live broadcast of Radio Educacion from analog medium-wave/AM to DRM, as the Mexican testing process began, according to the DRM press office.

For the symposium, Harris Broadcast installed a DRM modulator board within a DX50 transmitter, and RIZ installed a 200-watt SW DRM transmitter system on 25.620 MHz. Symposium attendees heard DRM live on shortwave courtesy of DRM members Christian Vision (from Chile); Deutsche Welle (from French Guyana); HCJB (from Ecuador), RCI (from Canada), Radio Netherlands (from Bonaire); and TDF (from French Guyana).

Last month, DRM members Texas Instruments and RadioScape said they are developing software and hardware to support the design of lower-cost DRM consumer receivers. TI will supply the DSP -based digital radio silicon along with RadioScape's software-defined digital radio technology, enabling consumer receivers to have DRM, Eureka-147, FM, short-wave, medium-wave/AM and long-wave capabilities.

DRM's European commercial launch is to take place later this year.

Where have you been.  The Great Liberty Net got run off of 3950 about 2 years ago.  There's only 2 or 3 of them left anyways.

Maybe the profit can predict a good frequency for them to meet.  They sure need one.

Never hear Kevin on there any more.  I guess he's too big for 'em now that he got promoted to head of NatVan.

It was more fun when Kind Jewish Indian and Sir Sidney gave them what-for.  Wonder what ever happened to W9ART.  And doofus jammer.  And Tarzan.

Well, marajuana might well be a "peacefull drug".
But the crazies who grow it are more into the cold hard cash then any heallthy effects. I have stumbled across a few weed patches while hiking in eastern KY. From the fish hooks on monofiliment at eye level to the bear trap, which I took with me, it is clear they are anything but "peace luvin" hippies. It is no surpise to me that the police go in with full combat gear when tackling a growing operation.
And the thoughts of an illegal, like there any legal ones, meth lab gives me the willies. About a year ago some idiots had a leak in their mobile meth lab on I75 south of the Berea exit.
They got 3rd degree chemical burns, the police got to test their new chemical suits and I75 was closed for over 5 hours.
I just can't wait until some winner has an anhydrous amonia leak in a residential area.

I understand that they are prone to failure unless certain precautions are taken.

Probably better to roll your own?

John 1:5 And the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

John 3:19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

John 12:46 I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

Acts 26:18 To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

2 Corinthians 4:6 For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

1 John 1:5 This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

Judges are Queers.That is why they wear them big robes so they can sit behind those benches and slick up their dicks and use them pecker pumps (Donald Thompson,Tulsa,Oklahoma) and make the Ten Commandments illegal and sodomy legal.Judges are no damn good at all,,, same as lawyers.

I don't have access to an SAT 800 to try. I live in an apartment. I clip a reel antenna to my Sony 7600GR and it does ok. I just don't know if the 'upgrade' will be money well spent as I can't erect an outdoor antenna. I would be using the SAT 800 on the whip antenna or a clip on wire. Thanks!

Parents who give their kids names like "Peter Peters" and "William Williams" may think it's funny, but the kid has to live with it for a hundred years. I suspect that Peter Peters has some deep seated name issues that led him to kookiness.

http://www.halturnershow.com/MediaFrenzy.html

As of 9:15 PM Thursday evening,
I HAVE COMPLETED A TAPED INTERVIEW WITH:

CONCERNING MY WEB SITE COVERAGE OF THE KILLING OF THE FAMILY OF A FEDERAL JUDGE IN CHICAGO EARLIER THIS WEEK

I was interviewed by DATELINE Correspondent John Murphy. The interview was conducted in the New York Women's Republican Club on West 51st St near 5th Avenue in midtown Manhattan. Even though I am my own worst critic, I really think I did all right.  Of course, it remains to be seen what ends up being broadcast.
Tune-in to DATELINE this coming Friday evening on the NBC Television Network!

You have very good advice re using a Wellbrook ALA 1530/330 as they are inherently less noisy than wire antenna's.
If mounted high on a pole with a rotator you will get a vast improvement on your present setup.
See PASSPORT for good reviews on the Wellbrooks
Also, you can read my own experiences with active antenna's at the link

Jack and sdaniel13 are giving you good advice. The best shot you have in a noisy area is a small amplified loop. A shielded loop would be best.

OK, here it is your payment for spamming the news group. The payment is advice. The advice is try as hard as it is necessary to resist Trolls.

Isn't capitalism wonderful? The ability to take something worth $200 and sell it for $400 is what won the cold war. Even the Chinese have caught on-how much money is spent in southern China to make a radio that can sell for $100 or more in America? Liypn sells the Degen 1102 for $50, while Kaito sells it through "legit" channels for $100 in the USA. Even adding in shipping from Hong Kong, you come out ahead by buying the Degen direct from China. And $50 is probably 10 times what it actually costs to make an 1102 in US dollars. So Kaito is selling the 1102 in America for a 95% profit margin. No wonder every factory in the world is moving to China. Eventually EVERYTHING will be made in China, and tianli will be all the more irrelevant. I'd love to replace every one of tianli's radios with Tecsuns, and then watch the ensuing nervous breakdown. It's off to the funny farm for people stuck in the cold war...

I think it's interesting sometimes to see what various receivers are going for on ebay...if only to see what the 'market' is like. It's also fun to theorize about what's happening in the extreme cases.

I take the time to post dx logs, and they're ignored, except by Tebo who corrects one of my assumptions. But people who post off topic get zillions of responses, most of them childish insults from the likes of Ace. David never lacks for attention. But my logs? ZZZZZZZZ (apparently) Is this REALLY a shortwave radio group? Or just another place for people to insult each other and act passive aggressive?

Don't worry, God has a permanent kill file called the lake of fire. All spam'ers are going to end up there and they will have to listen to the spam they spewed repeated continuously while they cook for eternity.

Let me clear up the confusion for the both of you.

People that that don't take the President seriously loose elections and at the hands of the US military are either dead or in jail.

Hope that clears things up for the both of you.

What kind of noise?? Like powerline type stuff?

I had a bad transformer about a half mile from here and when it started up, it was amazingly bad. I had to track it down myself (wasn't hard to find, just a short walk with the dog and I could hear a nearly identical sound like the noise I heard on all my radios, BZZZT!! BZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZZT!, and an occaisonal SNAP! SNAP! When I called the electric company, I got the, "Oh, that one's on our list!" About six months later, it wasn't done and was still about 6 months away from being replaced. A direct hit by lightning moved it all the way to the top of the list a few days later. It was well worth the 5 hours without power to finally get it fixed.

Try moving the antenna wire outside the trailer.

Probably for the same reason I keep answering the same antenna questions over and over again. Sometimes to the same people.

Actively insulting someone is being aggressive not being passive aggressive.

I read your logs. I noticed you spent time on the 31 meter band.

I don't want to pick apart the logs you post but it is useful to know what people like you are able to hear.

Al's in the kill file and you just joined him there and anyone else that encourages off topic posting will also end up there.

Tomorrow morning I may try tuning around 19m in hopes of hearing some Arabic from Middle Eastern stations. I noticed that the Saudis have a prayer service on 15205 between 1600-1800. I'll have to recheck Radio Farda freqs for that time too.

For the number of signals transmitted on them I seem to pick up the fewest stations on the 22 and 19 meter bands and for the power they transmit the Mideast is usually weak signals. Here in southern California they don't get much bang for the 500kW buck.

Hi Al and others. I can basically see by the responses to your post which of the posters are Jewish and which aren't. Why don't we all just check in, either by current religious affiliation or by the affiliation that we most associated with as we grew up.

I'm Catholic.

How about the rest of you? It will help us all to see the logic behind your responses.

Regardless of how many Jews died in the Holocaust, forcing people not of Jewish heritage to constantly be reminded of how many Jews died does a major disservice to the victims of other Holocausts before and since.

Examine the word Holocaust: For your edification, it is not a Jewish term nor a term meant to apply exclusively to the debacle of WWII.

Pronunciation: 'hO-l&-"kost, 'h�- also -"k�st or 'ho-l&-kost

It is estimated that one and a half million Armenians were killed.
(ARE MEAN KNEE INS, not A MARE A CANS)

From 1932 through 1933, this man-made famine lead to the death of 5 million of the politically resistant Ukranian people.

�������..over six million Jews were murdered.

Khmer Rouge forced civilians into labor camps working for minimum rations. In all, over two million civilians were killed.

As a result, approximately two million non-Muslim people have been killed by the Islamic Front.

And it goes on and on and on and on, even in modern times.
http://www.genocidewatch.org/genocidetable.htm

There are ample resources to research this topic online. It is truly tragic that any nation in the world would adopt Holocaust Denial laws. We have very little freedoms left, and those salivating in this thread to see anyone prosecuted for his/her justified/convoluted views on the tragedy affecting others are truly pathetic.

'In Germany,
they first came for the Communists, and I didn't speak up because I wasn't a Communist.

Trade Unionists.
Then they came for the Catholics,
and I didn't speak up because I was a Protestant.
Then they came for me,
and no one was left to speak up.'

(attributed to Pastor Martin Niemoeller, Dachau, Germany, 1941)

Perhaps now it should read,

In America,
they first came for the Jews,
and I had to speak up since I feared prosecution,
then they came for the Catholics,
and I didn't speak up since they were not Jewish,
Then they came for the Protestants,
and I didn't speak up since they were not Jewish,
Then they came for the Trade Unionists,
and I didn't speak up since they were not Jewish,
etc, (fill in your own lines)

Of course, those of you that are Jewish will likely react vehemently, just as so many Jewish people did concerning "The Passion of the Christ", you remember, the movie that was going to destroy Mel Gibson, but that did quite the opposite. I remember the spokespeople from various Jewish groups airing their view on how awful the movie was, though they never saw it. Even when it became evident that they (the spokespeople and the Jewish public at large) were carrying things to a ridiculous extreme they nevertheless continued with their tirades.

G-d bless Israel and the Jewish people, (I believe that he already has), and may G-d bring us understanding in our interrelations with them.

I could never understand that attitude. It is true that the state of the art is such that building something as sophisticated as commercial gear is pretty much out of reach of most amateurs, low tech gear is easier than ever to build. Station accessories, qrp gear, ect are much simplified by ICs. Oscillators, amplifiers, regulators, ect are all available in IC form. Just assemble the blocks. In any case, if one wants to do it completely from scratch, the components are still readily available.

Would that be similar to your present situation, 'tard boy?

Go tote it, and don't forget to thank mommy for giving you your meds before she throws you out the door.

Pastor Peter John Peters, Scriptures for America, is on right now - 9:00 am EST / 14:00 UTC on 9985 and he's teaching / preaching on the POWER OF PRAYER.

He'll be back on at 12:00 EST / 17:00 UTC on 12.160 MHz and again on 5.070 MHz at 10:00 PM | 22:00 EST / 03:00 UTC. He usually has a different message at 22:00 EST / 03:00 UTC. Often he is on live at that time. The current msg. will repeat one hour later, same freq. The 10:00 PM | 22:00 EST / 03:00 UTC message will repeat again six hours later on the same frequency, 5.070 MHz. That is 04:00 EST / 09:00 UTC.

This message is a VERY POWERFUL MESSAGE ON PRAYER - AND THE POWER THEREOF! I've heard it before.

Flanders is in Belgium,isn't it? That married Irish woman and her hubby wayyyyyy over yonder across the big pond in Bognor Regis,England,,, sometimes they catch a hitch with Woods Travel Agency and they escape through that Chunnel thingy to frogland or sometimes to flanders and load up on wine and cigs and other thingys because brit taxes are so damn high.She once bought some Fishnet apparell (whatever that is) in frogland and when she got back home,she discovered that fishnet had a big rip in them.When she told me about that,I laughed my ass off :{)

It's amusing, but also sad, that this person thinks anyone cares that he "plonks" them.
Must be a strange existance to think that all the world turns on his personal regard.

Pastor Peters, and you, should pray for one thing constantly...

That the mental hospitals they closed up in the late 70's never reopen.

You might skate out the door as borderline, but Pastor Pete would be locked up as quick as you say Jewboy Al..

Some people don't seem to really know until it is convenient to expose the fact -- or when certain other events happen.

1) Didn't Clinton's "Fulbright" suddenly learn that she was jewish? Oh, the hot air balloon concerning some former Russian satellite country wanting to run her for president was probably just preparing the U.S. people to accept the Cal. governor as a presidential candidate. Some say he and Hillary may go head to head in '08.

2) I heard of another lady who found out when she was attempting to get her name of the Catholic roles, I believe. Seems her parents had become cryptic jews and were posing as Catholics. Don't recall all the details, but expect I'll run across them again.

WWCR, 12.160 is booming in loud and clear with Derry Brownfield and his Common Sense Coalition.  He does make a lot of sense.  Might want to check it out.

Also, while you're there, you won't even have to change stations to get Pastor Peter John Peters and Scriptures For America Worldwide at 12:00 noon EST / 17:00 UTC.  :-)

I am not a member of SFBOT and have no interest / investment in it.
Thus, all standard disclaimers!

However, it is an auction house that trades precious metals, mainly the American Liberty Dollar, ALD.

This message was just posted in the ALD Yahoo group by the owner of sfbot. He now will allow one and all to obtain a seat on the floor of sfbot - FREE - for the purpose of bidding on the purchase of same!

ALL below the double line was clipped from his post this a.m. The "date" is actually the time on THIS DATE.

Fellow LA,

Greetings from China. The land of no political expression, but raging capitalism! I am presently involved in a number of projects and can no longer complete my duties at sfbot ( http://sfbot.com ) to my standards. So I've decided to put sfbot administration and controlling interest up for auction.

http://www.sfbot.com/cgi-bin/Auction?cmd=view&listingID=1544

This is total turn-key. Winning bidder will have controlling interest, domain name transfer and one (1) year of technical support. You can register for a FREE sfbot Associate membership to participate in the auction.

sfbot is my baby and contribution to the FREE MONEY MOVEMENT! In my eyes it has been quite successful and a worthwhile project. I feel it is just better to put the exchange in the hands of someone who has the time to devote to it.

Feel free to ask any questions, as usual I love talking about and discussing sfbot and its necessary niche in our movement. Happy trading!

Mark Queen

according to my friend:

800 has 3 useful selectivity choices, the 150 has limited choices 800 has a  selectable sideband sync that can be used with a 6KHz filter, the 150 uses only the 2.5 filter the 800 has a bass and treble, 150 none 800 has fast and slow AGC, the 150 none the 800 has a keypad with up and down buttons, the 150 has none the 800 sounds better the 800 has more memories
the 800 has better performance the 800 can be bought for less than $300, he got his for $280 including shipping, the 150 cost over $400

he sold his 150

QST de W1AW
Propagation Forecast Bulletin 9  ARLP009
>From Tad Cook, K7RA
Seattle, WA  March 4, 2005
To all radio amateurs

SB PROP ARL ARLP009

ARLP009 Propagation de K7RA

This week saw a quiet sun, which will be a frequent observation over the next few years. The average daily sunspot number was down nearly 31 points to 14.9, and average daily solar flux was off 21 points to 76.3. Planetary geomagnetic activity was down just slightly, and mid latitude activity was just about the same as the previous week.

Unsettled to active geomagnetic conditions were expected over last weekend (February 26-27) due to a strong solar wind, but the only day with even slightly unsettled conditions was Monday, the last day of February, and any activity was brief. All week the Interplanetary Magnetic Field (IMF) pointed north, which shielded the earth from any solar wind. The sun was blank most of the week, with only small sunspot 739 transiting across the visible solar disk.

Check http://www.spaceweather.com/glossary/imf.html for a review of the IMF and how it can affect geomagnetic stability. Also check a site I haven't seen before, http://www.windows.ucar.edu/tour/link=/glossary/IMF.html&edu=high. This was submitted by Jon Jones, N0JK.

Over the next week expect a rising sunspot count and solar flux, with flux values peaking above 100 around March 11-14. March 6-9 could see some unsettled to active geomagnetic conditions based on activity during the previous solar rotation.

This weekend is the ARRL International DX SSB Contest. Don't expect great conditions like when the sunspot cycle was higher, but at least we are moving toward the spring equinox and the geomagnetic conditions should be quiet.

Last week's bulletin stimulated a couple of questions about resources for understanding sporadic-E propagation. Go to the URL for the ARRL TIS propagation page mentioned a couple of paragraphs down, and check out the two-part "Sporadic-E - A Mystery Solved?" articles in PDF files. You will need an ARRL membership to log in to the web site to read this. There are other articles on other propagation topics on the same page that are available for anyone to read.

If you would like to comment or have a tip, email the author at, k7ra@arrl.net.

For more information concerning propagation and an explanation of the numbers used in this bulletin see the ARRL Technical Information Service propagation page at, http://www.arrl.org/tis/info/propagation.html.

Sunspot numbers for February 24 through March 2 were 17, 15, 27, 12, 11, 11 and 11 with a mean of 14.9. 10.7 cm flux was 80.3, 78.2, 76.6, 75.8, 75, 73.7 and 74.6, with a mean of 76.3. Estimated planetary A indices were 5, 9, 9, 8, 12, 11 and 12 with a mean of 9.4. Estimated mid-latitude A indices were 4, 9, 9, 6, 8, 10 and 8, with a mean of 6.6.

Big front-facing speaker.  Tone controls.  Numeric Keypad included.
More dedicated buttons vs carousel arrangement.

The 150 is nice if you have the Key Pad option, an external speaker and computer control (which requires another option).

I always thought that BCB reception was more limited by interference from stations on the same frequency rather than any propagation limit, at least CONUS. You can hear hams coast to coast on 160 meters. Granted they use sideband and a smaller audio bandwidth, but the hams aren't pumping out 10kw either.

No!  You think we want illegals up here?  It would just crowd up our cities.  Much of that empty space isn't really habitable most of the year anyways.  We only take rich Mexicans up here in Canada; I think they have to invest $20000 per person in the local stock market or banks and leave it there for 5 years.

Besides, they'd just sneak across the very long border into the USA.
Someone has to pick the strawberry crops.

Actually, your friend's remarks don't surprise me too much, now that I think about it. I actually saw someone on usenet once claim that the 800 was better than the R8B. (I wonder if it was friend?). In any case, no one disputes that there are more knobs to twist and buttons to push on the 800. And no one denies that the 800 has some significant advantages over the 150, like FM and airband. However, as far as shortwave performance is concerned, the 800 is not even competitive with the 150. I've owned two 800s, so I'm not just making this up; and I don't think the 800 is a bad receiver by any means. On the contrary, I think it's a good, if overpriced, receiver. But it's absurd to compare it to a Lowe, a Palstar or something of that ilk. I'm surprised that this is even an issue, but don't take my word for it....if you ever have a chance, compare them for yourself. One thing I will say is that the 800 sounds better than the 150 when both are using their stock speakers. However, the tables quickly turn if external speakers are involved. In that instance, the 150's audio is vastly superior to the 800s.

Sometimes I think that people have a weird since of loyalty to the 800 because it's the last of the royal Grundig line. Not that there's anything wrong with that, but it's not so great when someone else's money is at stake.

Steve

> Where have you been.  The Great Liberty Net got run off of 3950 about 2 years ago.  There's only 2 or 3 of them left anyway.

More like 7 regulars I count. Mostly newbies. Many of the old original Lib Netters are now either 6-feet under and pushing up the One Eye's Susan's in front of grey marble markers or are MIA. Gotta hand it to Vic however. He's been in there rarely missing a beat for years and he does have a good signal across the Lower 48.

Also curious, it seems like most of the regulars don't check in for the first hour-an-a-half of the proceedings. I've heard around a few places that some think that Vern is over-monopolizing the net for the first hour or so, and the regulars just sit around and wait for him to go away and bugger-off to the DX window or 40 before they'll check in because they alleged can't stand his 20+ minute long monologues. (This is rather curious, as Harrison k4gar (sk?) from Florida used to the -very same thing- a decade ago, transmit for 1/2 hour at a time! Only difference was Harrison's "program content" was -far more wacky- and was chock-full of conspiracy theories than Vern's more mainstream style, which reminds us more of Jim Leherer on PBS!

Just the kind of stuff that would bore a chemtrails believing, bible thumping, flagon-my-VFW-ballcap wearing ham radio fruitcake to sleep in 30 seconds flat or less.......(hint)

> Maybe the profit can predict a good frequency for them to meet.  They sure need one.

Please....don't go there. Profit Stair plus the Liberty Net are like having a chocolate cake with Hebrew National Deli Mustard icing on the top.  Two amusing radio shows which are mutually incompatible.  Like Microsoft as someone else correctly eluded to.

This is like trying to put four D cells in a C cell radio.

> Never hear Kevin on there any more.  I guess he's too big for 'em now that he got promoted to head of NatVan.

Another former Lib Net member, now long gone and MIA.

> It was more fun when Kind Jewish Indian and Sir Sidney gave them what-for.

KJI Day-veed and BLB Sir Sidney have both been getting on 14.313 on the weekends of late. Yes folks....that 14.313...

the same one that Herbie used to play on a Decade ago. It's not quite what it was in the days of Mikie, Herbie and Porkbutt, but when Doug from Texas is on, ole KJI and BLB come out of the woodwork like roaches. Seems the great ham and champion Texas chili cooker knows just how to push those shiny red candy colored red Ren and Stimpy type buttons to get ole David spinning around in a counterclockwise direction at close to 100 RPM and it is VERY funny to listen to when the ball gets to rolling. Apart from this however I very much doubt if you will ever hear KJI, BLB, ART or any of the other cast of clowns go head-to-head with the Lib Net ever again like they used to, as if they did my guess is RH would be on them like the proverbial white-on-rice.

It is curious to note however that BLB and the guy from CO and NV have been on 3.947 of late up until perhaps 15 minutes before the Net is to start, then they go QRT. Probably best this way.  Problem is another group in the Southeast has been taking over 3.947 right after they go off or QSY down below 3.820 so the freq is "kept perpetually busy".

What can I say folks...it's all your typical "ham radio frequency panty  raid" type stuff we've heard on 75 Meters for going on 25 Years.  Yawn   (waiter...please bring the next appetizer on the menu please.....? Thank you)

> Wonder what ever happened to W9ART.  And doofus jammer.
> And Tarzan.

ART is another is MIA, gone in a cloud of smoke (POOF!)
just like Mandrake the Magician an hasn't been heard since.

The "Doofus Jammer" was allegedly DF'ed to West Central PA right in RH's backyard (!) and has been MIA ever since.
Our guess he's either now on Internet NG's someplace or he is currently incarcerated at either the Torrance or Mayview State Mental Institution(s) near Pittsburgh.

The "Tarzan Yell" was allegedly a creation of Sir Sidney's.
In fact it was heard either last weekend or the one before it on 14.310!  It was indeed refreshing to hear Tarzan again after so long a respite...  : )

They still start up at 10:00 PM Eastern on Saturdays but they seem to be on a different freq each week within 25 kilocycles up or down from 3.950 just look for Vic's traditionally w-i-d-e signal and their a cinch to find. Also see my reply to another in this thread for more stuff on the topic.

I have read that in several ham antenna sites, but mine has been in use and outside for at least 4 years. Last spring a lightning bolt took out an Chineese Elm tree about 30' from the "long" wire feeding it. When the tree fell it took the wire antenna, and our fence, with it. I was concerend about the transformer and was mildly shocked to find it unscathed.

Somewhere I have a link for a "multi-set coupler" that disusses the commercial and roll your owns and mentions the techniques used by mincircuits give a "flatter wider bandwidth with less loss". The last line is a parphrase of their conclusion. It isn't that we can't wind good low loss, wide bandwidth transformers, to me being able to buy one for a few (my 9:1 cast less then $4 US) dollars will help get the project done that much faster. And in a situation where a JFET amplifier is under consideration, I supect that the FETS will get fried many more times the the tranformer.

Rush just mentioned being on shortwave a few minutes ago. Kind of an offhand reference to WRNO, which did carry him years ago.

He mentioned maybe looking into being on shortwave again.

He may not realise that he is currently on AFN shortwave for the first hour, but it would be great if he could be on shortwave for the entire 3 hours.

The interesting thing with the RCMP bust was that they'd already gone in with the gear, and these guys were just guarding the place after.  The grower, who wasn't home when they raided, came back with a sniper rifle and shot them.  They ought to do this US style, just call in the tanks and raze the place next time.  They did call them in, but it was after the guys were shot.

Well, this just set back the cause of weed legalization in Canada.  Any harsh drug laws the (minority) governing liberals want will surely be supported by the Conservative party, ensuring passage.

I think marijuana and other drug trafficking are major problems now for most countries and the organised crime that is involved knows no limits - this my be biker gangs, Asian, S. American or "traditional" organised crime - whatever.  These people must be stomped on.  Hard.

Addiction is another issue, and I think this is a medical issue, which should be treated.  That said, I really wish courts could offer a choice: go to jail or go to a mandatory locked treatment centre.  Especially for kids and teens.  Follow-up with spot drug testing and failure means back in the treatment centre lock-up.  I want to see addicts forced to deal with the issue via treatment and not just put in jail.  They just come out and do that same things again.

I've never said marijuana is harmless and never will.  Even though there are efforts to legalise small quantity possession or for use a medication, it is not a medicine or a herb, it is a potent psycho-active drug.  For pain, for glaucoma, for nausea related to chemotherapy, it is not a good medicine choice IMHO.  If there are chemicals in pot (the so called cannibinoids) that treat these problems, put them into a pill or a asthma like inhaler (which I understand is available in Europe) and remove the THC.  God knows I'd rather take an aspirin than eat some aspen tree bark.

LOL!  I think God also has a "smite" button on his keyboard and TV remote, which allows a straighten-up type of whack upside the head (like my mom used to deliver) when needed.

I have a 150, but neither use nor feel the need for the keypad. I do recommend an external speaker for the 150, and without an external speaker the 800 sounds better. But the 150 sounds better with external speakers, and it will outperform the 800 and all its buttons and knobs on shortwave every time. I guess it ultimately boils down to what you want.

I remember as a kid getting my first SW radio and listening to hams talk about their lives and the area that they lived in and stuff like that.  Now when I turn it on I get guys talking only about their radio or calling CQ CQ contest.  Then another will come back and say they are 5 and 9 out here in Kansas and soon the guy is calling CQ CQ contest again.  Does any one think that people are going to invest in a radio and all the learning to do what are nothing more than fancy radio checks?  If that is what the ham bands are going to be used for, then I say turn them over to business and telephone radio freqs.  Ric.

Well.......as far as the contesters......they are without question the best operators in the world. It is really sad to listen to the so called emergency nets. The Net Control operators have a hard time coping more than 1 checkin at a time. They really need to listen to some top notch contesters running a pileup at 250-280 qso's per hour. I am amazed how these net control type of operators can complain about contesters since most have no skills for handling a large volume of  traffic in a short time.

I personally do not like phone contest's and when I was active I did the CW contests. It is a real treat to call CQ & have several replies at the same time. If you stummble you will not get the contacts as most will only call 3 times before moving on.

If my health/welfare depended on Radio communications I would want all of the big contest stations & their TOP SHELF operators handling the traffic.

One other note.....If you like to DX....you can easily hear over 100 countries in 1 weekend of listening to a contest.

Hiya...

Here is one I could use some help with.... As always, I'm always trying to improve my sw listening capabilities. I have an R-75 and two very good antennas on my roof. One is a G5RV and the other is a 200 foot wire that utilizes a coax feed and matching transformer. Both are very good antennas. I've thought about getting a new radio to improve my capabilities and I've tried a few radios on loan from friends. Those radios include the NRD-545, R8-A and R-5000. I've come to the painful conclusion that the performance problem for me isn't my radio or my antennas. Both are good. The problem for me is my area. I live in the northern NJ suburbs and it is a very noisy area. I've read a bunch of web pages on antennas, but I haven't really found any antenna solutions that boast to be ideal solutions for noisy areas. I've got a fairly good understanding about antennas, but I'm not advanced.

Does anyone have ANY ideas as to what would be an ideal antenna solution that would offer me some improvement as far as increasing signal into my radio and limiting noise ???

Money is no object, and neither is effort. I'll spend money on an "out of the box" solution as well as put time into an elaborate home brew project. Performance is key.

If it would help to know more about my current antennas, detailed info about both of them is on my web page. The link is in my signature. Any suggestions would be most welcome.

Michael

"Lighten up, Francis" is a line from the movie "Stripes".

Francis was a guy.

Got a thing for men in uniform? That would explain a few things. ;)

Michael, you might try the "Wellsbrook Loop" that is so famous in the noisy city-gardens of England. Since the interference you suffer from is not from your own property, the noise-limiting "Hear It", Time-Wave or other processors might also help.

4 RCMP officers were killed near Mayerthorpe, Alberta, Canada while involved in an operation on a marijuana grow-op.  The largest number of RCMP killed at once since the 1885 Northwest Rebellion. This many be small in comparison to other countries, but this is big and terrible for Canada. You can hear regular updates.

I can vouch for the Wellbrook 330S. It's very quiet and an all-around excellent antenna.

Might also be worth looking at the ClearSpeech DSP unit. I recently added an old one to my setup and...well, I'm hearing very little white noise. I don't even bother to use the squelch anymore.

Hmmm. Just a little bit ago, you were offering to help bend someone's teeth for him over in the Philippines. I can't help but wonder, why the change of heart?

A consciousness of those in power that their administration of the public affairs has been honest, may, perhaps, produce too great a degree of indignation; and those characters, wherein fear predominates over hope, may apprehend too much from these instances of irregularity. They may conclude too hastily, that nature has formed man insusceptible of any other government than that of force, a conclusion not founded in truth nor experience.

Societies exist under three forms, sufficiently distinguishable. 1. Without government, as among our Indians. 2. Under governments, wherein the will of every one has a just influence; as is the case in England, in a slight degree, and in our States, in a great one. 3. Under governments of force; as is the case in all other monarchies, and in most of the other republics. To have an idea of the curse of existence under these last, they must be seen. It is a government of wolves over sheep.

It is a problem, not clear in my mind, that the first condition is not the best. But I believe it to be inconsistent with any great degree of population. The second state has a great deal of good in it. The mass of mankind under that, enjoys a precious degree of liberty and happiness. It has its evils, too; the principal of which is the turbulence to which it is subject. But weigh this against the oppressions of monarchy, and it becomes nothing.

Even this evil is productive of good. It prevents the degeneracy of government, and nourishes a general attention to the public affairs. I hold it, that a little rebellion, now and then, is a good thing, and as necessary in the political world as storms in the physical. Unsuccessful rebellions, indeed, generally establish the encroachments on the rights of the people, which have produced them. An observation of this truth should render honest republican governors so mild in their punishment of rebellions, as not to discourage them too much. It is a medicine necessary for the sound health of government.

Free speech has limits.  You cannot incite murder (like occurred before the
removed from inciting violence on an ethnic group, but has as its aim violence against the group. Zundel's website is not what sinks him and got him deported and then charged in Germany, it is his continuing advocacy of falsity which has as its aim further violence against Jews. His website obviously does not document all that he has been up to. I have seen news reports from the mid-80's to mid-90's with him saying things like ' the Jews want our pity so they can dominate the world and receive special treatment, we need to take them down a peg and show them who is boss '. If you read what anti-semites said in 1930's Europe, you will understand what the fuss is about. It is an insult to the memory of 5 of the 6 million dead to say it doesn't matter that they died also. Period.

Try to read what you type at least once before you hit send next time.

You're sure "God has a killfile" for those who spread His word.

Qualifies for the all-time dumbest things ever posted, even higher on the list than most of your commentary.  But I'm not condemning you. I'm just laughing, and you can hope God is too   ;-)

Yes, he said that "there is no plan for military action, at the same time, all options are on the table" or something very close. I don't see how anybody expects to take him seriously. Will you or won't you invade Iran, Mr. President? Yes or no? I bet that there's a LOT of debate internally in the administration as to whether to invade Iran, however I suspect that Bush has already made up his mind to invade.

For those in North America who can't regularly hear Iran in English, Radio Havana does a good job of presenting the Iranian view on this subject. Cuba is on 6000 and 9820 khz between 0100 and 0700, but I find 6000 khz around 0200 to be the best for me.

Thanks. Passport doesn't indicate what language this is in, just "other". I usually can't tell one Asian language from another. European languages I'm pretty good at, especially the major ones, but with Asians
I can tell "Chinese" from "non Chinese" and that's it. :) Reception was fairly good here on West Coast USA. I noticed the absence of jamming, which I thought odd, but sometimes the Chinese jammer covers up the signal and sometimes the jammer is weak. Depends on frequency, as far as I can tell. What does 1200 UTC equate to in local time for Saipan?

Are you SURE that it's His true word? Maybe you're landing in Allah's killfile for all you know, and Allah is a nasty fucker. :(

Somewhat outmoded? Used less and less?   Here's an update:

Even at sea, where code died a slow death as far back as the 1960's (some hangers-on who liked it persisted through the 80's) there was no need for any radio operator to have memorized more than two letters of code after that point. Except for an outdated concept of licensing. That is also long gone from the maritime world, with no radio officer aboard any longer. Why? Simple economics. In concert with great advances in safety of life at sea, the need for either code or the radioman who knew it faded away completely a long time ago.

I agree with you that anyone who experiments or legitimately repairs or modifies radio transmitting equipment should be licensed, and for the good reasons you explained.  But the fact is that neither aircraft nor marine vessels in private or commercial or military use whose lives depend on communication, have any such requirements for the operators.  It is in fact quite "plug-n-play" and this is the major reason the MF and HF bands are still in use at all. When that equipment is no longer competitive with modern satellite systems, we will see it disappear entirely from commercial use.  By that time new technologies will have other uses for the spectrum, and its hard to imagine how far some of that will go. But it is no longer relevant to continue to drag old habits (CW) along, unless you are forming an "old habit we do for fun" club.  If Amateur Radio allows itself to be relegated to that category, as the legal team proposing new BPL rules argued in open court last Fall (which they won by the way, in spite of heroic efforts by the ARRL and others), it has nobody to thank but itself.

Yes, I know it hurts the pride a bit to realize the test so many hams once had to pass does not produce meaningful results.  Much of the ham test is about as relevant as requiring buggy skills of prospective automobile driving licensees. And requiring that new hams pass the old test because the oldtimers had to will just continue to turn the new blood away.

I've tried listening to H&W nets in hurricane season and they seem to degenerate into chaos more than provide a useful service. People trampling over one another, sending code on top of voice, etc. It is as though many of them were trying for the contact rather than trying to help.

I see no reason to become a ham. Never did. Even back when I first started listening to SW, some 20 years ago, I saw ham conversations as incredibly dull compared to the programming of the regular broadcasters. I've NEVER been an avid listener to the ham bands. I'd rather listen to North Korea. I'm just over 30 years old. Ham radio is increasingly irrelevant, at a time when China and WWCR are adding transmitters. Hams no longer provide essential communications in an emergency, not with all the other methods of communicating. Hams no longer provide worthwhile experimentation. Hobby broadcasting would reinvigorate the hobby, but the oldtimers refuse to consider it. They're arrogant and irrelevant, and rarely communicate anything of importance. Amateur radio's glory days are long gone, and after the boomer hams die the hobby will die with them.

The antenna shown uses fiberglass tent poles. They are 2ft each. The larger version uses fiberglass rods from Tap Plastics. They are cut to fit the back of my suv, something like 65 inches. I'd love to use the antenna with the amount of wire indicated on the Wellbrook site.

I suspect someone could roll their own Wellbrook. I believe they use a very wideband transformer and a low noise JFET amplifier. You can find wideband transformers on ebay (North Hills). JFET amps aren't that hard to build. The transformer lets you float the loop and does the double to single ended conversion.

I agree with that. But the FCC has approved low-power FM broadcast licenses, they just haven't got their heads out of someplace to make it easy enough that it takes hold. And there is no conceivable reason that every neighborhood couldn't have a dozen such stations if they wanted them. There are almost as many groups advocating the free right to such low power broadcast (without any kind of license at all) as there are those that espouse income taxes to be unconstitutional. Hopefully the FM broadcast groups actually have a chance of persuading legislators - we know taxes will never go away, lol.

Hi All,

What are your requirements of a good radio?
What features that you would like to be included in a future radio?
Should this radio be a table-top or a portable?

Degen radio is going to design a good radio, the DE1108 is hoped to be the best radio ever, second to none that would meet your requirements!!!

You are welcome to join the Degen DE1108:

http://groups.yahoo.com/group/de1108/

All the latest news about the DE1108 will be posted on this group, also all your comments and suggestions will be reflected to the enginners of the Degen radio company.

Cheers,
Paul - HongKongRadioer

You really are worried about Hillary, aren't you? Does Arnold frighten you too? I would take either one over our present guy. Not that they would be my first pick by any means. I was for McCain until he went down the tubes. When he campaigned for bush last year, it kinda soured me on him.

LOL, I have direct lineage on both sides going back to around 1760 on one side and 1790 on the other. I suppose it's possible there's a jew in the woodpile, it's not likely, but that goes for you too Al.

Heaven's forbid you might be part jewish..

But if you are it would sure be funny for anyone who reads your insanity here. Talk about ironic..LOL.

It would be like the Dave Chappelle skit about the blind KKK guy who didn't know he was black.

Hello Ducky!

Try an AOR WL500 Window Loop Antenna (about $200.00 from Universal, Grove, or AES) with your '7600. In addition to the antenna, you will need to buy from Radio Shack a BNC-RCA adapter and then an RCA-3.5mm adapter; these will allow you to attach the antenna to the '7600.

You should hear a noticeable difference in reception quality. If you do, and I'm sure you will, then, yes, the Satellit 800 will be "better" than the '7600 (with that antenna). If you don't hear much difference, then forget it. (Buy the antenna on a returnable basis.) The Satellit 800 with its whip is pretty good, but not of DX calibre. It really needs a good external (indoor or outdoor) antenna, and without that, it won't outperform your '7600 sufficiently to justify the purchase, in my opionion.

In my experience, clipping a relatively short wire to the Satellit's whip does little good. The AOR WL500 works very well with the Satellit in my experience, affording a 2 or 3 S-unit increase in signal strength over the whip yet with less noise.

Best,

Joe

P.S. No one ever said ANY hobby was "cheap!"

I have had to postpone tonight's WNTP 990 audio proof due to illness. The flu decided that yesterday was a good time to hit me, so there's no way I'm going to be able to physically make it in here tonight. Instead, I will conduct the proof on Saturday morning, 3/12 from 00:00-02:00.

Thanks for you patience, and sorry for the inconvenience.

 U S A. Glenn: We are testing 15190 right now (12:30 pm eastern time [1730 UT] March 4, 2005. Could you please tune it in and send me a reception report??
           We will run it most of the day using a new Rhombic antenna with various programming. We are making RF human exposure measurements, and testing for any signs of meltdowns. Thanks!!! (Dave Frantz, WWRB, via DXLD)

           Dave, Checked around 1745 UT. All I can get is a very weak carrier, and it is slightly unstable with BFO on. Now would that be you or Equatorial Guinea?
           I wouldn`t expect to get a usable signal from you on 15 MHz under prevailing conditions, as WWCR 15825 is seldom any good here -- both are at too close a skip distance unless some sporadic E kicks in (Glenn to Dave, ibid.)
(GH dxldyahoo group)

Something in there here, but I'm probably in the skip zone as well.

If money is really no object, move (of course, if I lived in NJ, I would move regardless of the listening conditions). A few acres out in the middle of nowhere would be good. Since you probably want to stay where you are, first thing I would suggest is to get the antennas off the roof and as far away from the house as possible. Of course, feed them with coax so the noise from the house doesn't come in on the feedline.

You know, the only way these things will change is when the oldtimers die off. I'm one of them but agree with you.

I have a very good signal at 14:24 CST.  Don't know who it is.  Have not given any call sign for quite sometime.

I haven't tuned them in for a while, but I thought I'd post a reminder that the BBC puts out a twice weekly service called Calling the Falklands which airs on Tuesdays and Fridays at 2130-2145 on 11680 via Rapisham.

As a side comment, the Alex Jones show on 9.985 today was greatly disturbed by propagation, weak signal, and adjacent channel interference. (9985 being interfered with by 9990). 12160 reception is practically non-existant.

I suspect that propagation is poor today anyway. Looks promising though.

Disagree

There is no issue -- until recently Morse code testing was an international requirement.
Requirements are just that whether you like them or not.
(hated hygiene in college - useless course, bit the bullet and got thru it anyway)
Now Morse it is no longer an international requirement (agreement), the US FCC will undoubtedly drop it. Standby

We are talking about testing not the use of the Morse code.

I have no doubt what so ever that Morse will be used on the Ham bands indefinitely by new folks, old folks and just plain folks and you can be sure - contesters.

A charming mode such as this will refuse to die -- requirement for testing or no.

The difference between the Morse code and PSK31 is nil -- speed is 30 to 50 WPM in either one.
The difference is a skill set that the anti-code bunch here refuse to buckle down and learn

During the last county fair, I took a code practice oscillator to our Ham booth and tapped out Morse code, dozens of kids stopped by and were fascinated with it. Several wanted to know how to learn the code -- we gave them handout sheets to get them started. We could not only attract youth to Amateur Radio, we used Morse code to do it!!  How do like them dity dots hjsjms ???

We now have over 30 school kids enrolled in Ham classes.

What have you done to further the cause of Amateur Radio ????

The frequency isn't trustworthy, as they have a dedicated group of jammers that the FCC is, ahem, willing to look the other way concerning.
I have heard the jammers conspire on other frequencies to seek out and jam the Liberty Net, apparently their apprehension (the jammers) is beyond the technical prowess of the FCC.

Odd how we live in a country of nitwits willing to uphold the constitution rights of pornographers and other promulgators of degeneracy, Howard Stern, South Park, Sex in the City series, endless "reality" shows, etc., (while willing to accede to the court's suppressing the right of a graduate to even "mention" the word God during commencement), but so zealously endeavoring to suppress the rights of people to discuss their dissatisfaction with the government. Oddly enough, this is the exact opposite of what the founders had in mind.

HAM VS. SPY (RADIO)

...When a pair of New Mexico hams decided to trace down some interference on the 75 meter band, they had no idea that they may have been entering a world of spy versus spy. Or should we say hams versus spy. Here`s more:

On Wednesday, February 16th, Mike Stark,
WA5OIP and Mike Langner
K5MGR set out to locate some annoying interference on 3.700 MHz, a signal that had been on the band since last December.

The interference manifested itself as a digital data burst followed by an audio clip from a Yosemite Sam cartoon. Nope. I am not kidding you. Each transmission ended with the famous line where Sam says:

Actual interfereing audio: (data buss followed by) ``Varmint, I`m agonna blow you to smithereeenes...``

The interference came on for just a few seconds at intervals of just under 2 minutes. The fact that Yosemite Sam was loud and clear told the Stark and Langer that the interference was intentional and not simply a transmitter gone bizzerk.

Using Stark`s mobile installation the pair quickly found that the signal grew stronger as they headed West. They then shifted to a Potomac Field Intensity Meter with a shielded loop antenna. Using this gear they located the offending transmitter at the MATIC facility on the Laguna Indian Reservation. MATIC is an acronym for the Mobility Assessment Test and Integration Center. This is a military facility used to develop advanced battlefield communications systems and not generally known to the public.

The two hams dove up to the building. At no time did they leave the public highway. Langer began taking pictures of the towers, antennas, and building. Immediately a not-very-friendly guy started walking towards their truck. He was yelling and gesturing for the hams to stop taking pictures and go away. Langer and Stark beat a hasty retreat.

Now here`s the real kicker. The ham radio T-hunters found the interfering transmitter at about 2:30 in the afternoon. The signal went off the air around 5:30 that evening and has not been heard since. Langer suggests that the origin was a contractor`s employee having having a little fun on the radio. Obviously his or her superiors got the message that ham radio operators do not consider interference to their spectrum to be something to enjoy.

For the Amateur Radio Newsline, I`m Evi Simons, reporting.

A few other notes. Langer says that about 5 minutes before he and Stark located the exact source of the interference, a pickup truck had passed them as they were parked and taking a bearing. He thinks that the driver must have told someone at the facility that they were being hunted. He also expresses his belief that the signal was from some kind of automatic link radio. Also that the data burst was information, and that someone had recorded the Yosemite Sam clip where call letters would normally go.

You can take a look at what the two hams saw on the web site for the project. It`s at Radio Farda (US propaganda service to Iran) heard with S9+10 signal on 15410 at 1650. Sign off at 1659-abrupt cutoff of music, replaced with DW African service from Rwanda. Passport says the Farda signal on 15410 is from the UK, which is probably why it comes in so well in California. This may be the best time for West Coast USA DXers to hear Farda-apparently it's on this freq from 1400 to 1700, or 6-9am Pacific Time. Noted with Iranian pop music-suprisingly European sounding! Radio is FRG-8800 with 50 foot longwire.
